STATE LAW FOR THE ACTION UNDERTAKEN

A special order of business was created by Trades Council last night in order to permit the gas question to be disposed of. A report was made by a member of the legislative committee of the progress made in the movement since the last meeting of the council, and acquainted the body with the request made by City Solicitor Davidson that a plaintiff be furnished in each of two cases to be brought against the gas companies.

The two volunteers were quickly secured in the persons of John R. Rearic, who will act in the case against the Ohio Valley, and Thos. C. Neal's name will be used in connection with the petition against the Tri-State company. The men went at once to the office of Solicitor George E. Davidson, where the papers were signed and in a few minutes were ready to be filed with the court. Mr. Davidson took the documents to Wellsville last night and they were placed in the hands of Solicitor Charles Boyd, who has been instructed to take the same action in behalf of Wellsville. Mr. Boyd left early this morning for Lisbon and the petitions were filed before noon.

The section of the revised statutes, referred to in the petitions, giving councils the right to regulate the price of natural gas is as follows:

"The council of any city or village in which electric lighting companies, natural or artificial gas companies, or gas light or coke companies, may be established, or to which their wires, mains or pipes may be conducted, are hereby empowered to regulate, from time to time, the price which said electric lighting, natural or artificial gas or gas light and coke companies may charge for electric lights or for gas for lighting or fuel purposes, furnished by such companies to the citizens, public grounds and buildings, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues, wharves and landing places; and such electric lighting, natural or artificial gas or gas light and coke companies shall in no event charge more for any electric light or natural or artificial gas furnished to such corporation or individuals than the price specified by ordinance of such council; and such council shall also have power to regulate and fix the price which such companies shall charge for the rent of their meters.'

It was learned yesterday that Judge W. W. Hole was out of the county, and it was then decided to go before Judge Ralph S. Ambler, of Canton. He, too, was absent from home, and the only thing left for the attorneys to do was to go before Judge George F. Robinson at Ravenna. All arrangements have been made for the trip to the latter city tomorrow and it is likely a decision can be secured within a few hours after a hearing is had.

The two petitions are identical with the exceptions of the name of plaintiff and defendant and the location of the

FINAL ARRANGEMENES ARE PERFECTED

Everything Now in Readiness for the Great Labor Day Parade.

The final meeting of the Labor Day committee was held last night at the close of the session of trades council.

Badges which will be worn in the parade in the morning were distributed among the locals through their delegates, and it was found there will be an abundance to go the whole way round.

Chief Marshal Beatty has called a meeting of the division commanders, aides and captains to be held Saturday evening at Brotherhood hall. At that time the duties of each individual will be outlined, and if they are carried out there will be no hitch. It is thought the arrangements now nearing completion are as near perfection as they can be made, so far as the parade is concerned, and after Saturday evening's meeting nothing will have been neglected, and it will be up to the locals to turn out to the man.

WARRANT ISSUED TO THWART CUPID

GIRL'S FAMILY TROUBLED

Feeling that the marriage of Miss Clara Bowman to an ex-convict, whose reputation has further suffered in the minds of people knowing him during the past week owing to actions reported fully in the News Review, would place a stigma on their names that could never be blotted, Mrs. D. T. Bowman, mother of the girl, and several of her brothers appeared at central station and pleaded that something be done to prevent the ceremony that would make the girl the wife of Newton Croxall.

Pity was elicited for the mother and brothers by the statement of the former to the mayor and chief of police. Mrs. Bowman and her sons are long residents of the city and have the highest respect of everyone of their acquaintance. They have known for years that young Croxall had an almost uncontrollable influence over the girl and all of them have protested vigorously against her companionship with him. It seems that Croxall and the girl have been lovers for years, a cell mate of Croxall stating that Croxall received letters from the girl throughout his incarceration in the state prison. The informant also says that the girl would invariably write of the objections of her mother and brothers to her corresponding with Croxall.

Upon Croxall's return from the penitentiary, it is said that he continued the courtship with Miss Bowman, against the wishes of her family. According to Mrs. Bowman he told her daughter that if any of the family interfered with him in his wooing that he would shoot them. And it was on this threat together with several others that Mrs. Bowman hoped to hold Croxall and delay the marriage. She said that the couple intended to leave

ORDERED TO ABATE ALLEGED NUISANCE

If the Matter Complained of Is Not Remedied — Tanyard Run Storm Sewer the Subject of a Legal Decision by Solicitor Davidson.

"The Board of Health versus the Board of Education," will be the title of a suit of much general interest, providing that the latter body does not abate an alleged nuisance, said by the board of health to be in existence, owing to negligence on the part of the defendants in the case. At the meeting of the board of health last evening it was unanimously decided that the sanitary sewer of the McKinley school building is emptying into the Tanyard run storm sewer, and it being the general belief of the board that numerous sanitary connections are being made with the storm sewer, it was decided to take action against the board of education, making it the defendant in a test case, which will decide permanently whether or not anyone has the right to connect to the storm sewer.

It will be remembered that the question has been before the board of public service and the board of health for months and that both bodies have talked almost incessantly regarding it. It was decided some time ago that the nuisance must be abated, and to find just what authority the board of health has in such a case the opinion of the city solicitor was requested. This opinion was prepared by the solicitor and read to the board last evening. The board, after discovering that it was all powerful, drafted a resolution ordering the board of education to abate the nuisance in question and instructed the clerk to notify the members of that board unless the order is complied with as soon as possible after September 8, the date of the opening of the city schools, steps will be taken to prosecute them. The opinion of the solicitor, which will apply to every person who has a sanitary sewer connected to the storm sewer, is as follows:

"Under section 2122 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio, it is the duty of the board of health to abate and remove all nuisances within said board's jurisdiction and it may compel the owners, agents, assignees, occupants or tenants of any property to abate and remove said nuisance. The board may treat the neglect or refusal to obey orders for such purpose as a misdemeanor punishable by fine as provided by its rules or by ordinance. Whenever the board of health knows that a nuisance exists it shall pass a resolution describing the nuisance and the premises on which it exists and by said resolution shall order the nuisance to be abated. A copy of the resolution should be then served upon the property owner, and said notice should order the owner or occupant to abate the nuisance within a specified time.

"If the said notice or order is neglected or disregarded then the board may, under section 2123, Revised Stat-

SALEM WOMAN SEEKS A DIVORCE

Alleges That Her Husband Kicked and Abused Her and Then Deserted Her.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Mrs. Amelia Knopp, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from Abraham Knopp, whose place of residence is unknown. The petition states that they were married at Salem, in September, 1899, and have had no children.

Mrs. Knopp charges that her husband, although fully able to do so, has wholly failed to provide for her since a short time after their marriage. On November 25, 1901, she says, her husband was guilty of extreme cruelty, kicking and otherwise shamefully maltreating her. Ever since that time, she says, he has refused to speak to her except in terms of abuse, and finally abandoned her August 25, 1902. She asks that with the divorce her maiden name, Amelia Mellinger, may be restored.

Prompt Action of Street Car Men Averted a Tragedy in the Diamond.

GREAT ELECTRIC DISPLAY

But for the prompt and heroic action of an employe of the East Liverpool railway in the Diamond last evening, a score of people would have been killed and many more so badly shocked as to render their recovery doubtful.

Conductor Jesse Todd and Motorman Ralph Herdman were in charge of car No. 24 which was the cause of all the trouble. At 8 o'clock the car approached the Diamond from the west, and as it turned off of Sixth street into the Diamond the trolley came off. The pole hit a guy wire with considerable force, breaking it loose from the pole to which it was attached. The absence of the guy caused the several trolley and span wires running about in that particular district to become misplaced. So strong was the tension that the span wire leading to the Southside line, near the Larkins' drug store, was unable to withstand the strain, and was severed at the outer end, falling to the track directly beneath the main trolley wire.

In an instant there was produced one of the most beautiful electrical displays ever witnessed by the large crowd of spectators. The span wire was in a white heat the moment it touched the rail, and then occurred the very thing which has caused so many hundreds of indiscreet people to lose their lives. When the trouble began a large crowd gathered, and it was added to every minute until there were perhaps 300 curious ones to jostle and push for the front rank. Every one rushed to the middle of the street and only escaped coming in contact with the heavily charged objects by the quick work of Jeff Crawford, an employe of the road, who grabbed a broom from car No. 24 and with considerable difficulty succeeded in making his way through the crowd. He very carefully removed the broken wire from the track just as a surrey containing two men and a lady drove onto the track from the direction of Broadway. They proved to be Miss Rest Humrickhouse, C. H. Murphy and Thomas Kruger. The party had a narrow escape.

The car on the Pleasant Heights extension arrived at this juncture and Conductor R. Donaldson and Motorman J. D. Byers took in the situation at a glance. Without stopping the car at all they hastily ran through the Diamond and under the broken span. Both men cautiously made their way to the roof of the car and securing the end of the wire, severed it close up to the pole. When the danger was past the crowd fell back, not realizing perhaps what a narrow escape they had. The presence of mind and promptness displayed by the employes of the railway undoubtedly prevented a terrible catastrophe.

PHONES TO BE GIVEN UP IF RATES ARE ADVANCED

BUSINESS MEN'S MEETING TO BE HELD SOON

The patrons of the Columbiana County Telephone company in this city are up against the same proposition that confronts Salem patrons, and methods just as strenuous as those used at Salem are to be carried out locally. Customers of the telephone company received notice yesterday that the rates are to be increased at the end of the present quarter to the amount of $6 per month on each telephone, business and residence.

Hardly had the notice been received by the several hundred subscribers in the city until a movement was started which will either defeat the company in its endeavor or will cause it to lose the patronage of every customer within the limits of the city. The movement was instituted by the Business Men's association, which has decided unanimously to refuse to sign any contract for an increased rate and if the company insists that the proposed contract be complied with every member of the association will at once order his telephone removed. This plan, it is believed by the association, will have the desired effect, and it is not likely that the courts will be applied to.

A meeting of the Business Men's association will be called for a date not far off. Members of the association could not state today the exact date, but they gave the assurance that their proposed action will be taken within four days. Not alone are the members of this association indignant at the proposition of the telephone company, every subscriber in the city being up in arms, and among them the members of the city council. One member of that body stated this morning that he would certainly sanction the proposed action of the business men and that whether or not they take out their telephones he will do so.

According to the notice received by the customers in the city the following rates are to be asked, contracts to be presented for signature in 30 days from the date of notification:

	Local rate.		Co. rate.
	Bus.	Res.	Bus.	Res.
2-party line	24	18	30	24
3-party line		15
4-party line		12

It will be noted that the rates as above quoted demand that subscribers shall pay an increase of $6 per month on all telephones. The ordinances granted the company by the city council April 25, 1899, is prohibitory against the increase and the fight against the proposition can be waged on it if thought advisable. The section of the ordinance pertaining to the price to be charged is as follows:

"Be it further ordained that said Solon C. Thayer and his associates, successors or assigns be and he is hereby limited in the price to be charged for exchange service within the corporate limits of said city of East Liverpool under the powers herein granted, as follows, towit: The charge per residence service shall not exceed $18 per annum, payable quarterly in advance, and the charge for business service shall not exceed $24 per annum, payable quarterly in advance."

Speakers Will Include Foraker, Hanna, Herrick and Harding—Gov. Nash to Preside.

Columbus, September 3.—(Special)—The Republican campaign will open at Chillicothe on Saturday, September 19. This was decided upon at a meeting of the state executive committee held in this city yesterday. Governor Nash will preside and the speakers will be Senators Foraker and Hanna, Colonel Myron T. Herrick and Hon. W. G. Harding. While Columbus, Canton, Warren, Marion and Lima were applicants for the opening, Columbus, Chillicothe and Mansfield were the towns which extended formal invitations. Senator Sam L. Patterson presented the claims of Chillicothe, which city was selected by a unanimous vote of the committee.

The Republican state central committee met and nominated George L. Watkins, of Waverly, Republican nominee for the full term of member of the state board of publis works, for the short term to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late C. A. Goddard, president of the board.

Chairman Dick says that the fight will center upon the legislature and not upon the state ticket. He says that organizations have been perfected by the Republicans in 50 of the 88 counties; that the Republicans have made nominations in 25 of the 33 senatorial districts, and that 87 of the 110 candidates for representative have been nominated. The work has progressed to a more advanced point at this time than it has ever done before under the management and direction of the present chairman and secretary.

Craig's New Job.

Charles Craig, official scorer for the Carroll club ball team, has accepted a position at one of the Rock Springs refreshment stands. He will continue his work as scorer, however, until the end of the season.

J. J. Kerr An Editor.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—John J. Kerr, an East Liverpool attorney, has purchased of W. S. Potts, a half interest in the Ohio Patriot. Mr. Kerr will come here at once to assume his duties as associate editor.

BOARD OF HEALTH HAD BUSY SESSION

Numerous Bills Paid And Other Matters of Interest Were Discussed.

The board of health transacted considerable business at the special meeting held last evening and for the first time in many months the entire completment of the board was present. Mayor Weaver presided and conducted the session in a manner that allowed adjournment before 9 o'clock.

Numerous bills of minor value were presented and the most of them were ordered paid. Bills amounting to $119.98 were passed without a word. This amount includes the salaries of the officials under the supervision of the board.

When the printing bills ordered by council several weeks ago, amounting to $8.40, were presented the board thought them to be under council's jurisdiction and ordered the clerk to return them to that body. The bill of $3.19, contracted for the purchase of medicine for John Cravenna, was turned over to the township trustees.

Clerk Herbert was instructed to submit he money he had received from milk licenses, $16, to the treasurer. After numerous other petty matters were talked of the board adjourned to meet some evening next week.

Prospects Excellent for a Finish in the Time Limit Today.

Sandy Hook, September 3.—(Special.)—The race was started under favorable circumstances this afternoon, the wind blowing at the rate of six miles per hour and the prospects being excellent for a finish within the time limit.

After considerable jockeying the boats got started close together, the Reliance crossing the line at 1:01:10 and the Shamrock at 1:01:40. The race is 15 miles to the windward and return.

Half way to the outer mark the Reliance led by half a mile. Wind, nine miles an hour.

The Youngstown & Southern Pays a Big Round Sum For 1,000 Acres of Valuable Coal Land Near West Point.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—The magnitude of the recent coal deal effected at West Point by the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company has just come to light. It involves a deal for 1,000 acres, including both the land and coal rights, and the price, as near as can be learned, is in the neighborhood of $45,000. As has already been reported in the News Review, the first payment on this land, $10,000, has already been made. The balance is to be paid at the rate of $5,000 per month until all has been paid.

The land is considered the most valuable mineral land in the vicinity of West Point. Some years ago the Beaver company was organized and purchased it outright. The Beaver company is composed of George B. Harvey, Lisbon; J. H. French, Salem; W. K. George, West Point; William McLane, West Point; ex-County Treasurer Charles E. Smith, Columbiana, and C. C. Baker, Alliance.

As is well known, the Youngstown & Southern proposes to make coal mining an important feature of its business, and after eastern capitalists interested in the road had been over the ground and an exceedingly favorable report had been received from the state mine inspector on the value of the West Point coal fields, the railroad company made an offer to the Beaver company which accepted. There is great rejoicing among the owners of farms and coal lands in the vicinity of West Point who have been waiting for years to see that coal field developed.

The president, George W. Armstrong, was appointed to try to secure better accommodations from the Erie Railroad company and the secretary, J. R. Stratton, was appointed to secure speakers.

YOUNG WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

GIRL OF 19 SHOOTS HERSELF AT COLUMBIANA.

The Result Is Likely to Be Fatal—Her Record Not a Spotless One.

Columbiana, September 3.—(Special)—Sadie Huddleston, a 19-year-old girl, shot herself yesterday afternoon in the right breast with a 32-calibre revolver, at the home of Grant Wilt. Whether the shooting was accidental or with suicidal intent is not known for a certainty.

The bullet entered two inches above the nipple on the left breast. It was extracted by Drs. McIntyre, Tallmadge and Bookwalter. The result may be fatal, as it looks as if there would be an internal hemorrhage.

She has been living at the home of Grant Wilt, a colored man, and is said to have been engaged to marry Charles, his brother. She is a white girl. She has been arrested a number of times for intoxication.

THE BONDS NOT READY.

Purchasers Fail to Communicate With the Printers in the Matter.

Notwithstanding that the J. R. Williams company, of Pittsburg, the concern that purchased the $92,925 worth of bonds from the city at a premium of $200, asked for the bonds by Wednesday, no word was received by the printing establishment as to how they should be made yesterday and the company has not received the bonds yet.

A member of the company telephoned City Auditor Davidson last evening that he would send his attorney to the city to instruct the printer, and that he was not in a very great hurry to get hold of the bonds.

Hollenden Won.

The Hollenden and Belmont teams played another game at Rock Springs park yesterday afternoon, the Hollendens winning by a score of 14 to 10. The Hollenden battery was Andersoy and Rigby and the Belmont, Russell and Firth.

East Liverpool Patrons of the Colnmbiana County Telephone Company Will Stand No Raise.

The patrons of the Columbiana County Telephone company in this city are up against the same proposition that confronts Salem patrons, and methods just as strenuous as those used at Salem are to be carried out locally. Customers of the telephone company received notice yesterday that the rates are to be increased at the end of the present quarter to the amount of $6 per month on each telephone, business and residence.

Hardly had the notice been received by the several hundred subscribers in the city until a movement was started which will either defeat the company in its endeavor or will cause it to lose the patronage of every customer within the limits of the city. The movement was instituted by the Business Men's association, which has decided unanimously to refuse to sign any contract for an increased rate and if the company insists that the proposed contract be complied with every member of the association will at once order his telephone removed. This plan, it is believed by the association, will have the desired effect, and it is not likely that the courts will be applied to.

A meeting of the Business Men's association will be called for a date not far off. Members of the association could not state today the exact date, but they gave the assurance that their proposed action will be taken within four days. Not alone are the members of this association indignant at the proposition of the telephone company, every subscriber in the city being up in arms, and among them the members of the city council. One member of that body stated this morning that he would certainly sanction the proposed action of the business men and that whether or not they take out their telephones he will do so.

According to the notice received by the customers in the city the following rates are to be asked, contracts to be presented for signature in 30 days from the date of notification:

	Local rate.		Co. rate.
	Bus.	Res.	Bus.	Res.
2-party line	24	18	30	24
4-party line		12

It will be noted that the rates as above quoted demand that subscribers shall pay an increase of $6 per month on all telephones. The ordinances granted the company by the city council April 25, 1899, is prohibitory against the increase and the fight against the proposition can be waged on it if thought advisable. The section of the ordinance pertaining to the price to be charged is as follows:

"Be it further ordained that said Solon C. Thayer and his associates, successors or assigns be and he is hereby limited in the price to be charged for exchange service within the corporate limits of said city of East Liverpool under the powers herein granted, as follows, towit: The charge per residence service shall not exceed $18 per annum, payable quarterly in advance, and the charge for business service shall not exceed $24 per annum, payable quarterly in advance."

Columbus, September 3.—(Special)—The Republican campaign will open at Chillicothe on Saturday, September 19. This was decided upon at a meeting of the state executive committee held in this city yesterday. Governor Nash will preside and the speakers will be Senators Foraker and Hanna, Colonel Myron T. Herrick and Hon. W. G. Harding. While Columbus, Canton, Warren, Marion and Lima were applicants for the opening, Columbus, Chillicothe and Mansfield were the towns which extended formal invitations. Senator Sam L. Patterson presented the claims of Chillicothe, which city was selected by a unanimous vote of the committee.

The Republican state central committee met and nominated George L. Watkins, of Waverly, Republican nominee for the full term of member of the state board of publis works, for the short term to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late C. A. Goddard, president of the board.

Chairman Dick says that the fight will center upon the legislature and not upon the state ticket. He says that organizations have been perfected by the Republicans in 50 of the 88 counties; that the Republicans have made nominations in 25 of the 33 senatorial districts, and that 87 of the 110 candidates for representative have been nominated. The work has progressed to a more advanced point at this time than it has ever done before under the management and direction of the present chairman and secretary.

Craig's New Job.

Charles Craig, official scorer for the Carroll club ball team, has accepted a position at one of the Rock Springs refreshment stands. He will continue his work as scorer, however, until the end of the season.

BOARD OF HEALTH HAD BUSY SESSION

Numerous Bills Paid And Other Matters of Interest Were Discussed.

The board of health transacted considerable business at the special meeting held last evening and for the first time in many months the entire completment of the board was present. Mayor Weaver presided and conducted the session in a manner that allowed adjournment before 9 o'clock.

Numerous bills of minor value were presented and the most of them were ordered paid. Bills amounting to $119.98 were passed without a word. This amount includes the salaries of the officials under the supervision of the board.

When the printing bills ordered by council several weeks ago, amounting to $8.40, were presented the board thought them to be under council's jurisdiction and ordered the clerk to return them to that body. The bill of $3.19, contracted for the purchase of medicine for John Cravenna, was turned over to the township trustees.

Clerk Herbert was instructed to submit he money he had received from milk licenses, $16, to the treasurer. After numerous other petty matters were talked of the board adjourned to meet some evening next week.

Half way to the outer mark the Reliance led by half a mile. Wind, nine miles an hour.

The Youngstown & Southern Pays a Big Round Sum For 1,000 Acres of Valuable Coal Land Near West Point.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—The magnitude of the recent coal deal effected at West Point by the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company has just come to light. It involves a deal for 1,000 acres, including both the land and coal rights, and the price, as near as can be learned, is in the neighborhood of $45,000. As has already been reported in the News Review, the first payment on this land, $10,000, has already been made. The balance is to be paid at the rate of $5,000 per month until all has been paid.

The land is considered the most valuable mineral land in the vicinity of West Point. Some years ago the Beaver company was organized and purchased it outright. The Beaver company is composed of George B. Harvey, Lisbon; J. H. French, Salem; W. K. George, West Point; William McLane, West Point; ex-County Treasurer Charles E. Smith, Columbiana, and C. C. Baker, Alliance.

As is well known, the Youngstown & Southern proposes to make coal mining an important feature of its business, and after eastern capitalists interested in the road had been over the ground and an exceedingly favorable report had been received from the state mine inspector on the value of the West Point coal fields, the railroad company made an offer to the Beaver company which accepted. There is great rejoicing among the owners of farms and coal lands in the vicinity of West Point who have been waiting for years to see that coal field developed.

CLAIMS TO OWN A HALF INTEREST

Former Partner of the Late T. T. Hamilton, of Wellsville, Makes a Demand.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Twenty-five witnesses are here to testify in a hearing in probate court today, in the matter of Thomas T. Hamilton and A. D. Matteson, lately partners under the firm name of the Hamilton Prescription Pharmacy, which was in business in Wellsville.

Mr. Hamilton died July 4 and Lizzie Hamilton was appointed administratrix of his estate. A. D. Matteson, the surviving partner, now claims to own a half interest in the establishment and asks the court to appoint as appraisers T. A. McIntosh, A. Brannan and Edward Satow.

Surplus in Treasury.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—At a meeting of the officers and executive committee of the Columbiana County Harvest Home Picnic association held at Shelton's grove, the treasurer made a report showing a small surplus in the treasury and all the expenses of this year's picnic are paid. The president, George W. Armstrong, was appointed to try to secure better accommodations from the Erie Railroad company and the secretary, J. R. Stratton, was appointed to secure speakers.

YOUNG WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

GIRL OF 19 SHOOTS HERSELF AT COLUMBIANA.

The Result Is Likely to Be Fatal—Her Record Not a Spotless One.

Columbiana, September 3.—(Special)—Sadie Huddleston, a 19-year-old girl, shot herself yesterday afternoon in the right breast with a 32-calibre revolver, at the home of Grant Wilt. Whether the shooting was accidental or with suicidal intent is not known for a certainty.

The bullet entered two inches above the nipple on the left breast. It was extracted by Drs. McIntyre, Tallmadge and Bookwalter. The result may be fatal, as it looks as if there would be an internal hemorrhage.

She has been living at the home of Grant Wilt, a colored man, and is said to have been engaged to marry Charles, his brother. She is a white girl. She has been arrested a number of times for intoxication.

THE BONDS NOT READY.

Purchasers Fail to Communicate With the Printers in the Matter.

Notwithstanding that the J. R. Williams company, of Pittsburg, the concern that purchased the $92,925 worth of bonds from the city at a premium of $200, asked for the bonds by Wednesday, no word was received by the printing establishment as to how they should be made yesterday and the company has not received the bonds yet.

A member of the company telephoned City Auditor Davidson last evening that he would send his attorney to the city to instruct the printer, and that he was not in a very great hurry to get hold of the bonds.

Hollenden Won.

The Hollenden and Belmont teams played another game at Rock Springs park yesterday afternoon, the Hollendens winning by a score of 14 to 10. The Hollenden battery was Andersoy and Rigby and the Belmont, Russell and Firth.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The fifth annual meeting of the American Ceramic society, held at Zanesville last week, beginning on Wednesday and ending Friday evening, was a success from every standpoint. There were scores of interested pottery manufacturers present and they all profited much by the discussion of many important subjects.

The reception committee, composed of Zanesville members, spared no time and labor in arranging for the pleasure of the members of the society. Every train was met by this committee and upon the arrival of a member he was given a hearty welcome and at once taken to the convention hall, which was located in the Builders' exchange.

The first meeting of the society was very brief, the time being devoted to the business of minor importance that had accumulated during the past year. This session was followed by an informal social time, in which every one derived great pleasure. The society assembled the next morning at 9 o'clock, and under the guidance of a committee the entire body visited the American Encaustic Tile company's plant at the north end of the city. This plant is one of the largest and most flourishing of its kind in the world and three hours were required to give it an inspection. The products of the plant comprise encaustic floor tiles, all sizes from Mosaic up, and glazed and decorated wall tiles in every degree of ornamentation. This pleasureable visit ended, the body adjourned to lunch, after which the north plant of the Roseville Pottery company was inspected. Many things of interest to all were seen in this plant in which are manufactured a line of single fire specialties, a line of jardineres and pedestals in white body with blended colored glazes, a line of underglaze art ware, decorated in slip on blended backgrounds, and a line of overglaze jardinieres and vases.

A boat ride on the Muskingum was the next thing on the program of Thursday. The beautiful little pleasure launch "Outing" conveyed the crowd on the trip. The party left Zanesville at 7:30 a. m. Friday on a special train provided by the C. & M. V. railway for Crooksville, where the day was spent in the inspection of the coal mines of the Zanesville Coal company, the pottery of the Star Stoneware company, the plant of the Crooksville China company, the Roseville Brick & Terra Cotta company's plant and the plant of the Ohio Pressed Brick company.

The concluding session of the society was held Friday evening. Routine business was disposed of with despatch, the greater part of the time being devoted to social pleasure and the informal discussion of technical topics suggested by the two days' sight seeing.

It was unanimously decided to hold the next meeting at St. Louis. Ten new names were added to the roll of the society at the meeting. John Sant, of this city, was in attendance.

LOST FOR YEARS.

A Boston art collector has just started on a long and costly search for an ancient and valuable Japanese vase for which J. Pierpont Morgan is willing to pay $400,000. The vase is a massive affair of solid gold, designed and wrought by Hidari Jingoro for Emperor Yoshimitsu. It was intended for the palace of Muromachu, and has been lost to the world since Yoshimitsu precipitated Japan into civil strife.

POTTERY NOTES.

The sprinkler system for fire protection will be installed at the Colonial.

Joseph G. Lee, of the K., T. & K., has returned from a vacation trip to Canada.

The trouble at the Stern plant, Cincinnati, has been adjusted and the men are working again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Veith have returned from Niagara Falls and other places of interest in the east.

McNicol's is having a fine run and the plant is operating in full with a steady demand for all the ware they can make. The business this year by this firm promises to be greater than last year.

Henry Bren, formerly of Wheeling, is endeavoring to interest Huntington capitalists in a pottery plant.

The Sevres has been particularly rushed in the decorating department, several large decalcomania orders necessitating the addition of several gilders to the present force.

Tired

No Sleep for Weeks Nervous, Weak.

Surgical Operation Wrecked My Nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Restored My Health.

"A few years ago I had to submit to a surgical operation which caused me severe spinal trouble. After treatment I could not gain strength because of extreme nervousness. I took everything I could hear of that was supposed to be good for my trouble but all in vain. I had not had a night's sleep in weeks, when one day one of your circulars was thrown into our yard and after reading what your Nervine had done for others, I resolved to try it. The second night after taking it I slept soundly for the first time in many months and after taking a few bottles I was completely cured. I also used the Nerve Plaster for backache with very gratifying results. I shall always be grateful for the benefits received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies."—Mrs. C. W. Beaman, Savannah, Mo.

"I wish to thank you for the good your medicine has done me. It has almost worked wonders in my case. I was subject to nervous headaches for a period of thirty years. I had doctored with several doctors and had taken a number of different kinds of patent medicines, all to no avail. I was discouraged for I could not get permanent relief. At last I began a trial of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills. I am now completely cured and words cannot express my thankfulness to you and your medicine. If any one wishes to write to me personally I will gladly answer their letters."—J. W. Brant, Ingrahm, Ills.

A CASE OF ILLNESS SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

Jessie Blankensop Had Been Doped and Told Conflicting Stories at Alliance.

Alliance, September 3.—A case of illness which is shrouded in much mystery and covered with an impenetrable veil of secrecy is reported here.

Railroad Policeman Joseph Wier on going to the Union depot discovered a woman lying on a seat in the ladies' waiting room apparently in the throes of death. Going to her side he tried to arouse the woman from the stupor and wring from her the nature of her illness, and proffer her the assistance of a physician.

For more than one hour Wier vainly kept up his effort to extract from the girl her name, and place of residence, thinking that if successful her friends could be notified of her condition and could come to her assistance. She was neatly but not gaudily clad, of good appearance, and robust form and pleasing features. After almost two hours of futile efforts the girl regained consciousness and awoke from her stupor and said her name was Jessie Blankensop and that she came to Alliance from Salineville on train 301 which arrived in Alliance at 2:40 in the morning. As soon as she arrived in the city she sought the waiting room and became violently ill. She stated that since Saturday she had been in the company of two men, whose names she refused to disclose, and they had given her some decoction, the nature of which she did not know, which had made her exceedingly ill.

It was thought best to remove the woman to the city hospital and the ambulance was called and tender hands lifted her into the van which bore her to the institution of charity and Dr. Tressel summoned. Later the girl stated that she was 21 years old and told conflicting stories in regard to her home. She stated she came from Kensington and also from New Brighton, that her mother lived in New Castle, and that she was on her way to Pittsburg. It was evident that Jessie was endeavoring to conceal her identity and that she was adroitly covering up the nature of her ailment.

Later advices are that Jessie Blankensop boarded the train at East Liverpool with a ticket for Salineville. She did not stop at the latter town, but continued on the train until she reached Alliance.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

LONG SESSION OF TRADES COUNCIL

Matters of Moment to Labor Unionists Engaged Members' Attention.

Received and Filed—President Roosevelt Urged to Put Miller Out of the Government Printing Office—Troubles of Plumbers Considered.

Being the last meeting before the Labor day demonstration, the regular session of Trades Council held last evening was an unusually busy one, and lasted until a late hour.

The new delegates seated were Electrical workers No. 93, Daniel Dixon, Samuel Cowles; Street Railway No. 52, W. S. Rauch; Printers No. 19, Edward L. Hatten.

A communication was received from the Central Federated union of New York, asking aid in behalf of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' union of that city, which organization is in the midst of a bitter fight for recognition. The letter was ordered filed. It will be further discussed at the next meeting, when it can be given more time.

President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in a lengthy circular, outlined the action of the executive board of that organization in the dispute over jurisdiction between the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Amalgamated Wood Workers' International union. The communication was a lengthy one and was ordered filed.

The corresponding secretary was ordered to address a letter petitioning President Roosevelt, in the name of the Trades Council, to reconsider his determination to retain in his position one W. A. Miller as an employe of the government printing office. Miller has been proven guilty of conduct unbecoming a unionist, and his retirement has been demanded to promote the efficiency of the service.

The attention of the body was called to the fact that the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor would be held in Findlay beginning October 6. Some action will be taken at the next meeting.

A communication was received from the Master Plumbers' association of the city, asking that some action be taken in the strike among their employes, which has been in progress for several months. As the delegates from the plumbers' union also desired that the council interest itself in the matter, and so requested last evening, the dispute was placed in the hands of the grievance committee. It was announced that the committee, which should consist of five members, was not full, needing two additional men, the president appointed Edward L. Hatton and Stephen Hague to fill the vacancies. The committee will meet on Friday evening, and the parties interested are hoping the difficulties may be quickly adjusted.

Representatives of the Steam Engineers' International union reported that every effort had been made to bring about a settlement in their controversy with the Potters' association in which they aimed to have their union recognized and a scale of prices signed. A conference had been held, they said, but the manufacturers refused to accede to the demands. The grievance committee will also look after this matter.

The dispute of long standing between the coopers' union and the firm of E. O. Walters was reported to be as far from a settlement as ever, and after a discussion of considerable length plans were decided upon which may result in a settlement.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches or other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You get this reliable remedy at

REFUGE SOUGHT IN MOUNTAINS

Russia Refuses to Hear Deputation Insurgents Capture Seaport of Ahtaboly and Organize Local Government—Turkish Outrages Continue.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 3.—The report published by the Dnevnik of a general uprising in Northern Macedonia is denied both in official and revolutionary circles. Well-informed persons, however, assert that the report was correct, but that its premature publication disarranged the plans of the revolutionists, and therefore it is denied.

According to reliable reports from Monastir, thousands of Bulgarians in that vilayet are confronted with famine in addition to Turkish persecution. Peasants who are continually arriving from Monastir complain of the attitude of Hilmi Pasha and the Turkish atrocities.

Villages Burned by Turks.

The news is published here of an eight-hour fight which occurred at the village of Smilovo August 26 between 300 insurgents and eight battalions of Turkish troops supported by artillery. Thirty-five insurgents are reported dead, while 60 Turks were killed or wounded. On the following day the Turks returned and burned the village. Seven other villages in the neighborhood are said to have also been burned by the Turks.

Bulgarian Trader Wounded.

The insurgents in the district of Adrianope appear to be less active. The Turks are pouring in an overwhelming force and the revolutionaries are taking refuge in the mountains. The Bulgarian leader Gergicoff has been wounded and has fled to Burgas, Bulgaria.

The Russian government has declined to receive the visit of the deputation of Macedonian fugitives in Bulgaria, who proposed to go to St. Petersburg and inform the czar of the pitiable condition of Macedonia and beg for his intervention. The deputation has ben informed that the Russian government deems the visit quite unnecessary, as it quite understands the purpose of the deputation.

Seaport in Insurgent Hands.

The insurgents, it is reported, have captured the seaport of Ahtaboly, near Vasiliko, on the Black sea, and the Turkish population has fled to Constantinople. The insurgents have organized a local government at the captured seaport and are giving ships their clearing papers and sanitary certificates.

The Dnevnik continues to report numbers of outrages on the part of the Turkish soldiery in a number of villages.

Adrianople Reported Burning.

Vienna, Sept. 3.—The Belgrade papers are again spreading sensational rumors that a portion of the town of Adrianople has been blown up and that the other part is burning. No confirmation of these reports is obtainable here.

Constantinople, Sept. 3.—The porte has sent a note to the foreign embassies and legations informing them that, according to police information, the Bulgarian agitators are practicing outrages against the embassies, legations and other public buildings in Constantinople.

The note says the Ottoman government has taken precautions and requests the heads of the foreign missions to do likewise.

New Counterfeit.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The secret service has received a new counterfeit $10 national bank note on the Mechanics national bank, of New Bedford, Mass. The series is of 1882, check letter B, charter No. 743, Bruce, register; Wyman, treasurer of the United States. It is a good photograph on plain paper, no fibre; numbers, seal and panel of black tinted with thin colors.

Ex-Mayor Taken to Poor House.

Scranton, Sept. 3.—Ex-Mayor James G. Bailey, who recently confessed as a witness in the Finn-Scranton libel suit that he took a bribe of $1,000 to sign a paving contract, was taken to Hillside home, the city's poor house and insane asylum. He was mayor from 1895 to 1898, and before entering the office was one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Scranton. The lobbyists got him dissipating and the latter part of his term was rife with scandals. The prosecutions against him were dropped because of the mental and physical condition that resulted from the disclosures of his actions as mayor.

Stolen Bas-Relief Recovered.

Rome, Sept. 3.—The police at Florence have succeeded in finding a valuable Della-Robbia bas-relief, representing the descent from the cross, which was stolen last January from the oratory of the brotherhood of the Annunciation at Lepi. Several persons have been arrested. They are said to have formed an association of thieves to send antique works of art abroad. The bas-relief when found was already packed for dispatch abroad. It is expected that other precious objects which recently disappeared will be recovered.

Bottles by Machinery.

Toledo, O., Sept. 3.—A company was incorporated with a full paid capital of $3,000,000, subscribed principally by New Yorkers and Pittsburgers, to exploit an automatic bottle making machine which bears the same relation to the glass trade as the linotype to the newspaper business. The machine will save $3,000,000 per year on the cost of beer bottles alone, and will dispense entirely with skilled labor. The principal glass manufacturers of the United States have quietly visited Toledo and seen and approved the machine.

Pittsburg Exposition Opened.

Pittsburg, Sept. 3.—Eighteen thousand people witnessed the opening of the fifteenth season of the Pittsburg exposition. It was the most notable assemblage that ever gathered at the big buildings at the Point. In appearance and the display of gowns by the women in the vast audience, the visitors compared favorably with a grand opera throng. The attractions fulfilled every promise which had been made by the exposition management.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The fifth annual meeting of the American Ceramic society, held at Zanesville last week, beginning on Wednesday and ending Friday evening, was a success from every standpoint. There were scores of interested pottery manufacturers present and they all profited much by the discussion of many important subjects.

The reception committee, composed of Zanesville members, spared no time and labor in arranging for the pleasure of the members of the society. Every train was met by this committee and upon the arrival of a member he was given a hearty welcome and at once taken to the convention hall, which was located in the Builders' exchange.

The first meeting of the society was very brief, the time being devoted to the business of minor importance that had accumulated during the past year. This session was followed by an informal social time, in which every one derived great pleasure. The society assembled the next morning at 9 o'clock, and under the guidance of a committee the entire body visited the American Encaustic Tile company's plant at the north end of the city. This plant is one of the largest and most flourishing of its kind in the world and three hours were required to give it an inspection. The products of the plant comprise encaustic floor tiles, all sizes from Mosaic up, and glazed and decorated wall tiles in every degree of ornamentation. This pleasureable visit ended, the body adjourned to lunch, after which the north plant of the Roseville Pottery company was inspected. Many things of interest to all were seen in this plant in which are manufactured a line of single fire specialties, a line of jardineres and pedestals in white body with blended colored glazes, a line of underglaze art ware, decorated in slip on blended backgrounds, and a line of overglaze jardinieres and vases.

A boat ride on the Muskingum was the next thing on the program of Thursday. The beautiful little pleasure launch "Outing" conveyed the crowd on the trip. The party left Zanesville at 7:30 a. m. Friday on a special train provided by the C. & M. V. railway for Crooksville, where the day was spent in the inspection of the coal mines of the Zanesville Coal company, the pottery of the Star Stoneware company, the plant of the Crooksville China company, the Roseville Brick & Terra Cotta company's plant and the plant of the Ohio Pressed Brick company.

The concluding session of the society was held Friday evening. Routine business was disposed of with despatch, the greater part of the time being devoted to social pleasure and the informal discussion of technical topics suggested by the two days' sight seeing.

It was unanimously decided to hold the next meeting at St. Louis. Ten new names were added to the roll of the society at the meeting. John Sant, of this city, was in attendance.

THE WEATHER.

LOST FOR YEARS.

A Boston art collector has just started on a long and costly search for an ancient and valuable Japanese vase for which J. Pierpont Morgan is willing to pay $400,000. The vase is a massive affair of solid gold, designed and wrought by Hidari Jingoro for Emperor Yoshimitsu. It was intended for the palace of Muromachu, and has been lost to the world since Yoshimitsu precipitated Japan into civil strife.

POTTERY NOTES.

The sprinkler system for fire protection will be installed at the Colonial.

Joseph G. Lee, of the K., T. & K., has returned from a vacation trip to Canada.

The trouble at the Stern plant, Cincinnati, has been adjusted and the men are working again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Veith have returned from Niagara Falls and other places of interest in the east.

McNicol's is having a fine run and the plant is operating in full with a steady demand for all the ware they can make. The business this year by this firm promises to be greater than last year.

Henry Bren, formerly of Wheeling, is endeavoring to interest Huntington capitalists in a pottery plant.

The Sevres has been particularly rushed in the decorating department, several large decalcomania orders necessitating the addition of several gilders to the present force.

No Sleep for Weeks Nervous, Weak.

Surgical Operation Wrecked My Nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Restored My Health.

"A few years ago I had to submit to a surgical operation which caused me severe spinal trouble. After treatment I could not gain strength because of extreme nervousness. I took everything I could hear of that was supposed to be good for my trouble but all in vain. I had not had a night's sleep in weeks, when one day one of your circulars was thrown into our yard and after reading what your Nervine had done for others, I resolved to try it. The second night after taking it I slept soundly for the first time in many months and after taking a few bottles I was completely cured. I also used the Nerve Plaster for backache with very gratifying results. I shall always be grateful for the benefits received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies."—Mrs. C. W. Beaman, Savannah, Mo.

"I wish to thank you for the good your medicine has done me. It has almost worked wonders in my case. I was subject to nervous headaches for a period of thirty years. I had doctored with several doctors and had taken a number of different kinds of patent medicines, all to no avail. I was discouraged for I could not get permanent relief. At last I began a trial of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills. I am now completely cured and words cannot express my thankfulness to you and your medicine. If any one wishes to write to me personally I will gladly answer their letters."—J. W. Brant, Ingrahm, Ills.

Jessie Blankensop Had Been Doped and Told Conflicting Stories at Alliance.

Alliance, September 3.—A case of illness which is shrouded in much mystery and covered with an impenetrable veil of secrecy is reported here.

Railroad Policeman Joseph Wier on going to the Union depot discovered a woman lying on a seat in the ladies' waiting room apparently in the throes of death. Going to her side he tried to arouse the woman from the stupor and wring from her the nature of her illness, and proffer her the assistance of a physician.

For more than one hour Wier vainly kept up his effort to extract from the girl her name, and place of residence, thinking that if successful her friends could be notified of her condition and could come to her assistance. She was neatly but not gaudily clad, of good appearance, and robust form and pleasing features. After almost two hours of futile efforts the girl regained consciousness and awoke from her stupor and said her name was Jessie Blankensop and that she came to Alliance from Salineville on train 301 which arrived in Alliance at 2:40 in the morning. As soon as she arrived in the city she sought the waiting room and became violently ill. She stated that since Saturday she had been in the company of two men, whose names she refused to disclose, and they had given her some decoction, the nature of which she did not know, which had made her exceedingly ill.

It was thought best to remove the woman to the city hospital and the ambulance was called and tender hands lifted her into the van which bore her to the institution of charity and Dr. Tressel summoned. Later the girl stated that she was 21 years old and told conflicting stories in regard to her home. She stated she came from Kensington and also from New Brighton, that her mother lived in New Castle, and that she was on her way to Pittsburg. It was evident that Jessie was endeavoring to conceal her identity and that she was adroitly covering up the nature of her ailment.

Later advices are that Jessie Blankensop boarded the train at East Liverpool with a ticket for Salineville. She did not stop at the latter town, but continued on the train until she reached Alliance.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

LONG SESSION OF TRADES COUNCIL

Matters of Moment to Labor Unionists Engaged Members' Attention.

Being the last meeting before the Labor day demonstration, the regular session of Trades Council held last evening was an unusually busy one, and lasted until a late hour.

The new delegates seated were Electrical workers No. 93, Daniel Dixon, Samuel Cowles; Street Railway No. 52, W. S. Rauch; Printers No. 19, Edward L. Hatten.

A communication was received from the Central Federated union of New York, asking aid in behalf of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' union of that city, which organization is in the midst of a bitter fight for recognition. The letter was ordered filed. It will be further discussed at the next meeting, when it can be given more time.

President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in a lengthy circular, outlined the action of the executive board of that organization in the dispute over jurisdiction between the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Amalgamated Wood Workers' International union. The communication was a lengthy one and was ordered filed.

The corresponding secretary was ordered to address a letter petitioning President Roosevelt, in the name of the Trades Council, to reconsider his determination to retain in his position one W. A. Miller as an employe of the government printing office. Miller has been proven guilty of conduct unbecoming a unionist, and his retirement has been demanded to promote the efficiency of the service.

The attention of the body was called to the fact that the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor would be held in Findlay beginning October 6. Some action will be taken at the next meeting.

A communication was received from the Master Plumbers' association of the city, asking that some action be taken in the strike among their employes, which has been in progress for several months. As the delegates from the plumbers' union also desired that the council interest itself in the matter, and so requested last evening, the dispute was placed in the hands of the grievance committee. It was announced that the committee, which should consist of five members, was not full, needing two additional men, the president appointed Edward L. Hatton and Stephen Hague to fill the vacancies. The committee will meet on Friday evening, and the parties interested are hoping the difficulties may be quickly adjusted.

Representatives of the Steam Engineers' International union reported that every effort had been made to bring about a settlement in their controversy with the Potters' association in which they aimed to have their union recognized and a scale of prices signed. A conference had been held, they said, but the manufacturers refused to accede to the demands. The grievance committee will also look after this matter.

The dispute of long standing between the coopers' union and the firm of E. O. Walters was reported to be as far from a settlement as ever, and after a discussion of considerable length plans were decided upon which may result in a settlement.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches or other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You get this reliable remedy at

REFUGE SOUGHT IN MOUNTAINS

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 3.—The report published by the Dnevnik of a general uprising in Northern Macedonia is denied both in official and revolutionary circles. Well-informed persons, however, assert that the report was correct, but that its premature publication disarranged the plans of the revolutionists, and therefore it is denied.

According to reliable reports from Monastir, thousands of Bulgarians in that vilayet are confronted with famine in addition to Turkish persecution. Peasants who are continually arriving from Monastir complain of the attitude of Hilmi Pasha and the Turkish atrocities.

Villages Burned by Turks.

The news is published here of an eight-hour fight which occurred at the village of Smilovo August 26 between 300 insurgents and eight battalions of Turkish troops supported by artillery. Thirty-five insurgents are reported dead, while 60 Turks were killed or wounded. On the following day the Turks returned and burned the village. Seven other villages in the neighborhood are said to have also been burned by the Turks.

Bulgarian Trader Wounded.

The insurgents in the district of Adrianope appear to be less active. The Turks are pouring in an overwhelming force and the revolutionaries are taking refuge in the mountains. The Bulgarian leader Gergicoff has been wounded and has fled to Burgas, Bulgaria.

The Russian government has declined to receive the visit of the deputation of Macedonian fugitives in Bulgaria, who proposed to go to St. Petersburg and inform the czar of the pitiable condition of Macedonia and beg for his intervention. The deputation has ben informed that the Russian government deems the visit quite unnecessary, as it quite understands the purpose of the deputation.

Seaport in Insurgent Hands.

The insurgents, it is reported, have captured the seaport of Ahtaboly, near Vasiliko, on the Black sea, and the Turkish population has fled to Constantinople. The insurgents have organized a local government at the captured seaport and are giving ships their clearing papers and sanitary certificates.

The Dnevnik continues to report numbers of outrages on the part of the Turkish soldiery in a number of villages.

Adrianople Reported Burning.

Vienna, Sept. 3.—The Belgrade papers are again spreading sensational rumors that a portion of the town of Adrianople has been blown up and that the other part is burning. No confirmation of these reports is obtainable here.

Constantinople, Sept. 3.—The porte has sent a note to the foreign embassies and legations informing them that, according to police information, the Bulgarian agitators are practicing outrages against the embassies, legations and other public buildings in Constantinople.

The note says the Ottoman government has taken precautions and requests the heads of the foreign missions to do likewise.

New Counterfeit.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The secret service has received a new counterfeit $10 national bank note on the Mechanics national bank, of New Bedford, Mass. The series is of 1882, check letter B, charter No. 743, Bruce, register; Wyman, treasurer of the United States. It is a good photograph on plain paper, no fibre; numbers, seal and panel of black tinted with thin colors.

Ex-Mayor Taken to Poor House.

Scranton, Sept. 3.—Ex-Mayor James G. Bailey, who recently confessed as a witness in the Finn-Scranton libel suit that he took a bribe of $1,000 to sign a paving contract, was taken to Hillside home, the city's poor house and insane asylum. He was mayor from 1895 to 1898, and before entering the office was one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Scranton. The lobbyists got him dissipating and the latter part of his term was rife with scandals. The prosecutions against him were dropped because of the mental and physical condition that resulted from the disclosures of his actions as mayor.

Stolen Bas-Relief Recovered.

Rome, Sept. 3.—The police at Florence have succeeded in finding a valuable Della-Robbia bas-relief, representing the descent from the cross, which was stolen last January from the oratory of the brotherhood of the Annunciation at Lepi. Several persons have been arrested. They are said to have formed an association of thieves to send antique works of art abroad. The bas-relief when found was already packed for dispatch abroad. It is expected that other precious objects which recently disappeared will be recovered.

Bottles by Machinery.

Toledo, O., Sept. 3.—A company was incorporated with a full paid capital of $3,000,000, subscribed principally by New Yorkers and Pittsburgers, to exploit an automatic bottle making machine which bears the same relation to the glass trade as the linotype to the newspaper business. The machine will save $3,000,000 per year on the cost of beer bottles alone, and will dispense entirely with skilled labor. The principal glass manufacturers of the United States have quietly visited Toledo and seen and approved the machine.

Pittsburg Exposition Opened.

Pittsburg, Sept. 3.—Eighteen thousand people witnessed the opening of the fifteenth season of the Pittsburg exposition. It was the most notable assemblage that ever gathered at the big buildings at the Point. In appearance and the display of gowns by the women in the vast audience, the visitors compared favorably with a grand opera throng. The attractions fulfilled every promise which had been made by the exposition management.

EAST END

Miss Sarah Densmore and Charles Volhart Were Married Yesterday at Steubenville.

Miss Sarah Densmore and Charles Volhart, the young couple that eloped from the East End yesterday morning, were united in marriage at Steubenville and have returned to the East End to receive the parental blessing. The announcement that the nuptial knot was tied at Steubenville was quite a surprise, as it was thought that the destination of the couple was Martin's Ferry, the former home of Mr. Volhart. Realizing that the relatives would suspect they would go to Martin's Ferry, the couple concluded to outwit them and avoid any complications by stopping at Steubenville.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Volhart are stopping with a relative of the former on St. George street, but will go to housekeeping soon.

M'KINNON BLAMELESS

Was Told That Painter Was Union Man Before Work Was Started on His Home.

Joseph B. McKinnon, the owner of the house on St. George street, where it was stated yesterday, trouble had arisen because a non-union painter had been employed, has asked the News Review to set him right before the public in the matter. Mr. McKinnon has always been a firm friend of union men. He states that as soon as he was told by the painters' local that the man was non-union he ordered the painting stopped and that it will not go on until the difficulty is adjusted to the satisfaction of the unions concerned. Mr. McKinnon was told by contracting painters that the painter was a union man before the work was started.

Concerning the statement that the plasterers and carpenters had refused to continue work, Mr. McKinnon states that the plasterers had not commenced and that the carpenters have nothing to do until the plasterers are through.

ALASKA BOUNDARY COMMISSION

Receive Arguments in International Dispute—Ambasador Choate Gives Dinner.

London, Sept. 3.—The arguments of the United States and Great Britain based on the cases and counter cases in the Alaskan boundary arbitration already filed were submitted by counsel of the two governments to the Alaskan boundary commissioners.

One of the Canadian counsel said after reading the American brief that it was a strong document, but he thought Great Britain had a fighting chance.

Ambassador Choate gave a dinner to Chief Justice Alverstone and all the boundary commissioners, Judge John M. Dickinson representing the American counsel and Sir Robert Finlay and Sir Edward Carson representing the British counsel.

Chief Justice Alverstone will be chosen chairman of the commission, which will assemble in the cabinet room of the foreign office. An adjournment for a fortnight will then be taken to allow counsel to prepare their oral arguments. Three counsel on each side will address the commission.

There is a disposition on the part of all the commissioners to hasten the conclusion of the case, and it is now believed that the award will be rendered in the middle of October.

Yachts Fail to Race.

New York, Sept. 3.—The fourth attempt to sail what was expected to be the concluding race between the Reliance and Shamrock III. failed miserably. They were not even sent across the line. Both boats were towed out to Sandy Hook lightship in a dense fog and flat calm and then waited two hours in the hope of a wind from some other direction than the west to blow away the fog and give them speed enough to cover 30 miles within five and a half hours.

Engagement Announced.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 3.—The announcement from London of the engagement of the duke of Roxburghe to Miss May Goelet was confirmed here by Mrs. Goelet. The duke has been a guest of the Goelet mansion for several days, and the announcement of the engagement was not unexpected by the observant members of the social set here, who had decided that the foreigner was a suitor. There is talk of a brilliant social affair in the near future, at which formal public announcement of the engagement will be made by Mrs. Goelet.

Killed Partner and Himself.

Baltimore, Sept. 3.—Aloysius Cavanaugh, 26 years old, of Washington Grove, Md., a patient in a sanitarium near this city, shot and instantly killed his business partner, M. H. Guiney, of Washington, D. C. He then shot and killed himself. Cavanaugh was under treatment for nervous trouble, and his partner was in attendance upon him.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Intense heat has prevailed in Paris since Sunday. The thermometer Wednesday recorded 90 degrees and several sunstrokes, of which two were fatal, were caused by the heat.

A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains.

"Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is sapping away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—Mrs. Florence Danforth, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cannot be equalled by any other medicine in the world.

LIFE OF PRESIDENT

President Fully Aware of Trouble. Officers Have Considerable Difficulty With Crazed Man—Reason Unhinged by Hard Work.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 3.—Frank Weilbrenner was arrested at Sagamore Hill while making a persistent demand to see President Roosevelt. He was armed with a revolver fully loaded. He was taken to Mineola, L. I., and placed in the custody of the county authorities.

It appears that President Roosevelt was aware of the trouble the secret service officer had with Weilbrenner. After the man had been turned back the second time, despite his insistence that he had an engagement with the president, the officer, to make assurance doubly sure, inquired of the president about the fellow. Mr. Roosevelt was in his library only a short distance from the spot where the officer had stopped Weilbrenner's horse. He told the officer he had no engagement with anybody.

President Witnesses Arrest.

When Weilbrenner returned a third time with a demand that he be permitted to see the president, the officer seized him and drew him out of the vehicle over the front wheel. The noise of the scuffle attracted the president's attention. He appeared at the door overlooking the driveway from the veranda as Weilbrenner was being taken into the stables, but returned to the library almost immediately.

Weilbrenner has been practicing with his revolver recently, but he would give no reason for his interest in marksmanship and said he could not shoot very well.

Weak Mind Unhinged by Trouble.

It appears that one of his brothers, who attended the examination, is a metal worker and belongs to a labor union in Brooklyn. Some time ago he lost his position and went with his wife to his father's farm at Syosset. The farm is a good one, but the family is in debt for it and the father, Henry Weilbrenner, and the son who was arrested, have been working hard to lift the indebtedness.

The son from Brooklyn is said to have talked a good deal to his brother recently about labor unions and about the loss of his position. It is thought that the hard work and the trouble over the farm indebtedness had something to do with unsettling young Weilbrenner's mind.

Precautions for President's Safety.

The Weilbrenner incident is the first serious occurrence of the kind during the president's summer sojourn at Sagamore Hill. It has demonstrated completely in the opinion of officials here the wisdom of the close systematic guard which is maintained at all times over the president. He is exposed frequently, it is true, to assault, but every care that human agencies can devise is exercised constantly to insure his personal safety and inamunity from danger. Personally he was not perturbed by the Weilbrenner incident, but, although the maintenance of the guard is often distasteful to him, he thoroughly realizes the necessity in the circumstances of having made as certain as possible the personal safety of the president of the United States.

MANY LIVES LOST ON STEAMER

Constantinople, Sept. 3.—Three explosions occurred on the Austrian steamer Vaskapu soon after leaving the Bulgarian port of Burgas en route for Constantiople, by which the captain and officers of the steamer and six of her crew were killed, a total of 29 lives being lost.

The Vaskapu sailed from Varna, Bulgaria, and after calling at Burgas was steaming through the Black sea to Constantinople when three explosions took place on board. The deck of the vessel took fire and she had to be run ashore at Misivria Bey, 13 miles north of Burgas.

The Vasakpu belonged to the Hungarian Levant Steamship company, of Fiume, Austria, and has been engaged on the Black sea service. She was built in New Castle in 1891 and was a steamer of 1,070 tons.

Miss Sarah Densmore and Charles Volhart Were Married Yesterday at Steubenville.

Miss Sarah Densmore and Charles Volhart, the young couple that eloped from the East End yesterday morning, were united in marriage at Steubenville and have returned to the East End to receive the parental blessing. The announcement that the nuptial knot was tied at Steubenville was quite a surprise, as it was thought that the destination of the couple was Martin's Ferry, the former home of Mr. Volhart. Realizing that the relatives would suspect they would go to Martin's Ferry, the couple concluded to outwit them and avoid any complications by stopping at Steubenville.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Volhart are stopping with a relative of the former on St. George street, but will go to housekeeping soon.

McKinnon, the owner of the house on St. George street, where it was stated yesterday, trouble had arisen because a non-union painter had been employed, has asked the News Review to set him right before the public in the matter. Mr. McKinnon has always been a firm friend of union men. He states that as soon as he was told by the painters' local that the man was non-union he ordered the painting stopped and that it will not go on until the difficulty is adjusted to the satisfaction of the unions concerned. Mr. McKinnon was told by contracting painters that the painter was a union man before the work was started.

Concerning the statement that the plasterers and carpenters had refused to continue work, Mr. McKinnon states that the plasterers had not commenced and that the carpenters have nothing to do until the plasterers are through.

ALASKA BOUNDARY COMMISSION

Receive Arguments in International Dispute—Ambasador Choate Gives Dinner.

London, Sept. 3.—The arguments of the United States and Great Britain based on the cases and counter cases in the Alaskan boundary arbitration already filed were submitted by counsel of the two governments to the Alaskan boundary commissioners.

One of the Canadian counsel said after reading the American brief that it was a strong document, but he thought Great Britain had a fighting chance.

Ambassador Choate gave a dinner to Chief Justice Alverstone and all the boundary commissioners, Judge John M. Dickinson representing the American counsel and Sir Robert Finlay and Sir Edward Carson representing the British counsel.

Chief Justice Alverstone will be chosen chairman of the commission, which will assemble in the cabinet room of the foreign office. An adjournment for a fortnight will then be taken to allow counsel to prepare their oral arguments. Three counsel on each side will address the commission.

There is a disposition on the part of all the commissioners to hasten the conclusion of the case, and it is now believed that the award will be rendered in the middle of October.

Yachts Fail to Race.

New York, Sept. 3.—The fourth attempt to sail what was expected to be the concluding race between the Reliance and Shamrock III. failed miserably. They were not even sent across the line. Engagement Announced.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 3.—The announcement from London of the engagement of the duke of Roxburghe to Miss May Goelet was confirmed here by Mrs. Goelet. The duke has been a guest of the Goelet mansion for several days, and the announcement of the engagement was not unexpected by the observant members of the social set here, who had decided that the foreigner was a suitor. There is talk of a brilliant social affair in the near future, at which formal public announcement of the engagement will be made by Mrs. Goelet.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain. Sold at $1.00 per bottle by druggists. Our book of priceless value to all women sent free. The interesting question has been raised whether probate judges in Ohio have the right to issue naturalization papers. Probate Judge Black, of Columbus, whose right was questioned, communicated with the attorney general of the United States in reference to the matter. The reply, by the acting attorney general, does not decide that probate courts have no jurisdiction, but advises Mr. Black to suspend hearing such cases till the question is decided by some judge. Judge Black will follow this advice, and bring suit at once in the United States court at Cincinnati. The course of Judge Black in suspending naturalizations is likely to be followed by probate judges throughout Ohio. There is a heavy fine and imprisonment for issuing naturalization papers illegally, and it is contended, with excellent logic, that the granting of citizenship being a function of the national government, only federal courts have jurisdiction in the matter.

John H. Clarke, senatorial candidate, begins his campaign by repudiating free silver and defending himself for having voted against Bryan. From a man who was nominated on a Kansas City platform, this political declaration is unique, but it is not calculated to promote Democratic harmony in Ohio.

Our Canadian neighbors are getting gay. One statesman says that Canada can whip the United States and another announces that war is coming sooner or later. As Canada has about as big a population as Illinois or Ohio we might deputize one of these states to whip our pugnacious neighbor.

East Liverpool does not tamely submit to extortionate demands. The gas companies and the Columbiana County Telephone company will find that they have to deal with citizens who are aware of their rights and propose to stand up for them.

The revelation that the president is not safe from the plots and designs of cranks, even in the quiet of his summer home and among his old neighbors, is a most unpleasant one. It will doubtless result in renewed precautions for his safety.

A minister in Tonawanda, N. Y., distributed trading stamps to his congregation Sunday night, by way of making the services attractive. He should abandon the ministry to men who are able to command an audience instead of buying it.

It is the attempt on the life of the American vice-consul that is important, not the success or non-success of the attempt. Some of the half-cocked newspapers seem to think the incident of no value because Magelssen was not killed.

Bryan has not changed. He likes gold Democrats no better than formerly. But he would willingly approve anybody or anything that would give Democrats a show. The sincerity of his political professions is easily gauged.

The Columbiana County Telephone company will find it uphill business, trying to convince the people that there is no truth in the old adage that "talk is cheap."

Never mind, Sir Thomas; you have won American good will. That is worth more than the cup you were after.

Tom L. Johnson weighs 287 pounds, but even his most ponderous political theories are decidedly light weight.

Bryan gives Clarke a qualified endorsement. That is more than Bryan gets from Clarke.

AT THE THEATER

The Dilger-Cornell company will open a weeks' engagement at the Grand opera house next Monday evening, September 7. This company needs no introduction to the theater-goers of East Liverpool, having already established itself as a favorite here. This season the company is much larger and stronger than ever and presenting a line of royalty plays that are all metropolitan successes, but which have never been given before at popular prices. Special scenery and effects are carried for each piece. The opening bill for Monday night will be "The Princess of Patches," a grand old southern comedy in four acts, full of the warm sunshine of that country. Act first shows a cotton field in full bloom, so realistic and true to nature is the scene that one can almost see the cotton waving. Another act presents an old southern mansion among the magnolias and an old boat house on the Mississippi. Six big specialties are introduced between the acts, making it a continuous show, the curtain never being down over half a minute.

When either the president or the politician "swings around the circle," they rarely describe more than an arc. It is your hustling irrepressible minstrel manager, like the indomitable John W. Vogel, he of the large "Big Minstrels." And what a vast amount of work to be constantly accomplished! Street parades, rehearsals and performances, sometimes twice a day, and the journeying, almost the year round. In the words of the song: "The Same Thing Over Again," until the end of the season and the band plays "Home, Sweet Home." John W. Vogel's Big Minstrels will appear at the Grand Friday evening and will be the treat of the season.

AT THE THEATER

The Dilger-Cornell company will open a weeks' engagement at the Grand opera house next Monday evening, September 7. This company needs no introduction to the theater-goers of East Liverpool, having already established itself as a favorite here. This season the company is much larger and stronger than ever and presenting a line of royalty plays that are all metropolitan successes, but which have never been given before at popular prices. Special scenery and effects are carried for each piece. The opening bill for Monday night will be "The Princess of Patches," a grand old southern comedy in four acts, full of the warm sunshine of that country. Act first shows a cotton field in full bloom, so realistic and true to nature is the scene that one can almost see the cotton waving. Another act presents an old southern mansion among the magnolias and an old boat house on the Mississippi. Six big specialties are introduced between the acts, making it a continuous show, the curtain never being down over half a minute.

When either the president or the politician "swings around the circle," they rarely describe more than an arc. It is your hustling irrepressible minstrel manager, like the indomitable John W. Vogel, he of the large "Big Minstrels." And what a vast amount of work to be constantly accomplished! Street parades, rehearsals and performances, sometimes twice a day, and the journeying, almost the year round. In the words of the song: "The Same Thing Over Again," until the end of the season and the band plays "Home, Sweet Home." John W. Vogel's Big Minstrels will appear at the Grand Friday evening and will be the treat of the season.

PLUMBERS STILL HOLD CHARTER

MANY HAVE RETURNED TO THE CITY TO FIGHT.

Their Grievances Have Been Taken Up By Central Labor Union for Settlement.

The local organization of plumbers has been in a peculiar position for some time. The union has always been small in numbers, and when the strike came on last spring many of the members whose homes were in other cities, fought against the master plumbers for a few weeks or until their funds were exhausted. Then they were compelled to seek employment elsewhere. The members of the local attribute their failure to bring about a settlement of their strike to the fact that there was scarcely enough men left in the town to constitute a quorum.

Things have transpired recently, however, which caused some of the members who had been away to return to the city. The charter was never surrendered, and within the past few weeks several meetings have been held. The long-drawn-out disputes were aired in Trades Council last night from all standpoints, and action taken by the central labor union which may result in a settlement. A conference has been arranged for Friday evening, and it is thought the two factions will be gotten together.

There was an impression in some quarters that the journeymen had surrendered their charter, but this was wrong, and on account of certain stories circulated generally upon the streets, the men have resolved to have their grievances aired and settled once for all. Murray & Darrah, two journeymen, have given employment to all of the idle men, but both men have retained their active membership and will probably go back to regular journeyman work when the strike is settled.

HANCOCK COUNTY POLITICAL FIGHTS

LIVELY SCRAMBLE FOR PLACES TO BE FILLED IN THE SPRING.

The Contest for the Office of Sheriff Promises to Be Most Interesting.

Although the time for holding the Republican primary election in Hancock county is many months away and deals without number are liable to be made, there are those in the county who claim they could forecast their outcome in several of the offices. Of the several places to be filled next spring on the county ticket, none is so important or lucrative as that of sheriff. For this reason the list of aspirants will be large, and every district in the county will be represented by at least one candidate.

The election laws of West Virginia are so framed that no sheriff may succeed himself. It has been customary heretofore for a man holding the position to conduct his affairs in such a manner as will reflect credit upon him as an official in order that he may be in line for the same position when his successor will have completed his term. In other words, every incumbent of the office expects to secure his second term, but cannot do so until one term of four years has been filled in between.

Previous to the last election A. F. Wilkins was the incumbent. He was succeeded by C. F. Allison, of Grant district, or Chester. Mr. Allison is a Democrat, and was elected over Cuppy, his Republican opponent, by a good safe majority. The result of the election was a surprise to Wilkins, who had confidence in Cuppy's ability to win, and it was said at the time, interfered somewhat with the former's calculations for the future.

It is announced, however, that in spite of the disappointment at that time, Wilkins is an avowed candidate, and has already begun an active campaign for the position. He did not get through with his first term without making enemies, and it is said will have a hard proposition to face in even landing a fairly good place. Another thing calculated to hurt his chances not a little is the fact that there are several candidates from his own district of Clay or New Cumberland. All of the men are claimed to be top-notchers by their friends, and each is personally antagonistic to Wilkins.

The most popular and by far the strongest man from the lower end of the county, according to the best informed politicians, is "Moss" Burford. Mr. Burford has been a resident of New Cumberland for many years, having moved to that city from East Liverpool when the old Chelsea pottery was in operation previous to its coming into possession of the Union company. He has been conducting a mercantile business in New Cumberland long enough to earn for himself an enviable reputation among the town's most prominent merchants.

Among the candidates from the upper portion of the county will be Al McDonald, Hiram Allison and James Cochran, all of whom have good backing and a host of friends.

THOUGHT IT A BEAR

Chester Men Encounter a Remarkable Specimen of the Ground-hog Tribe.

Robert Allison and Jefferson Smith were over in Pennsylvania yesterday afternoon, where they butchered several beeves. Returning late in the evening they had an encounter with what both men believed at first was a bear. Smith spied the animal across the fence in a field and says he could have sworn it was a bear, so large did the body appear. The men had a rifle in the buggy and Allison, without awaiting to alight, drew a bead on the huge animal and pulled the trigger. Although the beast did not fall it gave evidence of having been hit, and quickly reloading the rifle, he got out of the buggy and fired again.

Quickly scaling the fence he approached the beast and found it very much alive. As he drew nearer the huge beast showed fight, and Allison's gun containing no load, he was about to retreat when he stumbled over a log. Before he could recover the huge animal was so near that escape was impossible. Allison turned the butt end of the gun uppermost and dealt his adversary a blow on the head, stunning it for a moment, and giving him time to recover himself. After some difficulty the beast was dispatched and later dragged to the middle of the road. Here it was found the brute was a groundhog, the largest ever seen in that part of the country. The butchers hauled it to Chester where it was weighed, tipping the scales at 62 pounds and 7 ounces. The groundhog was dressed, and provided a good meal for several families.

Men Ready for Work.

Louis Atkinson, a construction boss of wide experience, was in Chester this morning and made inquiry as to where Contractor Freshwater could be found. Atkinson was out of employment, but had about 30 Italians where he could put his hand upon them. Having learned that the Freshwaters were short of men he was anxious to place them in Chester. Atkinson said he had been annoyed earlier in the day by some fellow in East Liverpool who had attempted to take his men with him. He did not succeed, and it is probable they will all be given employment on the Chester streets.

property. The document with reference to the Tri-State company and signed by Mr. Neal is as follows:

In the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, O.

Thomas C. Neal, a Taxpayer in the City of East Liverpool on Behalf of the City of East Liverpool, O., Himself and the Other Consumers of Gas of the Tri-State Gas Company in said City, Plaintiff, vs. the Tri-State Gas Company, a Corporation, Defendant; Petition.

Plaintiff says that he is a resident of the city of East Liverpool, in the state of Ohio, and the owner in fee of a certain lot adjoining and fronting on Basil avenue, in said city, upon which he has erected a dwelling house, which he has, at great expense, arranged for the use of natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes; that no other fuel can be used therein without great detriment and inconvenience and expense; that the defendant is a corporation organized under the laws of Ohio and engaged in the business of operating a natural gas plant and selling to said city and the inhabitants thereof natural gas to be used for fuel and lighting purposes; that because of the public character of defendant's business the city granted to it a valuable franchise and permitted it, among other things, to lay its mains, pipes and conduits through and beneath the surface of the streets of said city; that in pursuance of the provisions of Section 2478 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio the said city by its council duly passed an ordinance on June 23, 1903, entitled "An ordinance to regulate the price which the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company now, or which may be hereafter doing business in the city of East Liverpool, may charge for gas for and during the ensuing 10 years, which said ordinance is as follows:

"Be it ordained by the council of the city of East Liverpool, state of Ohio.

"Section 1—That during the period of 10 years and after the passage of this ordinance, the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company may charge for natural gas furnished to the citizens or private consumers, and to the public buildings, grounds, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, for illuminating and heating purposes, twenty-five (25) cents per thousand cubic feet; if paid within ten days after the dates of monthly settlement then a discount of five (5) cents per thousand cubic foot shall be allowed. The said, the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company shall in no event, during the term of ten years, charge for gas furnished as above mentioned more than the price herein specified, nor shall the said company charge for the placing or rental of meters a greater sum than is now being charged.

"Section 2—This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

"JOHN HORWELL,

"Attest: WILLIS DAVIDSON, Clerk.

"Approved: W. A. WEAVER, Mayor."

I, Willis Davidson, clerk of the city of East Liverpool, O., do hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was published in the Evening News Review July 1st-8th, 1903.

WILLIS DAVIDSON,
City Clerk.

That said defendant had due notice of the passage of said ordinance.

Plaintiff says that on or about the 20th day of June, 1903, said defendant notified the consumers of its gas in said city that on or after the reading of gas meters in July, 1903, the price of its said gas would be increased from twenty (20) cents per thousand cubic feet to twenty-five (25) cents net per thousand cubic feet, which said latter rate is in excess of the rate prescribed by said ordinance as aforesaid.

That upon receipt of his gas bill for the month of July, 1903, the plaintiff refused to pay the amount specified therein, but tendered to the defendant the amount based upon the rate prescribed by the said ordinance, which rate is the same rate that has been charged by the defendant for seventeen years past; that the defendant refused to accept anything less than the amount called for by the bill as aforesaid, which amount was in excess of the amount which was due in accordance with the rate prescribed by the said ordinance, and which refusal was in violation of the provisions thereof.

The said defendant threatens to, and will, unless restrained by this court, collect said excessive rate for the gas used by plaintiff and the consumers of its gas in said city, and threatens to, and will, unless restrained by this court, shut off the gas supply of plaintiff and the other consumers of its gas in said city unless plaintiff and said consumers pay said excessive rate so charged by defendent, to the great and irreparable damage, loss and inconvenience of plaintiff and the other consumers of gas in said city.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that the defendant and its agent or agents may be restrained from shutting off the gas supply of said plaintiff and other consumers, who are willing to pay the rate as prescribed by said ordinance and from charging a price greater for the gas supplied than the price prescribed by said ordinance, and for such other relief as may be equitable therein.

[Signed.] THOS. C. NEAL.

State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss.

Thos. C. Neal, being first duly sworn, says that he is the plaintiff in the above entitled action and that the statement and allegations contained therein are true.

WARRANT ISSUED

the city today for New Cumberland, where they were to be married. Mayor Weaver could not determine how the marriage could be prevented, inasmuch as the girl is of age.

Mrs. Bowman found a possible way out of the dilemma by proposing that she swear out a warrant charging Croxall with threatening her life and carrying a revolver. The warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Mahoney, who made a thorough search of the city for Croxall and the girl, but they could not be located.

Telephonic communication with County Clerk Cooper at New Cumberland this afternoon revealed the fact that the runaway couple had not yet reached there. Mr. Cooper further stated that if the pair should apply to him he will not give them a license, it being his way to favor a mother in all such cases.

Clerk Cooper telephoned the News Review at 3 o'clock that Croxall had applied for a license and that he refused to give it to him. He said Croxall was much angered at the refusal and started toward Steubenville.

Upon Croxall's arrival at Steubenville he will met with no favor, the authorities there having been notified by Chief Wyman to refuse him a license. It has been learned that Croxall hired a rig from John Rinehart on the pretense of going to Lisbon. Rinehart has issued a warrant, charging Croxall with obtaining the rig under false pretense.

PLUMBERS STILL HOLD CHARTER

MANY HAVE RETURNED TO THE CITY TO FIGHT.

Their Grievances Have Been Taken Up By Central Labor Union for Settlement.

The local organization of plumbers has been in a peculiar position for some time. The union has always been small in numbers, and when the strike came on last spring many of the members whose homes were in other cities, fought against the master plumbers for a few weeks or until their funds were exhausted. Then they were compelled to seek employment elsewhere. The members of the local attribute their failure to bring about a settlement of their strike to the fact that there was scarcely enough men left in the town to constitute a quorum.

Things have transpired recently, however, which caused some of the members who had been away to return to the city. The charter was never surrendered, and within the past few weeks several meetings have been held. The long-drawn-out disputes were aired in Trades Council last night from all standpoints, and action taken by the central labor union which may result in a settlement. A conference has been arranged for Friday evening, and it is thought the two factions will be gotten together.

There was an impression in some quarters that the journeymen had surrendered their charter, but this was wrong, and on account of certain stories circulated generally upon the streets, the men have resolved to have their grievances aired and settled once for all. Murray & Darrah, two journeymen, have given employment to all of the idle men, but both men have retained their active membership and will probably go back to regular journeyman work when the strike is settled.

DEATH DUST

Ants

The ant is a clean insect, so far as habits of living are concerned. Their supreme annoyance is their vast number and vexations persistence. They appear suddenly, increase enormously in number, and locate to stay. Many of the means and articles used for ridding the premises of their troublesome presence are useless, because so dangerous that they cannot be employed freely. While harmless to people Death Dust is death to ants.

The Contest for the Office of Sheriff Promises to Be Most Interesting.

Although the time for holding the Republican primary election in Hancock county is many months away and deals without number are liable to be made, there are those in the county who claim they could forecast their outcome in several of the offices. Of the several places to be filled next spring on the county ticket, none is so important or lucrative as that of sheriff. For this reason the list of aspirants will be large, and every district in the county will be represented by at least one candidate.

The election laws of West Virginia are so framed that no sheriff may succeed himself. It has been customary heretofore for a man holding the position to conduct his affairs in such a manner as will reflect credit upon him as an official in order that he may be in line for the same position when his successor will have completed his term. In other words, every incumbent of the office expects to secure his second term, but cannot do so until one term of four years has been filled in between.

Previous to the last election A. F. Wilkins was the incumbent. He was succeeded by C. F. Allison, of Grant district, or Chester. Mr. Allison is a Democrat, and was elected over Cuppy, his Republican opponent, by a good safe majority. The result of the election was a surprise to Wilkins, who had confidence in Cuppy's ability to win, and it was said at the time, interfered somewhat with the former's calculations for the future.

It is announced, however, that in spite of the disappointment at that time, Wilkins is an avowed candidate, and has already begun an active campaign for the position. He did not get through with his first term without making enemies, and it is said will have a hard proposition to face in even landing a fairly good place. Another thing calculated to hurt his chances not a little is the fact that there are several candidates from his own district of Clay or New Cumberland. All of the men are claimed to be top-notchers by their friends, and each is personally antagonistic to Wilkins.

The most popular and by far the strongest man from the lower end of the county, according to the best informed politicians, is "Moss" Burford. Mr. Burford has been a resident of New Cumberland for many years, having moved to that city from East Liverpool when the old Chelsea pottery was in operation previous to its coming into possession of the Union company. He has been conducting a mercantile business in New Cumberland long enough to earn for himself an enviable reputation among the town's most prominent merchants.

Among the candidates from the upper portion of the county will be Al McDonald, Hiram Allison and James Cochran, all of whom have good backing and a host of friends.

THOUGHT IT A BEAR

Chester Men Encounter a Remarkable Specimen of the Groundhog Tribe.

Robert Allison and Jefferson Smith were over in Pennsylvania yesterday afternoon, where they butchered several beeves. Riurning late in the evening they had an encounter with what both men believed at first was a bear. Smith spied the animal across the fence in a field and says he could have sworn it was a bear, so large did the body appear. The men had a rifle in the buggy and Allison, without awaiting to alight, drew a bead on the huge animal and pulled the trigger. Although the beast did not fall it gave evidence of having been hit, and quickly reloading the rifle, he got out of the buggy and fired again.

Quickly scaling the fence he approached the beast and found it very much alive. As he drew nearer the huge beast showed fight, and Allison's gun containing no load, he was about to retreat when he stumbled over a log. Before he could recover the huge animal was so near that escape was impossible. Allison turned the butt end of the gun uppermost and dealt his adversary a blow on the head, stunning it for a moment, and giving him time to recover himself. After some difficulty the beast was dispatched and later dragged to the middle of the road. Here it was found the brute was a groundhog, the largest ever seen in that part of the country. The butchers hauled it to Chester where it was weighed, tipping the scales at 62 pounds and 7 ounces. The groundhog was dressed, and provided a good meal for several families.

Men Ready for Work.

Louis Atkinson, a construction boss of wide experience, was in Chester this morning and made inquiry as to where Contractor Freshwater could be found. Atkinson was out of employment, but had about 30 Italians where he could put his hand upon them. Having learned that the Freshwaters were short of men he was anxious to place them in Chester Atkinson said he had been annoyed earlier in the day by some fellow in East Liverpool who had attempted to take his men with him. He did not succeed, and it is probable they will all be given employment on the Chester streets.

property. The document with reference to the Tri-State company and signed by Mr. Neal is as follows:

In the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, O.

Thomas C. Neal, a Taxpayer in the City of East Liverpool on Behalf of the City of East Liverpool, O., Himself and the Other Consumers of Gas of the Tri-State Gas Company in said City, Plaintiff, vs. the Tri-State Gas Company, a Corporation, Defendant; Petition.

Plaintiff says that he is a resident of the city of East Liverpool, in the state of Ohio, and the owner in fee of a certain lot adjoining and fronting on Basil avenue, in said city, upon which he has erected a dwelling house, which he has, at great expense, arranged for the use of natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes; that no other fuel can be used therein without great derriment and inconvenience and expense; that the defendant is a corporation organized under the laws of Ohio and engaged in the business of operating a natural gas plant and selling to said city and the inhabitants thereof natural gas to be used for fuel and lighting purposes; that because of the public character of defendant's business the city granted to it a valuable franchise and permitted it, among other things, to lay its mains, pipes and conduits through and beneath the surface of the streets of said city; that in pursuance of the provisions of Section 2478 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio the said city by its council duly passed an ordinance on June 23, 1903, entitled "An ordinance to regulate the price which the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company now, or which may be hereafter doing business in the city of East Liverpool, may charge for gas for and during the ensuing 10 years, which said ordinance is as follows:

"Be it ordained by the council of the city of East Liverpool, state of Ohio.

"Section 1—That during the period of 10 years and after the passage of this ordinance, the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company may charge for natural gas furnished to the citizens or private consumers, and to the public buildings, grounds, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, for illuminating and heating purposes, twenty-five (25) cents per thousand cubic feet; if paid within ten days after the dates of monthly settlement then a discount of five (5) cents per thousand cubic foot shall be allowed. The said, the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company shall in no event, during the term of ten years, charge for gas furnished as above mentioned more than the price herein specified, nor shall the said company charge for the placing or rental of meters a greater sum than is now being charged.

"Section 2—This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

"JOHN HORWELL,

"Attest: WILLIS DAVIDSON, Clerk.

"Approved: W. A. WEAVER, Mayor."

I, Willis Davidson, clerk of the city of East Liverpool, O., do hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was published in the Evening News Review July 1st 8th, 1903.

WILLIS DAVIDSON,
City Clerk.

That said defendant had due notice of the passage of said ordinance.

Plaintiff says that on or about the 20th day of June, 1903, said defendant notified the consumers of its gas in said city that on or after the reading of gas meters in July, 1903, the price of its said gas would be increased from twenty (20) cents per thousand cubic feet to twenty-five (25) cents net per thousand cubic feet, which said latter rate is in excess of the rate prescribed by said ordinance as aforesaid.

That upon receipt of his gas bill for the month of July, 1903, the plaintiff refused to pay the amount specified therein, but tendered to the defendant the amount based upon the rate prescribed by the said ordinance, which rate is the same rate that has been charged by the defendant for seventeen years past; that the defendant refused to accept anything less than the amount called for by the bill as aforesaid, which amount was in excess of the amount which was due in accordance with the rate prescribed by the said ordinance, and which refusal was in violation of the provisions thereof.

The said defendant threatens to, and will, unless restrained by this court, collect said excessive rate for the gas used by plaintiff and the consumers of its gas in said city, and threatens to, and will, unless restrained by this court, shut off the gas supply of plaintiff and the other consumers of its gas in said city unless plaintiff and said consumers pay said excessive rate so charged by defendent, to the great and irreparable damage, loss and inconvenience of plaintiff and the other consumers of gas in said city.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that the defendant and its agent or agents may be restrained from shutting off the gas supply of said plaintiff and other consumers, who are willing to pay the rate as prescribed by said ordinance and from charging a price greater for the gas supplied than the price prescribed by said ordinance, and for such other relief as may be equitable therein.

[Signed.] THOS. C. NEAL.

State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss.

Thos. C. Neal, being first duly sworn, says that he is the plaintiff in the above entitled action and that the statement and allegations contained therein are true.

WARRANT ISSUED

the city today for New Cumberland, where they were to be married. Mayor Weaver could not determine how the marriage could be prevented, inasmuch as the girl is of age.

Mrs. Bowman found a possible way out of the dilemma by proposing that she swear out a warrant charging Croxall with threatening her life and carrying a revolver. The warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Mahoney, who made a thorough search of the city for Croxall and the girl, but they could not be located.

Telephonic communication with County Clerk Cooper at New Cumberland this afternoon revealed the fact that the runaway couple had not yet reached there. Mr. Cooper further stated that if the pair should apply to him he will not give them a license, it being his way to favor a mother in all such cases.

Clerk Cooper telephoned the News Review at 3 o'clock that Croxall had applied for a license and that he refused to give it to him. He said Croxall was much angered at the refusal and started toward Steubenville.

Upon Croxall's arrival at Steubenville he will met with no favor, the authorities there having been notified by Chief Wyman to refuse him a license. It has been learned that Croxall hired a rig from John Rinehart on the pretense of going to Lisbon. Rinehart has issued a warrant, charging Croxall with obtaining the rig under false pretense.

REALM OF SPORTS

JARVIS' RANK PLAYING

By far the fastest and most interesting game played in the West End park this season was cut off suddenly and without warning in the seventh inning yesterday when the locals fell like school boys before Niles, giving them seven hits and as many runs. That inning forgotten and the exhibition was as good as one would wish to see.

Crippled by having two second-raters, George Emmerling in the box and Jarvis at short, in the game the locals could hardly have expected to win the game and the fans are giving the seven regular players the credit due them for their part. In most any company except that in which Niles trots the two amateurs might have made a showing, but to put them on the field when the mill workers are the opponenets is as much folly as it would be to put the Sixth Street Bums against Pittsburg.

That the visitors did not make the same spurt as characterized the seventh inning in each half was the greatest surprise to the fans and they are yet attempting to figure how they escaped it.

Prior to that fatal inning the locals had the game won at least twice. They scored a run in two different innings and in each of those innings had two men on bases. Then hard luck made them a visit and the side died without another run. However, even before the seventh the visitors had one run to the good, and it is doubtful whether or not they would have won.

The first inning was inscribed on the scorer's sheet without a run credited to either side and but one hit, made by Demoos. So far as the locals were concerned another blank was drawn in the second, but it was not so with the visitors. They scored a man, Glassburner, after he had walked. Crowe followed with a two-bagger and scored him with ease.

In the third inning each side had the good fortune to darken the run column. Demoos, for the visitors, went out from pitcher to first; Ortlieb singled and scored on another single by Murphy. Nagel and Krueger flew out in rapid succession to Wallace. The locals started with a single, Emmerling landed a pretty one. George Emmerling flew out to Thomas and the former was advanced a base on Nagel's error of Gibson's grounder. Wallace stepped to the bat and placed a beauty, sending Emmerling home on a jump. Brown knocked one down to Demoos and got first on a fielder's choice, Wallace going out at second. There were two men on bases then and Brown thought he might as well get to second and score a couple if Heckathorn made a single. Ortlieb fooled him when he made the dash by putting the bug on him and retiring the side.

The fourth inning was marked with a goose egg for each team and the fifth resulted likewise for the locals. Niles got one thought. The first two men up singled and after Murphy went out Demoos scored on one more single by Nagel. Things looked a little blue right here with but one man out, one man already over home plate and two on bases, but the next two men up were easy out, and the game to that period was hot enough.

The locals did a little of the run getting in the sixth and gave Niles a whitewash. Gibson started it by reaching first on a foolish play of Murphy. The lanky baseman stood straddle of the bag when he caught the ball and then beefed because the umpire did not call Gibson out. While they were chewing over the decision Wallace got a single and Gibson scored on a nice one made by Brown. As in the third inning the locals had two men on bases and Heckathorn put a damper on all prospects when he hit high into right field. Jarvis gained first at the expense of Brown, who died at second. The inning was ended when Webb chased one down to Demoos.

The long and tiresome seventh was the next period. The ball was started rolling when Jarvis fumbled an easy one. That seemed to get Pitcher Emmerling in the air and the next five men up hit for pretty singles, the most of them being little easy bunts. So confused were the locals that they allowed the same five men to score and two additional ones scored when a like number of singles were added. The locals spruced up a little after the awful drubbing and got a few themselves, but little good it did them. Rearick and Emmerling had gone out speedily when George Emmerling walked. Gibson singled and Wallace was allowed first when an attempt was made to get Emmerling, who scored. Brown made his second single and scored two of the runners. It was all off when Heckathorn hit down to Demoos.

The remaining two innings were interesting enough, but the locals could not overcome the terrible lead. The score:

Notes on the Game.

Jarvis must take a back seat now. It might have been just an off day for him, but he looked as though it was due to genuine ignorance and inability.

George Emmerling deserves credit for his game even if he was toyed with in one inning. He will recover some day and will show local pitchers a thing or two.

Ortlieb showed his gameness in the third when Wallace put him out of the business by a terrific grounder. Although he could hardly walk he continued in the game after a short layoff.

Wallace, Brown, Gibson, Webb and all of the rest not mentioned above did work of which they should be proud. Had they been accompanied by seven more real men another victory would have been theirs.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Cy Young, "the old reliable," Boston's crack pitcher, is batting over .300.

The combined salaries of professional ball players in America this year amounts to over $2,000,000, it is said.

George Dixon, the ex-featherweight champion, who has repeatedly stated that he would never fight again, has changed his mind once more and will meet Joe Goodwin.

A. P. McDonald, owner of the fast trotter Major Delmar, does not believe the stallion, mare or gelding lives that can show a pace to his horse, and he has started talk of arranging a race with the champion, Lou Dillon. He says that a mile dash, three in five, or two in three, will suit him, and that he will bet from $5,000 to $20,000 that Delmar will win any sort of a race agreed upon.

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. MURDER AND SUICIDE

New York, Sept. 3.—Henry Townsend Edson, son of former Mayor Franklin Edson, in his apartments at 292 West Ninety-second street shot and instantly killed Mrs. Fannie Pullen, of 673 West End avenue, and then shot and killed himself. The murder and suicide appear to have been premeditated and followed a dramatic scene, in which Edson called upon Mrs. Pullen, a close and honored friend of his wife and family, to desert her husband and children and fly with him to another state. Mrs. Pullen, a very handsome woman, is said to have been the daughter of a United States naval officer.

The double tragedy brought to the surface the fact that Edson, who was comptroller of St. Michael's Protestant Episcopal church, had been suspected of misappropriating funds belonging to the parish and that expert accountants were at work on his accounts. It was also declared by those related with the family that Edson was financially distressed because of Wall street speculations.

Man Undoubtedly Insane.

Whatever may have ben the precise cause of the tragedy, members of the Edson family insist that the man was insane. There are many indications that Edson was madly in love with Mrs. Pullen. Dr. Peters, of St. Michael's church, who knew the dead man well, is emphatic in his declarations that none but the most honorable relations existed between Edson and Mrs. Pullen. She was, he said, Edson's "friend advisor."

Mrs. Pullen lived with her husband, John F. Pullen, an auditor at the Grand Central station, and her two children, Trafton, 16 years old, and Mary, 14 years old.

The Edsons were to break up their home as a result of ar agreement to sign articles of separation, reached the night previous. The life of the couple had not been happy. Edson had been acting in a peculiar manner. For that reason furniture movers were in the house packing up furniture and bric-a-brac.

Refused to Elope With Him.

Mrs. Edson spent the night with her friend, Mrs. Pullen. She was about to go out in the morning, when a note came from Edson asking that Mrs. Pullen accompany his wife to where he was. Edson, his wife, Mrs. Pullen and Dr. David O. Edson, a brother of Edson, met in Edson's home. During the conversation in the dining room Edson is said to have turned to Mrs. Pullen and suggested that she leave her home with him and go to some other state where they could be happy. Mrs. Edson was horrified. Mrs. Pullen turned away in disgust. Dr. Edson, after sharply rebuking his brother, left the room with Mrs. Edson, but both returned in a few minutes, when Edson again turned to Mrs. Pullen and began to entreat her to elope with him. Mrs. Pullen, possessed with fear of the man, ran out of the room. Edson, however, seemed to recover his self-possession and all went into the dining room again.

Fleeing Woman Shot Down.

A very few mnutes after Mrs. Edson, who was weak and trembling from the ordeal, was assisted to another room by Dr. Edson. A moment later, according to Woods a furniture man working nearby in the hallway, Edson pulled a revolver from his pocket, and pointing it at Mrs Pullen, shouted: "You must go with me. If you don't elope with me I'll see that you go with me, anyway."

In terror Mrs. Pullen started to run from the room. She had gone but a few steps when four pistol shots rang out in quick succession. The first bullet tore Mrs. Pullen's left cheek and the second entered the right side of her head.

According to Woods, Edson looked at the woman for a moment and then turned the muzzle of the revolver to his own head, firing two shots almost simultaneously. Both entered about the middle of the forehead and he fell, his head striking and resting on the feet of Mrs. Pullen's body.

Troops May Be Ordered Out.

Denver, Sept. 3.—There seems to be a likelihood of the state troops being ordered to Cripple Creek. It is known that large numbers of militiamen have gathered at the armory in this city, and Governor Peabody, Adjutant General Sherman Bell, Attorney General Miller and Judge Maxwell, of the Colorado court of appeals, were in conference several hours.

Deputy Sheriff Assassinated.

Eldorado, Ark., Sept. 3.—Dallas Hunter, a deputy sheriff of this county, was assassinated about four miles west of town while riding from his home to Edorado. Bloodhounds are on the trail of the murderers. It is believed that the killing was the result of an old feud. Hunter having been a close friend of W. P. Lee, who was assassinated in July.

A Strong Man

Is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from indigestion or some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man doesn't feel just right, when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous and irritable, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man needs to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, stimulates the liver, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub Station C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 103, writes: "I was taken very sick with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. The more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I had given up to die. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

SPEAK FROM SAME PLATFORM

W. J. Bryan and John H. Clarke Make Addresses at Fair Grounds. Clarke's Candidacy Accepted.

Columbus, O., Sept. 3.—W. J. Bryan was the guest of the Ohio state board of agriculture and delivered a non-partisan address at the state fair grounds. John H. Clarke, of Cleveland, endorsed by the Democratic state convention for United States senator, spoke from the same platform. Mr. Bryan left late in the afternoon for Marion, O., where he addressed a Democratic meeting in the evening.

Mr. Bryan isued a statement here accepting John H. Clarke as the Democratic candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Hanna. He says Mr. Clarke differs from the Kansas City platform on one phase of the money question only, viz., metallic money.

Marion, O., Sept. 3.—W. J. Bryan closed his present Ohio tour, addressing an immense audience on the court house grounds in this city. Mr. Bryan was accompanied to Marion by C. C. Fairchild, member of the state committee; former Congressman John J. Lentz, Frank S. Monnett, the Democratic candidate for attorney general, and W. L. Finley, chairman of the Democratic state central committee. Monnett and Lentz followed Bryan in speeches of some length. Immediately after the meeting Bryan left for New York and announced that he would be in Ohio again next month to make a number of speeches in support of the Democratic ticket.

REALM OF SPORTS

JARVIS' RANK PLAYING

By far the fastest and most interesting game played in the West End park this season was cut off suddenly and without warning in the seventh inning yesterday when the locals fell like school boys before Niles, giving them seven hits and as many runs. That inning forgotten and the exhibition was as good as one would wish to see.

Crippled by having two second-raters, George Emmerling in the box and Jarvis at short, in the game the locals could hardly have expected to win the game and the fans are giving the seven regular players the credit due them for their part. In most any company except that in which Niles trots the two amateurs might have made a showing, but to put them on the field when the mill workers are the opponenets is as much folly as it would be to put the Sixth Street Bums against Pittsburg.

That the visitors did not make the same spurt as characterized the seventh inning in each half was the greatest surprise to the fans and they are yet attempting to figure how they escaped it.

Prior to that fatal inning the locals had the game won at least twice. They scored a run in two different innings and in each of those innings had two men on bases. Then hard luck made them a visit and the side died without another run. However, even before the seventh the visitors had one run to the good, and it is doubtful whether or not they would have won.

The first inning was inscribed on the scorer's sheet without a run credited to either side and but one hit, made by Demoos. So far as the locals were concerned another blank was drawn in the second, but it was not so with the visitors. They scored a man, Glassburner, after he had walked. Crowe followed with a two-bagger and scored him with ease.

In the third inning each side had the good fortune to darken the run column. Demoos, for the visitors, went out from pitcher to first; Ortlieb singled and scored on another single by Murphy. Nagel and Krueger flew out in rapid succession to Wallace. The locals started with a single, Emmerling landed a pretty one. George Emmerling flew out to Thomas and the former was advanced a base on Nagel's error of Gibson's grounder. Wallace stepped to the bat and placed a beauty, sending Emmerling home on a jump. Brown knocked one down to Demoos and got first on a fielder's choice, Wallace going out at second. There were two men on bases then and Brown thought he might as well get to second and score a couple if Heckathorn made a single. Ortlieb fooled him when he made the dash by putting the bug on him and retiring the side.

The fourth inning was marked with a goose egg for each team and the fifth resulted likewise for the locals. Niles got one thought. The first two men up singled and after Murphy went out Demoos scored on one more single by Nagel. Things looked a little blue right here with but one man out, one man already over home plate and two on bases, but the next two men up were easy out, and the game to that period was hot enough.

The locals did a little of the run getting in the sixth and gave Niles a whitewash. Gibson started it by reaching first on a foolish play of Murphy. The lanky baseman stood straddle of the bag when he caught the ball and then beefed because the umpire did not call Gibson out. While they were chewing over the decision Wallace got a single and Gibson scored on a nice one made by Brown. As in the third inning the locals had two men on bases and Heckathorn put a damper on all prospects when he hit high into right field. Jarvis gained first at the expense of Brown, who died at second. The inning was ended when Webb chased one down to Demoos.

The long and tiresome seventh was the next period. The ball was started rolling when Jarvis fumbled an easy one. That seemed to get Pitcher Emmerling in the air and the next five men up hit for pretty singles, the most of them being little easy bunts. So confused were the locals that they allowed the same five men to score and two additional ones scored when a like number of singles were added. The locals spruced up a little after the awful drubbing and got a few themselves, but little good it did them. Reark and Emmerling had gone out speedily when George Emmerling walked. Gibson singled and Wallace was allowed first when an attempt was made to get Emmerling, who scored. Brown made his second single and scored two of the runners. It was all off when Heckathorn hit down to Demoos.

The remaining two innings were interesting enough, but the locals could not overcome the terrible lead. The score:

Notes on the Game.

Jarvis must take a back seat now. It might have been just an off day for him, but he looked as though it was due to genuine ignorance and inability.

George Emmerling deserves credit for his game even if he was toyed with in one inning. He will recover some day and will show local pitchers a thing or two.

Ortlieb showed his gameness in the third when Wallace put him out of the business by a terrific grounder. Although he could hardly walk he continued in the game after a short layoff.

Wallace, Brown, Gibson, Webb and all of the rest not mentioned above did work of which they should be proud. Had they been accompanied by seven more real men another victory would have been theirs.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Cy Young, "the old reliable," Boston's crack pitcher, is batting over .300.

The combined salaries of professional ball players in America this year amounts to over $2,000,000, it is said.

George Dixon, the ex-featherweight champion, who has repeatedly stated that he would never fight again, has changed his mind once more and will meet Joe Goodwin.

A. P. McDonald, owner of the fast trotter Major Delmar, does not believe the stallion, mare or gelding lives that can show a pace to his horse, and he has started talk of arranging a race with the champion, Lou Dillon. He says that a mile dash, three in five, or two in three, will suit him, and that he will bet from $5,000 to $20,000 that Delmar will win any sort of a race agreed upon.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

New York, Sept. 3.—Henry Townsend Edson, son of former Mayor Franklin Edson, in his apartments at 292 West Ninety-second street shot and instantly killed Mrs. Fannie Pullen, of 673 West End avenue, and then shot and killed himself. The murder and suicide appear to have been premeditated and followed a dramatic scene, in which Edson called upon Mrs. Pullen, a close and honored friend of his wife and family, to desert her husband and children and fly with him to another state. Mrs. Pullen, a very handsome woman, is said to have been the daughter of a United States naval officer.

The double tragedy brought to the surface the fact that Edson, who was comptroller of St. Michael's Protestant Episcopal church, had been suspected of misappropriating funds belonging to the parish and that expert accountants were at work on his accounts. It was also declared by those related with the family that Edson was financially distressed because of Wall street speculations.

Man Undoubtedly Insane.

Whatever may have ben the precise cause of the tragedy, members of the Edson family insist that the man was insane. There are many indications that Edson was madly in love with Mrs. Pullen. Dr. Peters, of St. Michael's church, who knew the dead man well, is emphatic in his declarations that none but the most honorable relations existed between Edson and Mrs. Pullen. She was, he said, Edson's "friend advisor."

Mrs. Pullen lived with her husband, John F. Pullen, an auditor at the Grand Central station, and her two children, Trafton, 16 years old, and Mary, 14 years old.

The Edsons were to break up their home as a result of ar agreement to sign articles of separation, r ached the night previous. The life of the couple had not been happy. Edson had been acting in a peculiar manner. For that reason furniture movers were in the house packing up furniture and bric-a-brac.

Refused to Elope With Him.

Mrs. Edson spent the night with her friend, Mrs. Pullen. She was about to go out in the morning, when a note came from Edson asking that Mrs. Pullen accompany his wife to where he was. Edson, his wife, Mrs. Pullen and Dr. David O. Edson, a brother of Edson, met in Edson's home. During the conversation in the dining room Edson is said to have turned to Mrs. Pullen and suggested that she leave her home with him and go to some other state where they could be happy. Mrs. Edson was horrified. Mrs. Pullen turned away in disgust. Dr. Edson, after sharply rebuking his brother, left the room with Mrs. Edson, but both returned in a few minutes, when Edson again turned to Mrs. Pullen and began to entreat her to elope with him. Mrs. Pullen, possessed with fear of the man, ran out of the room. Edson, however, seemed to recover his self-possession and all went into the dining room again.

Fleeing Woman Shot Down.

A very few mnutes after Mrs. Edson, who was weak and trembling from the ordeal, was assisted to another room by Dr. Edson. A moment later, according to Woods a furniture man working nearby in the hallway, Edson pulled a revolver from his pocket, and pointing it at Mrs Pullen, shouted: "You must go with me. If you don't elope with me I'll see that you go with me, anyway."

In terror Mrs. Pullen started to run from the room. She had gone but a few steps when four pistol shots rang out in quick succession. The first bullet tore Mrs. Pullen's left cheek and the second entered the right side of her head.

According to Woods, Edson looked at the woman for a moment and then turned the muzzle of the revolver to his own head, firing two shots almost simultaneously. Both entered about the middle of the forehead and he fell, his head striking and resting on the feet of Mrs. Pullen's body.

Troops May Be Ordered Out.

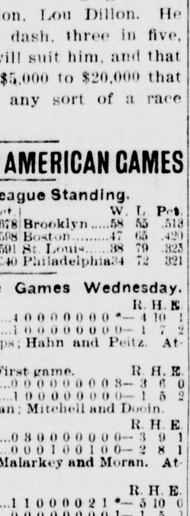
Denver, Sept. 3.—There seems to be a likelihood of the state troops being ordered to Cripple Creek. It is known that large numbers of militiamen have gathered at the armory in this city, and Governor Peabody, Adjutant General Sherman Bell, Attorney General Miller and Judge Maxwell, of the Colorado court of appeals, were in conference several hours.

Deputy Sheriff Assassinated.

Eldorado, Ark., Sept. 3.—Dallas Hunter, a deputy sheriff of this county, was assassinated about four miles west of town while riding from his home to Edorado. Bloodhounds are on the trail of the murderers. It is believed that the killing was the result of an old feud. Hunter having been a close friend of W. P. Lee, who was assassinated in July.

A Strong Man

Is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from indigestion or some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man doesn't feel just right, when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous and irritable, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.



Such a man needs to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, stimulates the liver, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub Station C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 103, writes: "I was taken very sick with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. The more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair and I had given up to die. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Zicle, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repelier, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. SPEAK FROM SAME PLATFORM

W. J. Bryan and John H. Clarke Make Addresses at Fair Grounds. Clarke's Candidacy Accepted.

Columbus, O., Sept. 3.—W. J. Bryan was the guest of the Ohio state board of agriculture and delivered a nonpartisan address at the state fair grounds. John H. Clarke, of Cleveland, endorsed by the Democratic state convention for United States senator, spoke from the same platform. Mr. Bryan left late in the afternoon for Marion, O., where he addressed a Democratic meeting in the evening.

Mr. Bryan issued a statement here accepting John H. Clarke as the Democratic candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Hanna. He says Mr. Clarke differs from the Kansas City platform on one phase of the money question only, viz., metallic money.

Marion, O., Sept. 3.—W. J. Bryan closed his present Ohio tour, addressing an immense audience on the court house grounds in this city. Mr. Bryan was accompanied to Marion by C. C. Fairchild, member of the state committee; former Congressman John J. Lentz, Frank S. Monnett, the Democratic candidate for attorney general, and W. L. Finley, chairman of the Democratic state central committee. Monnett and Lentz followed Bryan in speeches of some length. Immediately after the meeting Bryan left for New York and announced that he would be in Ohio again next month to make a number of speeches in support of the Democratic ticket.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fler stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. CHAPTER XXIV.

OFF TO THE DUNGEON.

THE tableau lasted but a moment. Gabriel advanced a few steps, his eyes gleaming with jealousy and triumph. Before him stood the petrified lovers caught red-handed. Through her dazed brain struggled the conviction that he could never escape. Through his ran the miserable realization that he had ruined her forever. Gabriel of all men!

"I arrive inopportunely," he said harshly, the veins standing out on his neck and temples. "Do I intrude? I was not aware that you expected two, your highness." There was no mistaking his meaning. He viciously sought to convey the impression that he was there by appointment, a clandestine visitor in her apartments at midnight.

"What do you mean by coming to my apartment at this hour?" she stammered, trying to rescue dignity from the chaos of emotions. Lorry was standing slightly to the right and several feet behind her. He understood the prince and quickly sought to interpose with the hope that he might shield her from the sting.

"She did not expect me, sir," he said, and a menacing gleam came to his eyes. His pistol was in his hand. Gabriel saw it, but the staring princess did not. She could not take her eyes from the face of the intruder. "Now, may I ask you why you are here?"

Gabriel's wit saved him from death. He saw that he could not pursue the course he had begun, for there was murder in the American's eye. Like a fox, he swerved and, with a servile promise of submission in his glance, said:

"I thought you were here, my fine fellow, and I came to satisfy myself. Now, sir, may I ask why you are here?" His fingers twitched and his eyes were glassy with the malevolence he was subduing.

"I am here as a prisoner," said Lorry boldly. Gabriel laughed derisively.

"And how often have you come here in this manner as a prisoner? Midnight and alone in the apartments of the princess, the guard dismissed! A prisoner, eh? Ha, what a prison!"

"Stop!" cried Lorry, white to the lips.

The princess was beginning to understand. Her eyes grew wide with horror, her figure straightened imperiously and the white in her cheeks gave way to the red of insulted virtue.

"I see it all! You have not been outside this castle since you left the prison. A pretty scheme! You could not marry him, could you, eh? He is not a prince! But you could bring him here and hide him where no one would dare to think of looking for him—in your apartments"—

With a snarl of rage Lorry sprang upon him, cutting short the sentence that would have gone through her like the keenest knife blade.

"Liar! Dog! I'll kill you for that!" he cried, but before he could clutch the prince's throat Yetive had frantically seized his arm.

"Not that!" she shrieked. "Do not kill him! There must be no murder here!"

He reluctantly hurled Gabriel from him, the prince tottering to his knees in the effort to keep from falling. She had saved her maligner's life, but courage deserted her with the act. Helplessly she looked into the blazing eyes of her lover and faltered:

"I—I do not know what to say or do. My brain is bursting!"

"Courage, courage!" he whispered gently.

"You shall pay for this," shrieked Gabriel. "If you are not a prisoner you shall be. There'll be scandal enough in Graustark tomorrow to start a volcano of wrath from the royal tombs where lie her fathers. I'll see that you are a prisoner!" He started for the door, but Lorry's pistol was leveled at his head.

"If you move, I'll kill you!"

"The world will understand how and why I fell by your hand and in this room. Shoot!" he cried triumphantly. Lorry's hand trembled, and his eyes filled with the tears of impotent rage. The prince held the higher card.

A face suddenly appeared at the door, which had been stealthily opened from without. Captain Quinnox glided into the room behind the prince and gently closed the door, unnoticed by the gloater.

"A prisoner?" sneered Gabriel. "Where is your captor, pray?"

"Here!" answered a voice at his back. The prince wheeled and found himself looking at the stalwart form of the captain of the guard. "I am surely privileged to speak now, your highness," he went on, addressing the princess significantly.

"How came you here?" gasped Gabriel.

"I brought my prisoner here. Where should I be if not here to guard him?"

"When—when did you enter this room?"

"An hour ago."

"You were not here when I came!"

"I have been standing on this spot for an hour. You have been very much excited, I'll agree, but it is strange you did not see me," lied Quinnox.

Gabriel looked about helplessly, nonplused.

"You were here when I came in?" he asked wonderingly.

"Ask her royal highness," commanded the captain, smiling.

"Captain Quinnox brought the prisoner to me an hour ago," she said mechanically.

"It is a lie!" cried Gabriel. "He was not here when I entered!"

The captain of the guard laid a heavy hand on the shoulder of the prince and said threateningly:

"I was here, and I am here. Have a care how you speak. Were I to do right I should shoot you like a dog. You came like a thief, you insult the ruler of my land. I have borne it all because you are a prince, but have a care—have a care. I may forget myself and tear out your black heart with these hands. One word from her royal highness will be your death warrant."

He looked inquiringly at the princess as if anxious to put the dangerous witness where he could tell no tales. She shook her head, but did not speak. Lorry realized that the time had come for him to assert himself. Assuming a distressed air, he bowed his head and said dejectedly:

"My pleading has been in vain, then, your highness. I have sworn to you that I am innocent of this murder, and you have said I shall have a fair trial. That is all you can offer?"

"That is all," she said shrilly, her mind gradually grasping his meaning.

"You will not punish the poor people who secreted me in their house for weeks, for they are convinced of my innocence. Your captain here, who found me in their house tonight, can also speak well of them. I have only this request to make in return for what little service I may have given you: Forgive the old people who befriended me. I am ready to go to the tower at once, captain."

Gabriel heard this speech with a skeptical smile on his face.

"I am no fool," he said simply. "Captain," shrewdly turning to Quinnox, "if he is your prisoner, why do you permit him to retain his revolver?"

The conspirators were taken by surprise, but Lorry had found his wits.

"It is folly, your highness, to allow this gentleman and conquering prince to cross examine you. I am a prisoner, and that is the end of it. What odds is it to the Prince of Dawsbergen how and where I was caught or why your officer brought me to you?"

"You were ordered from my house once today, yet you come again like a conqueror. I should not spare you. You deserve to lose your life for the actions of tonight. Captain Quinnox, will you kill him if I ask you to end his wretched life?" Yetive's eyes were blazing with wrath, beneath which gleamed a hope that he could be frightened into silence.

"Willingly—willingly!" cried Quinnox. "Now, your highness? 'Twere better in the hall!"

"For God's sake, do not murder me! Let me go!" cringed the prince.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fier stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naïvely calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. "I am no fool," he said simply. "Captain," shrewdly turning to Quinnox, "if he is your prisoner, why do you permit him to retain his revolver?"

The conspirators were taken by surprise, but Lorry had found his wits.

"It is folly, your highness, to allow this gentleman and conquering prince to cross examine you. I am a prisoner, and that is the end of it. What odds is it to the Prince of Dawsbergen how and where I was caught or why your officer brought me to you?"

"You were ordered from my house once today, yet you come again like a conqueror. I should not spare you. You deserve to lose your life for the actions of tonight. Captain Quinnox, will you kill him if I ask you to end his wretched life?" Yetive's eyes were blazing with wrath, beneath which gleamed a hope that he could be frightened into silence.

"Willingly—willingly!" cried Quinnox. "Now, your highness? 'Twere better in the hall!"

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

New Car Running—There is a new car on the Calcutta road line. It is like the new cars that run to Wellsville, and is painted red.

Recent Births—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Stewart, Trentvale street, a 12-pound boy. To Mr. and Mrs. Moses Marks, of Rural lane, a daughter.

Struck By a Potato — Dr. W. N. Bailey was struck in the face by a potato last night and sustained several painful cuts. The missile was thrown by a small boy and struck Dr. Bailey's eye glasses, breaking them, several of the pieces inflicting small cuts.

No Suit Brought — Rinehart Bros. state that they have brought no suit against the city of Wellsville for money due them on street contracts. As the city council has twice voted them the amount claimed, they believe the bill will be paid without a suit.

To Organize a Loval—President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., left on an afternoon train for Salineville, where he will organize a local union of the Brotherhood among the operatives of that city. He expects to return tomorrow.

Miss Shaffer Gets the Watch — The case of Miss Minnie Shaffer against Newton Croxall, which was instituted in the office of 'Squire Rose for the purpose of getting the watch that Croxall stole from her several years ago, was set for a hearing this morning. The defendant, however, did not appear and the watch was turned over to Miss Shaffer.

HIS HAND CAUGHT AND BADLY MANGLED

David Jackson Badly Hurt While Trying to Regulate a Threshing Machine.

As a result of injuries received yesterday afternoon while adjusting the gearing of a threshing machine, David Jackson, part owner of the machine, may lose his right hand. The threshers were engaged at the farm of James Allison, southeast of Chester, when the accident happened, and though the machinery was not immediately stopped, no one was to blame.

Jackson was attracted by the peculiar sound of the machine to the riddles, which were not working right. He was reaching underneath the machine and had adjusted several parts of the riddles when the fingers of his right hand were caught in the auger shaped arrangement which carries the grain from the machine, and the arm was drawn in. Johnny Lincoln Allison, who acts as engineer, was some distance away at the time, and did not immediately reach the engine to turn off the steam. When he finally did so Jackson's hand had been terribly lacerated, and it was released with some difficulty.

Steps were at once taken to stop the flow of blood, and arrangements made to take the man to a physician. Little time was lost in driving him to the office of Dr. G. E. Lewis, where the injuries were dressed. It could not be told at the time just how badly the hand had been injured, but it is thought with careful nursing the member can be saved. Blood poisoning is feared, however, on account of the peculiar nature of the wounds, and in that event amputation will be absolutely necessary.

An Injunction Case Argued.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Attorney Charles S. Speaker returned last evening from Ravenna, where the injunction case of Mrs. C. Deemer, of Columbiana, vs. the First National bank, of Columbiana, was argued before Judge Robinson. A decision is expected early next week.

Notice to Coopers.

Evangelistic Services to Begin Sunday and Continue Two Weeks.

Evangelistic meetings begin next Sunday at a tent at the lower end of Fifth street and will continue until September 20 and perhaps longer. The speakers will be Rev. B. S. Taylor, of Moores, N. The tent is being erected today and the evangelists will arrive on Saturday. They come on the invitation of the Broadway Mission. The services will be inter-denominational and everybody will be welcome.

A SALOON ROBBED

Zip Farmer's Arrest Follows And He Will Probably Go to County Jail.

"Zip" Farmer has got his foot in it again. This time he will likely get a trip to the county jail. He was arrested last night by Officers Saulsberry and Dawson on a charge of stealing a box of cigars, five bottles of whisky and a comb from the saloon of Stella Mears.

The mayor has not decided what to do with the incorrigible little fellow, but will probably give him a stiff sentence.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick, of Leetonia, Complete 50 Years of Married Life.

Leetonia, September 3.—(Special)—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick was celebrated Monday at their home just north of here. Relatives and friends from Warren, Columbiana, New Waterford, Warsaw, Ind., Atkins, Iowa, and other places were present to congratulate the old and happy couple who had spent a half century of wedded bliss. One of the features of the day was the re-marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick. This ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by Rev. G. W. Dunlap, of Washingtonville. The latter read from the scripture and spoke of the joys and sorrows of life and congratulated the husband and wife who had lived so long with each other.

George Frederick and Miss Sarah Bates were married in Washingtonville on September 1, 1853. All their life has been spent in this vicinity and they are well and favorably known. Many handsome and appropriate presents were given.

CRAFTON - SHAW

Wedding of Two Popular Young People at St. Aloysius' Church This Morning.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Crafton and Thomas Shaw was solemnized this morning at St. Aloysius' church, Rev. Father T. J. Mahon officiating. The ceremony was simply but beautiful, and was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends. The bride wore a modish gown of gray silk lansdowne with trimmings of silk applique and steel gray velvet ribbons. She wore a large white hat and carrier bride's roses of the same color. Mrs. Walter Milliner, a sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor, and wore a becoming costume of blue satin fouiard, and also carried a bouquet of roses. John Grafton, a brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have many friends here who will extend to them best wishes for future happiness.

LIEBTAG--NAGLE

Wellsville Young Lady and East Liverpool Business Man Married This Morning.

At the Immaculate Conception church in Wellsville this morning at 8 o'clock occurred the wedding of Miss May Liebtag, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Liebtag, of Wellsville, and Mr. John C. Nagle, a well known plumber of East Liverpool, a partner in the firm of Nagle Bros.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Daniel B. Crotty, rector of the church, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Nagle, a sister of the groom, and Emmet Liebtag, a brother of the bride, acted as best man.

After the ceremony, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Liebtag, on Main street, a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. The house was handsomely decorated. The happy couple left on the noon train for the east. They will first go to New York city, where they hope to arrive in time to view the yacht race. They will visit other cities, including Atlantic City, and return in two weeks. They will reside for the present at the Liebtag home.

Lutheran League Reception.

The members of the Luther League of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church last evening were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Woessner, in the West End. The reception was one of the most enjoyable functions ever tendered the society. There were about 30 present and the evening passed rapidly in entertaining games. The first prize was awarded to Henry Schreiber. Delightful refreshments were served at a late hour by Mrs. Woessner, Mrs. Luther Gilbert and Miss Celia Auberger.

Two Couples Wedded.

Miss Lillian P. Lones, of this city, was married yesterday to John P. Reynolds, of Mt. Washington, Pa. The ceremony was performed by Justice McLane at his office.

David C. Kerr, of Chester, and Miss Pearl Ross, of this city, were married yesterday by Justice McLane at his office in the presence of a few friends. The young couple have many friends who will hasten to extend congratulations. They will live in Chester.

St. Stephen's Choir Outing.

The choir of St. Stephen's church tomorrow will enjoy its annual outing at Neal's Station, a short distance above Smith's Ferry. There are about 20 in the party who will leave in the morning at 10 o'clock and return late in the evening. The trip will be made in hacks, and an enjoyable day's outing is anticipated.

Three Arrests Ordered.

Warrants were issued by Mayor Weavtr this afternoon as follows: Stephen Brothers, charged with assaulting a street employe; Mrs. Knocky Smith, assaulting Mrs. Stodds; John Stoffel, assaulting a small boy. The warrants will be served before night falls.

Now For a Rousing September Business.

September is not the busiest month of the year in the Dry Goods Store, neither is it the dullest business month by any means. Two factors figure in making September a busy month, as well as very interesting and profitable to shoppers, viz: the advance showing of new Autumn Goods in every dept, and a complete clearance of all Summer Goods, at such low prices, rather than carry them over, that it is a big investment to buy now and carry them until next season.

Advance Showing of

New Autumn Dress Goods, New Waistings, Ladies' Tailored Suits, Misses' Tailored Suits, New Silk Waists, Ladies' and Misses' Separate Skirts, Ladies' Wash Waists, New Neckwear, New Veilings, New Vestings, New Table Linens, New Lace Curtains.

HIS HAND CAUGHT AND BADLY MANGLED

As a result of injuries received yesterday afternoon while adjusting the gearing of a threshing machine, David Jackson, part owner of the machine, may lose his right hand. The threshers were engaged at the farm of James Allison, southeast of Chester, when the accident happened, and though the machinery was not immediately stopped, no one was to blame.

Jackson was attracted by the peculiar sound of the machine to the riddles, which were not working right. He was reaching underneath the machine and had adjusted several parts of the riddles when the fingers of his right hand were caught in the auger shaped arrangement which carries the grain from the machine, and the arm was drawn in. Johnny Lincoln Allison, who acts as engineer, was some distance away at the time, and did not immediately reach the engine to turn off the steam. When he finally did so Jackson's hand had been terribly lacerated, and it was released with some difficulty.

Steps were at once taken to stop the flow of blood, and arrangements made to take the man to a physician. Little time was lost in driving him to the office of Dr. G. E. Lewis, where the injuries were dressed. It could not be told at the time just how badly the hand had been injured, but it is thought with careful nursing the member can be saved. Blood poisoning is feared, however, on account of the peculiar nature of the wounds, and in that event amputation will be absolutely necessary.

Zip Farmer's Arrest Follows And He Will Probably Go to County Jail.

"Zip" Farmer has got his foot in it again. This time he will likely get a trip to the county jail. He was arrested last night by Officers Saulsberry and Dawson on a charge of stealing a box of cigars, five bottles of whisky and a comb from the saloon of Stella Mears.

The mayor has not decided what to do with the incorrigible little fellow, but will probably give him a stiff sentence.

STATE LAW FOR THE ACTION UNDERTAKEN

A special order of business was created by Trades Council last night in order to permit the gas question to be disposed of. A report was made by a member of the legislative committee of the progress made in the movement since the last meeting of the council, and acquainted the body with the request made by City Solicitor Davidson that a plaintiff be furnished in each of two cases to be brought against the gas companies.

The two volunteers were quickly secured in the persons of John R. Rearl, who will act in the case against the Ohio Valley, and Thos. C. Neal's name will be used in connection with the petition against the Tri-State company. The men went at once to the office of Solicitor George E. Davidson, where the papers were signed and in a few minutes were ready to be filed with the court. Mr. Davidson took the documents to Wellsville last night and they were placed in the hands of Solicitor Charles Boyd, who has been instructed to take the same action in behalf of Wellsville. Mr. Boyd left early this morning for Lisbon and the petitions were filed before noon.

The section of the revised statutes, referred to in the petitions, giving councils the right to regulate the price of natural gas is as follows:

"The council of any city or village in which electric lighting companies, natural or artificial gas companies, or gas light or coke companies, may be established, or to which their wires, mains or pipes may be conducted, are hereby empowered to regulate, from time to time, the price which said electric lighting, natural or artificial gas or gas light and coke companies may charge for electric lights or for gas for lighting or fuel purposes, furnished by such companies to the citizens, public grounds and buildings, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues, wharves and landing places; and such electric lighting, natural or artificial gas or gas light and coke companies shall in no event charge more for any electric light or natural or artificial gas furnished to such corporation or individuals than the price specified by ordinance of such council; and such council shall also have power to regulate and fix the price which such companies shall charge for the rent of their meters."

It was learned yesterday that Judge W. W. Hole was out of the county, and it was then decided to go before Judge Ralph S. Ambler, of Canton. He, too, was absent from home, and the only thing left for the attorneys to do was to go before Judge George F. Robinson at Ravenna. All arrangements have been made for the trip to the latter city tomorrow and it is likely a decision can be secured within a few hours after a hearing is had.

The two petitions are identical with the exceptions of the name of plaintiff and defendant and the location of the

FINAL ARRANGEMENES ARE PERFECTED

Everything Now in Readiness for the Great Labor Day Parade.

The final meeting of the Labor Day committee was held last night at the close of the session of trades council.

Badges which will be worn in the parade in the morning were distributed among the locals through their delegates, and it was found there will be an abundance to go the whole way round.

Chief Marshal Beatty has called a meeting of the division commanders, aides and captains to be held Saturday evening at Brotherhood hall. At that time the duties of each individual will be outlined, and if they are carried out there will be no hitch. It is thought the arrangements now nearing completion are as near perfection as they can be made, so far as the parade is concerned, and after Saturday evening's meeting nothing will have been neglected, and it will be up to the locals to turn out to the man.

WARRANT ISSUED TO THWART CUPID

GIRL'S FAMILY TROUBLED

Feeling that the marriage of Miss Clara Bowman to an ex-convict, whose reputation has further suffered in the minds of people knowing him during the past week owing to actions reported fully in the News Review, would place a stigma on their names that could never be blotted, Mrs. D. T. Bowman, mother of the girl, and several of her brothers appeared at central station and pleaded that something be done to prevent the ceremony that would make the girl the wife of Newton Croxall.

Pity was elicited for the mother and brothers by the statement of the former to the mayor and chief of police. Mrs. Bowman and her sons are long residents of the city and have the highest respect of everyone of their acquaintance. They have known for years that young Croxall had an almost uncontrollable influence over the girl and all of them have protested vigorously against her companionship with him. It seems that Croxall and the girl have been lovers for years, a cell mate of Croxall stating that Croxall received letters from the girl throughout his incarceration in the state prison. The informant also says that the girl would invariably write of the objections of her mother and brothers to her corresponding with Croxall.

Upon Croxall's return from the penitentiary, it is said that he continued the courtship with Miss Bowman, against the wishes of her family. According to Mrs. Bowman he told her daughter that if any of the family interfered with him in his wooing that he would shoot them. And it was on this threat together with several others that Mrs. Bowman hoped to hold Croxall and delay the marriage. She said that the couple intended to leave

If the Matter Complained of Is Not Remedied — Tanyard Run Storm Sewer the Subject of a Legal Decision by Solicitor Davidson.

"The Board of Health versus the Board of Education," will be the title of a suit of much general interest, providing that the latter body does not abate an alleged nuisance, said by the board of health to be in existence, owing to negligence on the part of the defendants in the case. At the meeting of the board of health last evening it was unanimously decided that the sanitary sewer of the McKinley school building is emptying into the Tanyard run storm sewer, and it being the general belief of the board that numerous sanitary connections are being made with the storm sewer, it was decided to take action against the board of education, making it the defendant in a test case, which will decide permanently whether or not anyone has the right to connect to the storm sewer.

It will be remembered that the question has been before the board of public service and the board of health for months and that both bodies have talked almost incessantly regarding it. It was decided some time ago that the nuisance must be abated, and to find just what authority the board of health has in such a case the opinion of the city solicitor was requested. This opinion was prepared by the solicitor and read to the board last evening. The board, after discovering that it was all powerful, drafted a resolution ordering the board of education to abate the nuisance in question and instructed the clerk to notify the members of that board unless the order is complied with as soon as possible after September 8, the date of the opening of the city schools, steps will be taken to prosecute them. The opinion of the solicitor, which will apply to every person who has a sanitary sewer connected to the storm sewer, is as follows:

"Under section 2122 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio, it is the duty of the board of health to abate and remove all nuisances within said board's jurisdiction and it may compel the owners, agents, assignees, occupants or tenants of any property to abate and remove said nuisance. The board may treat the neglect or refusal to obey orders for such purpose as a misdemeanor punishable by fine as provided by its rules or by ordinances. Whenever the board of health knows that a nuisance exists it shall pass a resolution describing the nuisance and the premises on which it exists and by said resolution shall order the nuisance to be abated. A copy of the resolution should be then served upon the property owner, and said notice should order the owner or occupant to abate the nuisance within a specified time.

"If the said notice or order is neglected or disregarded then the board may, under section 2123, Revised Stat-

Alleges That Her Husband Kicked and Abused Her and Then Deserted Her.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Mrs. Amelia Knopp, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from Abraham Knopp, whose place of residence is unknown. The petition states that they were married at Salem, in September, 1899, and have had no children.

Mrs. Knopp charges that her husband, although fully able to do so, has wholly failed to provide for her since a short time after their marriage. On November 25, 1901, she says, her husband was guilty of extreme cruelty, kicking and otherwise shamefully maltreating her. Ever since that time, she says, he has refused to speak to her except in terms of abuse, and finally abandoned her August 25, 1902. She asks that with the divorce her maiden name, Amelia Mellinger, may be restored.

Prompt Action of Street Car Men Averted a Tragedy in the Diamond.

GREAT ELECTRIC DISPLAY

But for the prompt and heroic action of an employe of the East Liverpool railway in the Diamond last evening, a score of people would have been killed and many more so badly shocked as to render their recovery doubtful.

Conductor Jesse Todd and Motorman Ralph Herdman were in charge of car No. 24 which was the cause of all the trouble. At 8 o'clock the car approached the Diamond from the west, and as it turned off of Sixth street into the Diamond the trolley came off. The pole hit a guy wire with considerable force, breaking it loose from the pole to which it was attached. The absence of the guy caused the several trolley and span wires running about in that particular district to become misplaced. So strong was the tension that the span wire leading to the Southside line, near the Larkins' drug store, was unable to withstand the strain, and was severed at the outer end, falling to the track directly beneath the main trolley wire.

In an instant there was produced one of the most beautiful electrical displays ever witnessed by the large crowd of spectators. The span wire was in a white heat the moment it touched the rail, and then occurred the very thing which has caused so many hundreds of indiscreet people to lose their lives. When the trouble began a large crowd gathered, and it was added to every minute until there were perhaps 300 curious ones to jostle and push for the front rank. Every one rushed to the middle of the street and only escaped coming in contact with the heavily charged objects by the quick work of Jeff Crawford, an employe of the road, who grabbed a broom from car No. 24 and with considerable difficulty succeeded in making his way through the crowd. He very carefully removed the broken wire from the track just as a surrey containing two men and a lady drove onto the track from the direction of Broadway. They proved to be Miss Rest Humrickhouse, C. H. Murphy and Thomas Kruger. The party had a narrow escape.

The car on the Pleasant Heights extension arrived at this juncture and Conductor R. Donaldson and Motorman J. D. Byers took in the situation at a glance. Without stopping the car at all they hastily ran through the Diamond and under the broken span. Both men cautiously made their way to the roof of the car and securing the end of the wire, severed it close up to the pole. When the danger was past the crowd fell back, not realizing perhaps what a narrow escape they had. The presence of mind and promptness displayed by the employes of the railway undoubtedly prevented a terrible catastrophe.

PHONES TO BE GIVEN UP IF RATES ARE ADVANCED

The patrons of the Columbiana County Telephone company in this city are up against the same proposition that confronts Salem patrons, and methods just as strenuous as those used at Salem are to be carried out locally. Customers of the telephone company received notice yesterday that the rates are to be increased at the end of the present quarter to the amount of $6 per month on each telephone, business and residence.

Hardly had the notice been received by the several hundred subscribers in the city until a movement was started which will either defeat the company in its endeavor or will cause it to lose the patronage of every customer within the limits of the city. The movement was instituted by the Business Men's association, which has decided unanimously to refuse to sign any contract for an increased rate and if the company insists that the proposed contract be complied with every member of the association will at once order his telephone removed. This plan, it is believed by the association, will have the desired effect, and it is not likely that the courts will be applied to.

A meeting of the Business Men's association will be called for a date not far off. Members of the association could not state today the exact date, but they gave the assurance that their proposed action will be taken within four days. Not alone are the members of this association indignant at the proposition of the telephone company, every subscriber in the city being up in arms, and among them the members of the city council. One member of that body stated this morning that he would certainly sanction the proposed action of the business men and that whether or not they take out their telephones he will do so.

According to the notice received by the customers in the city the following rates are to be asked, contracts to be presented for signature in 30 days from the date of notification:

	Local rate.		Co. rate.
	Bus.	Res.	Bus.	Res.
2-party line	24	18	30	24
3-party line		15
4-party line		12

It will be noted that the rates as above quoted demand that subscribers shall pay an increase of $6 per month on all telephones. The ordinances granted the company by the city council April 25, 1899, is prohibitory against the increase and the fight against the proposition can be waged on it if thought advisable. The section of the ordinance pertaining to the price to be charged is as follows:

"Be it further ordained that said Solon C. Thayer and his associates, successors or assigns be and he is hereby limited in the price to be charged for exchange service within the corporate limits of said city of East Liverpool under the powers herein granted, as follows, towit: The charge per residence service shall not exceed $18 per annum, payable quarterly in advance, and the charge for business service shall not exceed $24 per annum, payable quarterly in advance."

Speakers Will Include Foraker, Hanna, Herrick and Harding—Gov. Nash to Preside.

Columbus, September 3.—(Special)—The Republican campaign will open at Chillicothe on Saturday, September 19. This was decided upon at a meeting of the state executive committee held in this city yesterday. Governor Nash will preside and the speakers will be Senators Foraker and Hanna, Colonel Myron T. Herrick and Hon. W. G. Harding. While Columbus, Canton, Warren, Marion and Lima were applicants for the opening, Columbus, Chillicothe and Mansfield were the towns which extended formal invitations. Senator Sam L. Patterson presented the claims of Chillicothe, which city was selected by a unanimous vote of the committee.

The Republican state central committee met and nominated George L. Watkins, of Waverly, Republican nominee for the full term of member of the state board of publis works, for the short term to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late C. A. Goddard, president of the board.

Chairman Dick says that the fight will center upon the legislature and not upon the state ticket. He says that organizations have been perfected by the Republicans in 50 of the 88 counties; that the Republicans have made nominations in 25 of the 33 senatorial districts, and that 87 of the 110 candidates for representative have been nominated. The work has progressed to a more advanced point at this time than it has ever done before under the management and direction of the present chairman and secretary.

Craig's New Job.

Charles Craig, official scorer for the Carroll club ball team, has accepted a position at one of the Rock Springs refreshment stands. He will continue his work as scorer, however, until the end of the season.

J. J. Kerr An Editor.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—John J. Kerr, an East Liverpool attorney, has purchased of W. S. Potts, a half interest in the Ohio Patriot. Mr. Kerr will come here at once to assume his duties as associate editor.

BOARD OF HEALTH HAD BUSY SESSION

Numerous Bills Paid And Other Matters of Interest Were Discussed.

The board of health transacted considerable business at the special meeting held last evening and for the first time in many months the entire completment of the board was present. Mayor Weaver presided and conducted the session in a manner that allowed adjournment before 9 o'clock.

Numerous bills of minor value were presented and the most of them were ordered paid. Bills amounting to $119.98 were passed without a word. This amount includes the salaries of the officials under the supervision of the board.

When the printing bills ordered by council several weeks ago, amounting to $8.40, were presented the board thought them to be under council's jurisdiction and ordered the clerk to return them to that body. The bill of $3.19, contracted for the purchase of medicine for John Cravenna, was turned over to the township trustees.

Clerk Herbert was instructed to submit he money he had received from milk licenses, $16, to the treasurer. After numerous other petty matters were talked of the board adjourned to meet some evening next week.

YOUNG WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

GIRL OF 19 SHOOTS HERSELF AT COLUMBIANA.

The Result Is Likely to Be Fatal—Her Record Not a Spotless One.

Columbiana, September 3.—(Special)—Sadie Huddleston, a 19-year-old girl, shot herself yesterday afternoon in the right breast with a 32-calibre revolver, at the home of Grant Wilt. Whether the shooting was accidental or with suicidal intent is not known for a certainty.

The bullet entered two inches above the nipple on the left breast. It was extracted by Drs. McIntyre, Tallmadge and Bookwalter. The result may be fatal, as it looks as if there would be an internal hemorrhage.

She has been living at the home of Grant Wilt, a colored man, and is said to have been engaged to marry Charles, his brother. She is a white girl. She has been arrested a number of times for intoxication.

The Youngstown & Southern Pays a Big Round Sum For 1,000 Acres of Valuable Coal Land Near West Point.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—The magnitude of the recent coal deal effected at West Point by the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company has just come to light. It involves a deal for 1,000 acres, including both the land and coal rights, and the price, as near as can be learned, is in the neighborhood of $45,000. As has already been reported in the News Review, the first payment on this land, $10,000, has already been made. The balance is to be paid at the rate of $5,000 per month until all has been paid.

The land is considered the most valuable mineral land in the vicinity of West Point. Some years ago the Beaver company was organized and purchased it outright. The Beaver company is composed of George B. Harvey, Lisbon; J. H. French, Salem; W. K. George, West Point; William McLane, West Point; ex-County Treasurer Charles E. Smith, Columbiana, and C. C. Baker, Alliance.

As is well known, the Youngstown & Southern proposes to make coal mining an important feature of its business, and after eastern capitalists interested in the road had been over the ground and an exceedingly favorable report had been received from the state mine inspector on the value of the West Point coal fields, the railroad company made an offer to the Beaver company which accepted. There is great rejoicing among the owners of farms and coal lands in the vicinity of West Point who have been waiting for years to see that coal field developed.

Former Partner of the Late T. T. Hamilton, of Wellsville, Makes a Demand.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Twenty-five witnesses are here to testify in a hearing in probate court today, in the matter of Thomas T. Hamilton and A. D. Matteson, lately partners under the firm name of the Hamilton Prescription Pharmacy, which was in business in Wellsville.

Mr. Hamilton died July 4 and Lizzie Hamilton was appointed administratrix of his estate. A. D. Matteson, the surviving partner, now claims to own a half interest in the establishment and asks the court to appoint as appraisers T. A. McIntosh, A. Brannan and Edward Satow.

Surplus in Treasury.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—At a meeting of the officers and executive committee of the Columbiana County Harvest Home Picnic association held at Shelton's grove, the treasurer made a report showing a small surplus in the treasury and all the expenses of this year's picnic are paid. The president, George W. Armstrong, was appointed to try to secure better accommodations from the Erie Railroad company and the secretary, J. R. Stratton, was appointed to secure speakers.

THE BONDS NOT READY.

Purchasers Fail to Communicate With the Printers in the Matter.

Notwithstanding that the J. R. Williams company, of Pittsburg, the concern that purchased the $92,925 worth of bonds from the city at a premium of $200, asked for the bonds by Wednesday, no word was received by the printing establishment as to how they should be made yesterday and the company has not received the bonds yet.

A member of the company telephoned City Auditor Davidson last evening that he would send his attorney to the city to instruct the printer, and that he was not in a very great hurry to get hold of the bonds.

Hollenden Won.

The Hollenden and Belmont teams played another game at Rock Springs park yesterday afternoon, the Hollendens winning by a score of 14 to 10. The Hollenden battery was Andersoy and Rigby and the Belmont, Russell and Firth.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The fifth annual meeting of the American Ceramic society, held at Zanesville last week, beginning on Wednesday and ending Friday evening, was a success from every standpoint. There were scores of interested pottery manufacturers present and they all profited much by the discussion of many important subjects.

The reception committee, composed of Zanesville members, spared no time and labor in arranging for the pleasure of the members of the society. Every train was met by this committee and upon the arrival of a member he was given a hearty welcome and at once taken to the convention hall, which was located in the Builders' exchange.

The first meeting of the society was very brief, the time being devoted to the business of minor importance that had accumulated during the past year. This session was followed by an informal social time, in which every one derived great pleasure. The society assembled the next morning at 9 o'clock, and under the guidance of a committee the entire body visited the American Encaustic Tile company's plant at the north end of the city. This plant is one of the largest and most flourishing of its kind in the world and three hours were required to give it an inspection. The products of the plant comprise encaustic floor tiles, all sizes from Mosaic up, and glazed and decorated wall tiles in every degree of ornamentation. This pleasureable visit ended, the body adjourned to lunch, after which the north plant of the Roseville Pottery company was inspected. Many things of interest to all were seen in this plant in which are manufactured a line of single fire specialties, a line of jardineres and pedestals in white body with blended colored glazes, a line of underglaze art ware, decorated in slip on blended backgrounds, and a line of overglaze jardinieres and vases.

A boat ride on the Muskingum was the next thing on the program of Thursday. The beautiful little pleasure launch "Outing" conveyed the crowd on the trip. The party left Zanesville at 7:30 a. m. Friday on a special train provided by the C. & M. V. railway for Crooksville, where the day was spent in the inspection of the coal mines of the Zanesville Coal company, the pottery of the Star Stoneware company, the plant of the Crooksville China company, the Roseville Brick & Terra Cotta company's plant and the plant of the Ohio Pressed Brick company.

The concluding session of the society was held Friday evening. Routine business was disposed of with despatch, the greater part of the time being devoted to social pleasure and the informal discussion of tecnnical topics suggested by the two days' sight seeing.

It was unanimously decided to hold the next meeting at St. Louis. Ten new names were added to the roll of the society at the meeting. John Sant, of this city, was in attendance.

LOST FOR YEARS.

A Boston art collector has just started on a long and costly search for an ancient and valuable Japanese vase for which J. Pierpont Morgan is willing to pay $400,000. The vase is a massive affair of solid gold, designed and wrought by Hidari Jingoro for Emperor Yoshimitsu. It was intended for the palace of Muromachu, and has been lost to the world since Yoshimitsu precipitated Japan into civil strife.

POTTERY NOTES.

The sprinkler system for fire protection will be installed at the Colonial.

The trouble at the Stern plant, Cincinnati, has been adjusted and the men are working again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Veith have returned from Niagara Falls and other places of interest in the east.

McNicol's is having a fine run and the plant is operating in full with a steady demand for all the ware they can make. The business this year by this firm promises to be greater than last year.

Henry Bren, formerly of Wheeling, is endeavoring to interest Huntington capitalists in a pottery plant.

The Sevres has been particularly rushed in the decorating department, several large decalcomania orders necessitating the addition of several gilders to the present force.

Tired

No Sleep for Weeks Nervous, Weak.

Surgical Operation Wrecked My Nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Restored My Health.

"A few years ago I had to submit to a surgical operation which caused me severe spinal trouble. After treatment I could not gain strength because of extreme nervousness. I took everything I could hear of that was supposed to be good for my trouble but all in vain. I had not had a night's sleep in weeks, when one day one of your circulars was thrown into our yard and after reading what your Nervine had done for others, I resolved to try it. The second night after taking it I slept soundly for the first time in many months and after taking a few bottles I was completely cured. I also used the Nerve Plaster for backache with very gratifying results. I shall always be grateful for the benefits received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies."—Mrs. C. W. Beaman, Savannah, Mo.

"I wish to thank you for the good your medicine has done me. It has almost worked wonders in my case. I was subject to nervous headaches for a period of thirty years. I had doctored with several doctors and had taken a number of different kinds of patent medicines, all to no avail. I was discouraged for I could not get permanent relief. At last I began a trial of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills. I am now completely cured and words cannot express my thankfulness to you and your medicine. If any one wishes to write to me personally I will gladly answer their letters."—J. W. Brant, Ingrahm, Ills.

A CASE OF ILLNESS SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

Jessie Blankensop Had Been Doped and Told Conflicting Stories at Alliance.

Alliance, September 3.—A case of illness which is shrouded in much mystery and covered with an impenetrable veil of secrecy is reported here.

Railroad Policeman Joseph Wier on going to the Union depot discovered a woman lying on a seat in the ladies' waiting room apparently in the throes of death. Going to her side he tried to arouse the woman from the stupor and wring from her the nature of her illness, and proffer her the assistance of a physician.

For more than one hour Wier vainly kept up his effort to extract from the girl her name, and place of residence, thinking that if successful her friends could be notified of her condition and could come to her assistance. She was neatly but not gaudily clad, of good appearance, and robust form and pleasing features. After almost two hours of futile efforts the girl regained consciousness and awoke from her stupor and said her name was Jessie Blankensop and that she came to Alliance from Salineville on train 301 which arrived in Alliance at 2:40 in the morning. As soon as she arrived in the city she sought the waiting room and became violently ill. She stated that since Saturday she had been in the company of two men, whose names she refused to disclose, and they had given her some decoction, the nature of which she did not know, which had made her exceedingly ill.

It was thought best to remove the woman to the city hospital and the ambulance was called and tender hands lifted her into the van which bore her to the institution of charity and Dr. Tressel summoned. Later the girl stated that she was 21 years old and told conflicting stories in regard to her home. She stated she came from Kensington and also from New Brighton, that her mother lived in New Castle, and that she was on her way to Pittsburg. It was evident that Jessie was endeavoring to conceal her identity and that she was adroitly covering up the nature of her ailment.

Later advices are that Jessie Blankensop boarded the train at East Liverpool with a ticket for Salineville. She did not stop at the latter town, but continued on the train until she reached Alliance.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

LONG SESSION OF TRADES COUNCIL

Matters of Moment to Labor Unionists Engaged Members' Attention.

Being the last meeting before the Labor day demonstration, the regular session of Trades Council held last evening was an unusually busy one, and lasted until a late hour.

The new delegates seated were Electrical workers No. 93, Daniel Dixon, Samuel Cowles; Street Railway No. 52, W. S. Rauch; Printers No. 19, Edward L. Hatten.

A communication was received from the Central Federated union of New York, asking aid in behalf of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' union of that city, which organization is in the midst of a bitter fight for recognition. The letter was ordered filed. It will be further discussed at the next meeting, when it can be given more time.

President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in a lengthy circular, outlined the action of the executive board of that organization in the dispute over jurisdiction between the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Amalgamated Wood Workers' International union. The communication was a lengthy one and was ordered filed.

The corresponding secretary was ordered to address a letter petitioning President Roosevelt, in the name of the Trades Council, to reconsider his determination to retain in his position one W. A. Miller as an employe of the government printing office. Miller has been proven guilty of conduct unbecoming a unionist, and his retirement has been demanded to promote the efficiency of the service.

The attention of the body was called to the fact that the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor would be held in Findlay beginning October 6. Some action will be taken at the next meeting.

A communication was received from the Master Plumbers' association of the city, asking that some action be taken in the strike among their employes, which has been in progress for several months. As the delegates from the plumbers' union also desired that the council interest itself in the matter, and so requested last evening, the dispute was placed in the hands of the grievance committee. It was announced that the committee, which should consist of five members, was not full, needing two additional men, the president appointed Edward L. Hatton and Stephen Hague to fill the vacancies. The committee will meet on Friday evening, and the parties interested are hoping the difficulties may be quickly adjusted.

Representatives of the Steam Engineers' International union reported that every effort had been made to bring about a settlement in their controversy with the Potters' association in which they aimed to have their union recognized and a scale of prices signed. A conference had been held, they said, but the manufacturers refused to accede to the demands. The grievance committee will also look after this matter.

The dispute of long standing between the coopers' union and the firm of E. O. Walters was reported to be as far from a settlement as ever, and after a discussion of considerable length plans were decided upon which may result in a settlement.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches or other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You get this reliable remedy at

FAMINE THREATENED

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 3.—The report published by the Dnevnik of a general uprising in Northern Macedonia is denied both in official and revolutionary circles. Well-informed persons, however, assert that the report was correct, but that its premature publication disarranged the plans of the revolutionists, and therefore it is denied.

According to reliable reports from Monastir, thousands of Bulgarians in that vilayet are confronted with famine in addition to Turkish persecution. Peasants who are continually arriving from Monastir complain of the attitude of Hilmi Pasha and the Turkish atrocities.

Villages Burned by Turks.

The news is published here of an eight-hour fight which occurred at the village of Smilovo August 26 between 300 insurgents and eight battalions of Turkish troops supported by artillery. Thirty-five insurgents are reported dead, while 60 Turks were killed or wounded. On the following day the Turks returned and burned the village. Seven other villages in the neighborhood are said to have also been burned by the Turks.

Bulgarian Trader Wounded.

The insurgents in the district of Adrianope appear to be less active. The Turks are pouring in an overwhelming force and the revolutionaries are taking refuge in the mountains. The Bulgarian leader Gergicoff has been wounded and has fled to Burgas, Bulgaria.

The Russian government has declined to receive the visit of the deputation of Macedonian fugitives in Bulgaria, who proposed to go to St. Petersburg and inform the czar of the pitiable condition of Macedonia and beg for his intervention. The deputation has been informed that the Russian government deems the visit quite unnecessary, as it quite understands the purpose of the deputation.

Seaport in Insurgent Hands.

The insurgents, it is reported, have captured the seaport of Ahtaboly, near Vasiliko, on the Black sea, and the Turkish population has fled to Constantinople. The insurgents have organized a local government at the captured seaport and are giving ships their clearing papers and sanitary certificates.

The Dnevnik continues to report numbers of outrages on the part of the Turkish soldiery in a number of villages.

Adrianople Reported Burning.

Vienna, Sept. 3.—The Belgrade papers are again spreading sensational rumors that a portion of the town of Adrianople has been blown up and that the other part is burning. No confirmation of these reports is obtainable here.

Constantinople, Sept. 3.—The porte has sent a note to the foreign embassies and legations informing them that, according to police information, the Bulgarian agitators are practicing outrages against the embassies, legations and other public buildings in Constantinople.

The note says the Ottoman government has taken precautions and requests the heads of the foreign missions to do likewise.

New Counterfeit.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The secret service has received a new counterfeit $10 national bank note on the Mechanics national bank, of New Bedford, Mass. The series is of 1882, check letter B, charter No. 743, Bruce, register; Wyman, treasurer of the United States. It is a good photograph on plain paper, no fibre; numbers, seal and panel of black tinted with thin colors.

Ex-Mayor Taken to Poor House.

Scranton, Sept. 3.—Ex-Mayor James G. Bailey, who recently confessed as a witness in the Finn-Scranton libel suit that he took a bribe of $1,000 to sign a paving contract, was taken to Hillside home, the city's poor house and insane asylum. He was mayor from 1895 to 1898, and before entering the office was one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Scranton. The lobbyists got him dissipating and the latter part of his term was rife with scandals. The prosecutions against him were dropped because of the mental and physical condition that resulted from the disclosures of his actions as mayor.

Stolen Bas-Relief Recovered.

Rome, Sept. 3.—The police at Florence have succeeded in finding a valuable Della-Robbia bas-relief, representing the descent from the cross, which was stolen last January from the oratory of the brotherhood of the Annunciation at Lepi. Several persons have been arrested. They are said to have formed an association of thieves to send antique works of art abroad. The bas-relief when found was already packed for dispatch abroad. It is expected that other precious objects which recently disappeared will be recovered.

Bottles by Machinery.

Toledo, O., Sept. 3.—A company was incorporated with a full paid capital of $3,000,000, subscribed principally by New Yorkers and Pittsburgers, to exploit an automatic bottle making machine which bears the same relation to the glass trade as the linotype to the newspaper business. The machine will save $3,000,000 per year on the cost of beer bottles alone, and will dispense entirely with skilled labor. The principal glass manufacturers of the United States have quietly visited Toledo and seen and approved the machine.

Pittsburg Exposition Opened.

Pittsburg, Sept. 3.—Eighteen thousand people witnessed the opening of the fifteenth season of the Pittsburg exposition. It was the most notable assemblage that ever gathered at the big buildings at the Point. In appearance and the display of gowns by the women in the vast audience, the visitors compared favorably with a grand opera throng. The attractions fulfilled every promise which had been made by the exposition management.

EAST END

Miss Sarah Densmore and Charles Volhart Were Married Yesterday at Steubenville.

Miss Sarah Densmore and Charles Volhart, the young couple that eloped from the East End yesterday morning, were united in marriage at Steubenville and have returned to the East End to receive the parental blessing. The announcement that the nuptial knot was tied at Steubenville was quite a surprise, as it was thought that the destination of the couple was Martin's Ferry, the former home of Mr. Volhart. Realizing that the relatives would suspect they would go to Martin's Ferry, the couple concluded to outwit them and avoid any complications by stopping at Steubenville.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Volhart are stopping with a relative of the former on St. George street, but will go to housekeeping soon.

Joseph B. McKinnon, the owner of the house on St. George street, where it was stated yesterday, trouble had arisen because a non-union painter had been employed, has asked the News Review to set him right before the public in the matter. Mr. McKinnon has always been a firm friend of union men. He states that as soon as he was told by the painters' local that the man was non-union he ordered the painting stopped and that it will not go on until the difficulty is adjusted to the satisfaction of the unions concerned. Mr. McKinnon was told by contracting painters that the painter was a union man before the work was started.

Concerning the statement that the plasterers and carpenters had refused to continue work, Mr. McKinnon states that the plasterers had not commenced and that the carpenters have nothing to do until the plasterers are through.

Mr. Hotchkiss will talk upon matters pertaining to his work as a missionary in the heart of South Africa, where he has spent a number of years. The lecture is entirely free and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Lew Howard, of the East End street department, and a force of men, commenced this morning to repair the damage done at the Virginia avenue bridge over Lake Run, caused by the hard rains last week. Several days will be required to complete the task. It will be necessary to strengthen the foundations and a number of heavy locust posts will be set deep in the ground for this purpose.

ALASKA BOUNDARY COMMISSION

Receive Arguments in International Dispute—Ambasador Choate Gives Dinner.

London, Sept. 3.—The arguments of the United States and Great Britain based on the cases and counter cases in the Alaskan boundary arbitration already filed were submitted by counsel of the two governments to the Alaskan boundary commissioners.

One of the Canadian counsel said after reading the American brief that it was a strong document, but he thought Great Britain had a fighting chance.

Ambassador Choate gave a dinner to Chief Justice Alverstone and all the boundary commissioners, Judge John M. Dickinson representing the American counsel and Sir Robert Finlay and Sir Edward Carson representing the British counsel.

Chief Justice Alverstone will be chosen chairman of the commission, which will assemble in the cabinet room of the foreign office. An adjournment for a fortnight will then be taken to allow counsel to prepare their oral arguments. Three counsel on each side will address the commission.

There is a disposition on the part of all the commissioners to hasten the conclusion of the case, and it is now believed that the award will be rendered in the middle of October.

Yachts Fail to Race.

New York, Sept. 3.—The fourth attempt to sail what was expected to be the concluding race between the Reliance and Shamrock III. failed miserably. They were not even sent across the line. Both boats were towed out to Sandy Hook lightship in a dense fog and flat calm and then waited two hours in the hope of a wind from some other direction than the west to blow away the fog and give them speed enough to cover 30 miles within five and a half hours.

Engagement Announced.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 3.—The announcement from London of the engagement of the duke of Roxburghe to Miss May Goelet was confirmed here by Mrs. Goelet. The duke has been a guest of the Goelet mansion for several days, and the announcement of the engagement was not unexpected by the observant members of the social set here, who had decided that the foreigner was a suitor. There is talk of a brilliant social affair in the near future, at which formal public announcement of the engagement will be made by Mrs. Goelet.

Killed Partner and Himself.

Baltimore, Sept. 3.—Aloysius Cavanaugh, 26 years old, of Washington Grove, Md., a patient in a sanitarium near this city, shot and instantly killed his business partner, M. H. Guiney, of Washington, D. C. He then shot and killed himself. Cavanaugh was under treatment for nervous trouble, and his partner was in attendance upon him.

Russia Wants Big Floor Space.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—Commisisoner General Alexandrovsky has applied for 5,000 square feet of space in the world's fair agriculture building for the Russian government, which desires to make exhibits in Russian grown cotton and tea, several varieties of forage grasses and Russia's staple cereals, such as rye, wheat and barley.

Farm Hand Killed by Explosion.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Intense heat has prevailed in Paris since Sunday. The thermometer Wednesday recorded 90 degrees and several sunstrokes, of which two were fatal, were caused by the heat.

A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains.

"Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is sapping away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—MRS. FLORENCE DANFORTH, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cannot be equalled by any other medicine in the world.

"FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN."

Women would save time and much sickness if they would write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice as soon as any distressing symptoms appear.

President Fully Aware of Trouble. Officers Have Considerable Difficulty With Crazed Man—Reason Unhinged by Hard Work.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 3.—Frank Weilbrenner was arrested at Sagamore Hill while making a persistent demand to see President Roosevelt. He was armed with a revolver fully loaded. He was taken to Mineola, L. I., and placed in the custody of the county authorities.

It appears that President Roosevelt was aware of the trouble the secret service officer had with Weilbrenner. After the man had been turned back the second time, despite his insistence that he had an engagement with the president, the officer, to make assurance doubly sure, inquired of the president about the fellow. Mr. Roosevelt was in his library only a short distance from the spot where the officer had stopped Weilbrenner's horse. He told the officer he had no engagement with anybody.

President Witnesses Arrest.

When Weilbrenner returned a third time with a demand that he be permitted to see the president, the officer seized him and drew him out of the vehicle over the front wheel. The noise of the scuffle attracted the president's attention. He appeared at the door overlooking the driveway from the veranda as Weilbrenner was being taken into the stables, but returned to the library almost immediately.

Weilbrenner has been practicing with his revolver recently, but he would give no reason for his interest in marksmanship and said he could not shoot very well.

Weak Mind Unhinged by Trouble.

It appears that one of his brothers, who attended the examination, is a metal worker and belongs to a labor union in Brooklyn. Some time ago he lost his position and went with his wife to his father's farm at Syosset. The farm is a good one, but the family is in debt for it and the father, Henry Weilbrenner, and the son who was arrested, have been working hard to lift the indebtedness.

The son from Brooklyn is said to have talked a good deal to his brother recently about labor unions and about the loss of his position. It is thought that the hard work and the trouble over the farm indebtedness had something to do with unsettling young Weilbrenner's mind.

Precautions for President's Safety.

The Weilbrenner incident is the first serious occurrence of the kind during the president's summer sojourn at Sagamore Hill. It has demonstrated completely in the opinion of officials here the wisdow of the close systematic guard which is maintained at all times over the president. He is exposed frequently, it is true, to assault, but every care that human agencies can devise is exercised constantly to insure his personal safety and inamunity from danger. Personally he was not perturbed by the Weilbrenner incident, but, although the maintenance of the guard is often distasteful to him, he thoroughly realizes the necessity in the circumstances of having made as certain as possible the personal safety of the president of the United States.

MANY LIVES LOST ON STEAMER

Twenty-nine Killed by Series of Explosions on Vessel in Black Sea.

Constantinople, Sept. 3.—Three explosions occurred on the Austrian steamer Vaskapu soon after leaving the Bulgarian port of Burgas en route for Constantiople, by which the captain and officers of the steamer and six of her crew were killed, a total of 29 lives being lost.

The Vaskapu sailed from Varna, Bulgaria, and after calling at Burgas was steaming through the Black sea to Constantinople when three explosions took place on board. The deck of the vessel took fire and she had to be run ashore at Misivria Bey, 13 miles north of Burgas.

The Vasakpu belonged to the Hungarian Levant Steamship company, of Fiume, Austria, and has been engaged on the Black sea service. She was built in New Castle in 1891 and was a steamer of 1,070 tons.

May Involve Whole State.

Kansas City, Sept. 3.—All the 8,000 coal miners in Missouri may become involved in a strike unless the 600 men in the Novinger district return to work promptly. They went out against the orders of President John Mitchell and in violation of the Chicago conference, and the operators may refuse to enter the conference scheduled to be held on September 10. If the operators should decline to confer further it is predicted it will result in the closing of all the mines.

Cresceus Fails to Lower Record.

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 3.—Against a high southwest wind blowing across Williams track, Cresceus was unable to lower his trotting record of 2:02¼. The big stallion made a great effort but could do no better than 2:06¾. The track was too hard for good footing.

TALKS ON BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw Discusses Financial Question at Business Men's Banquet.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Two hundred business men from all parts of the country listened to Secretary of the Treasury Shaw talk on "The Business Outlook" at a banquet given at the Auditorium hotel by the National Association of Merchants and Travelers. Lyman J. Gage addressed the association on the same subject just before his retirement from the treasury department, and great interest was attached to the speech of the present secretary.

In his discussion of the financial question Secretary Shaw declared that what was needed was not an elastic dollar, but some provisions by which, automatically, the aggregate volume of dollars should increase wherever more dollars were needed, and would as promptly retire when not needed.

Both Sides Make Concessions.

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—The series of conferences between representatives of the Pennsylvania railroad telegraphers and General Manager Atterbury relative to certain demands made by the operators came to an end after concessions had been made by both sides. The questions of wages in no way entered the demands. All operators on the system east of Pittsburg and Erie, whether working eight or 12 hour shifts, will hereafter be given a relief of one day per month with pay; operators at present receiving two days' a month relief continue to receive the same, and the operators in the superintendent's office and the general office will be in no way of fected under the new proposition. The new arrangement will go into effect on October 1.

Negro Hanged for Usual Crime.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 3.—Anderson Finch, colored, was hanged at Boydton for an attempted assault on Mrs. C. A. Geoghan, of Chase City. Doc Bacon, another negro, was condemned to die with Finch for complicity in the crime, but was reprieved by the governor until Friday to permit further examination into his case.

The interesting question has been raised whether probate judges in Ohio have the right to issue naturalization papers. Probate Judge Black, of Columbus, whose right was questioned, communicated with the attorney general of the United States in reference to the matter. The reply, by the acting attorney general, does not decide that probate courts have no jurisdiction, but advises Mr. Black to suspend hearing such cases till the question is decided by some judge. Judge Black will follow this advice, and bring suit at once in the United States court at Cincinnati. The course of Judge Black in suspending naturalizations is likely to be followed by probate judges throughout Ohio. There is a heavy fine and imprisonment for issuing naturalization papers illegally, and it is contended, with excellent logic, that the granting of citizenship being a function of the national government, only federal courts have jurisdiction in the matter.

John H. Clarke, senatorial candidate, begins his campaign by repudiating free silver and defending himself for having voted against Bryan. From a man who was nominated on a Kansas City platform, this political declaration is unique, but it is not calculated to promote Democratic harmony in Ohio.

Our Canadian neighbors are getting gay. One statesman says that Canada can whip the United States and another announces that war is coming sooner or later. As Canada has about as big a population as Illinois or Ohio we might deputize one of these states to whip our pugnacious neighbor.

East Liverpool does not tamely submit to extortionate demands. The gas companies and the Columbiana County Telephone company will find that they have to deal with citizens who are aware of their rights and propose to stand up for them.

The revelation that the president is not safe from the plots and designs of cranks, even in the quiet of his summer home and among his old neighbors, is a most unpleasant one. It will doubtless result in renewed precautions for his safety.

A minister in Tonawanda, N. Y., distributed trading stamps to his congregation Sunday night, by way of making the services attractive. He should abandon the ministry to men who are able to command an audience instead of buying it.

It is the attempt on the life of the American vice-consul that is important, not the success or non-success of the attempt. Some of the half-cocked newspapers seem to think the incident of no value because Magelssen was not killed.

Bryan has not changed. He likes gold Democrats no better than formerly. But he would willingly approve anybody or anything that would give Democrats a show. The sincerity of his political professions is easily gauged.

The Columbiana County Telephone company will find it uphill business, trying to convince the people that there is no truth in the old adage that "talk is cheap."

Never mind, Sir Thomas; you have won American good will. That is worth more than the cup you were after.

Tom L. Johnson weighs 287 pounds, but even his most ponderous political theories are decidedly light weight.

Bryan gives Clarke a qualified endorsement. That is more than Bryan gets from Clarke.

AT THE THEATER

The Dilger-Cornell company will open a weeks' engagement at the Grand opera house next Monday evening, September 7. This company needs no introduction to the theater-goers of East Liverpool, having already established itself as a favorite here. This season the company is much larger and stronger than ever and presenting a line of royalty plays that are all metropolitan successes, but which have never been given before at popular prices. Special scenery and effects are carried for each piece. The opening bill for Monday night will be "The Princess of Patches," a grand old southern comedy in four acts, full of the warm sunshine of that country. Act first shows a cotton field in full bloom, so realistic and true to nature is the scene that one can almost see the cotton waving. Another act presents an old southern mansion among the magnolias and an old boat house on the Mississippi. Six big specialties are introduced between the acts, making it a continuous show, the curtain never being down over half a minute.

When either the president or the politician "swings around the circle," they rarely describe more than an arc. It is your hustling irrepressible minstrel manager, like the indomitable John W. Vogel, he of the large "Big Minstrels." And what a vast amount of work to be constantly accomplished! Street parades, rehearsals and performances, sometimes twice a day, and the journeying, almost the year round. In the words of the song: "The Same Thing Over Again," until the end of the season and the band plays "Home, Sweet Home." John W. Vogel's Big Minstrels will appear at the Grand Friday evening and will be the treat of the season.

HEARING ON FRIDAY IN THE GAS CASE

Solicitor Boyd Will Try to Arrange With Judge Robinson for It.

City Solicitor Charles Boyd went to Ravenna today to institute a suit before Judge Robinson for an injunction to restrain the Tri-State Gas company from raising their rates on gas here. Mr. Boyd states that he will arrange for a hearing to be given Friday morning.

This will be a most important step for the city against the gas company, and is heartily approved by every citizen of the city, who is anxious to prevent the raising of the gas rates. The case will be fought by the city to the bitter end if need be. This case is entered by the city solicitor in accordance with the instructions of council at the Tuesday evening session.

POOL TOURNAMENT

Wellsville Amateurs to Contest for Championship of That City.

Twelve of the cleverest pool players of the city will enter the contest, among them being Roy Daughaday, Carl Cope, Albert E. Knapp, formerly of New York, and others.

It is the intention to have a 30-point game played each evening, the loser to drop out each time until the winner has been decided upon. The winner of the championship is to receive a gold medal bearing the date of the tournament. Much interest is being taken in the coming event.

Tomorrow evening an exhibition game is to be played between Messrs. Daughaday and Knapp. It is to be a 100-point game. These two gentlemen are conceded to be two of the best players in the city.

PLUMBERS STILL HOLD CHARTER

MANY HAVE RETURNED TO THE CITY TO FIGHT.

Their Grievances Have Been Taken Up By Central Labor Union for Settlement.

The local organization of plumbers has been in a peculiar position for some time. The union has always been small in numbers, and when the strike came on last spring many of the members whose homes were in other cities, fought against the master plumbers for a few weeks or until their funds were exhausted. Then they were compelled to seek employment elsewhere. The members of the local attribute their failure to bring about a settlement of their strike to the fact that there was scarcely enough men left in the town to constitute a quorum.

Things have transpired recently, however, which caused some of the members who had been away to return to the city. The charter was never surrendered, and within the past few weeks several meetings have been held. The long-drawn-out disputes were aired in Trades Council last night from all standpoints, and action taken by the central labor union which may result in a settlement. A conference has been arranged for Friday evening, and it is thought the two factions will be gotten together.

There was an impression in some quarters that the journeymen had surrendered their charter, but this was wrong, and on account of certain stories circulated generally upon the streets, the men have resolved to have their grievances aired and settled once for all. Murray & Darrah, two journeymen, have given employment to all of the idle men, but both men have retained their active membership and will probably go back to regular journeyman work when the strike is settled.

The Contest for the Office of Sheriff Promises to Be Most Interesting.

Although the time for holding the Republican primary election in Hancock county is many months away and deals without number are liable to be made, there are those in the county who claim they could forecast their outcome in several of the offices. Of the several places to be filled next spring on the county ticket, none is so important or lucrative as that of sheriff. For this reason the list of aspirants will be large, and every district in the county will be represented by at least one candidate.

The election laws of West Virginia are so framed that no sheriff may succeed himself. It has been customary heretofore for a man holding the position to conduct his affairs in such a manner as will reflect credit upon him as an official in order that he may be in line for the same position when his successor will have completed his term. In other words, every incumbent of the office expects to secure his second term, but cannot do so until one term of four years has been filled in between.

Previous to the last election A. F. Wilkins was the incumbent. He was succeeded by C. F. Allison, of Grant district, or Chester. Mr. Allison is a Democrat, and was elected over Cuppy, his Republican opponent, by a good safe majority. The result of the election was a surprise to Wilkins, who had confidence in Cuppy's ability to win, and it was said at the time, interfered somewhat with the former's calculations for the future.

It is announced, however, that in spite of the disappointment at that time, Wilkins is an avowed candidate, and has already begun an active campaign for the position. He did not get through with his first term without making enemies, and it is said will have a hard proposition to face in even landing a fairly good place. Another thing calculated to hurt his chances not a little is the fact that there are several candidates from his own district of Clay or New Cumberland. All of the men are claimed to be top-notchers by their friends, and each is personally antagonistic to Wilkins.

The most popular and by far the strongest man from the lower end of the county, according to the best informed politicians, is "Moss" Burford. Mr. Burford has been a resident of New Cumberland for many years, having moved to that city from East Liverpool when the old Chelsea pottery was in operation previous to its coming into possession of the Union company. He has been conducting a mercantile business in New Cumberland long enough to earn for himself an enviable reputation among the town's most prominent merchants.

Among the candidates from the upper portion of the county will be Al McDonald, Hiram Allison and James Cochran, all of whom have good backing and a host of friends.

THOUGHT IT A BEAR

Chester Men Encounter a Remarkable Specimen of the Ground-hog Tribe.

Robert Allison and Jefferson Smith were over in Pennsylvania yesterday afternoon, where they butchered several beeves. Riurning late in the evening they had an encounter with what both men believed at first was a bear. Smith spied the animal across the fence in a field and says he could have sworn it was a bear, so large did the body appear. The men had a rifle in the buggy and Allison, without awaiting to alight, drew a bead on the huge animal and pulled the trigger. Although the beast did not fall it gave evidence of having been hit, and quickly reloading the rifle, he got out of the buggy and fired again.

Quickly scaling the fence he approached the beast and found it very much alive. As he drew nearer the huge beast showed fight, and Allison's gun containing no load, he was about to retreat when he stumbled over a log. Before he could recover the huge animal was so near that escape was impossible. Allison turned the butt end of the gun uppermost and dealt his adversary a blow on the head, stunning it for a moment, and giving him time to recover himself. After some difficulty the beast was dispatched and later dragged to the middle of the road. Here it was found the brute was a groundhog, the largest ever seen in that part of the country. The butchers hauled it to Chester where it was weighed, tipping the scales at 62 pounds and 7 ounces. The groundhog was dressed, and provided a good meal for several families.

Men Ready for Work.

Louis Atkinson, a construction boss of wide experience, was in Chester this morning and made inquiry as to where Contractor Freshwater could be found. Atkinson was out of employment, but had about 30 Italians where he could put his hand upon them. Having learned that the Freshwaters were short of men he was anxious to place them in Chester. Atkinson said he had been annoyed earlier in the day by some fellow in East Liverpool who had attempted to take his men with him. He did not succeed, and it is probable they will all be given employment on the Chester streets.

property. The document with reference to the Tri-State company and signed by Mr. Neal is as follows:

In the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, O.

Thomas C. Neal, a Taxpayer in the City of East Liverpool on Behalf of the City of East Liverpool, O., Himself and the Other Consumers of Gas of the Tri-State Gas Company in said City, Plaintiff, vs. the Tri-State Gas Company, a Corporation, Defendant; Petition.

Plaintiff says that he is a resident of the city of East Liverpool, in the state of Ohio, and the owner in fee of a certain lot adjoining and fronting on Basil avenue, in said city, upon which he has erected a dwelling house, which he has, at great expense, arranged for the use of natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes; that no other fuel can be used therein without great detriment and inconvenience and expense; that the defendant is a corporation organized under the laws of Ohio and engaged in the business of operating a natural gas plant and selling to said city and the inhabitants thereof natural gas to be used for fuel and lighting purposes; that because of the public character of defendant's business the city granted to it a valuable franchise and permitted it, among other things, to lay its mains, pipes and conduits through and beneath the surface of the streets of said city; that in pursuance of the provisions of Section 2478 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio the said city by its council duly passed an ordinance on June 23, 1903, entitled "An ordinance to regulate the price which the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company now, or which may be hereafter doing business in the city of East Liverpool, may charge for gas for and during the ensuing 10 years, which said ordinance is as follows:

"Be it ordained by the council of the city of East Liverpool, state of Ohio.

"Section 1—That during the period of 10 years and after the passage of this ordinance, the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company may charge for natural gas furnished to the citizens or private consumers, and to the public buildings, grounds, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, for illuminating and heating purposes, twenty-five (25) cents per thousand cubic feet; if paid within ten days after the dates of monthly settlement then a discount of five (5) cents per thousand cubic foot shall be allowed. The said, the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company shall in no event, during the term of ten years, charge for gas furnished as above mentioned more than the price herein specified, nor shall the said company charge for the placing or rental of meters a greater sum than is now being charged.

"Section 2—This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

"JOHN HORWELL,

"Attest: WILLIS DAVIDSON, Clerk.

"Approved: W. A. WEAVER, Mayor."

I, Willis Davidson, clerk of the city of East Liverpool, O., do hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was published in the Evening News Review July 1st-8th, 1903.

WILLIS DAVIDSON,
City Clerk.

That said defendant had due notice of the passage of said ordinance.

Plaintiff says that on or about the 20th day of June, 1903, said defendant notified the consumers of its gas in said city that on or after the reading of gas meters in July, 1903, the price of its said gas would be increased from twenty (20) cents per thousand cubic feet to twenty-five (25) cents net per thousand cubic feet, which said latter rate is in excess of the rate prescribed by said ordinance as aforesaid.

That upon receipt of his gas bill for the month of July, 1903, the plaintiff refused to pay the amount specified therein, but tendered to the defendant the amount based upon the rate prescribed by the said ordinance, which rate is the same rate that has been charged by the defendant for seventeen years past; that the defendant refused to accept anything less than the amount called for by the bill as aforesaid, which amount was in excess of the amount which was due in accordance with the rate prescribed by the said ordinance, and which refusal was in violation of the provisions thereof.

The said defendant threatens to, and will, unless restrained by this court, collect said excessive rate for the gas used by plaintiff and the consumers of its gas in said city, and threatens to, and will, unless restrained by this court, shut off the gas supply of plaintiff and the other consumers of its gas in said city unless plaintiff and said consumers pay said excessive rate so charged by defendent, to the great and irreparable damage, loss and inconvenience of plaintiff and the other consumers of gas in said city.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that the defendant and its agent or agents may be restrained from shutting off the gas supply of said plaintiff and other consumers, who are willing to pay the rate as prescribed by said ordinance and from charging a price greater for the gas supplied than the price prescribed by said ordinance, and for such other relief as may be equitable therein.

[Signed.] THOS. C. NEAL.

State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss.

Thos. C. Neal, being first duly sworn, says that he is the plaintiff in the above entitled action and that the statement and allegations contained therein are true.

WARRANT ISSUED

the city today for New Cumberland, where they were to be married. Mayor Weaver could not determine how the marriage could be prevented, inasmuch as the girl is of age.

Mrs. Bowman found a possible way out of the dilemma by proposing that she swear out a warrant charging Croxall with threatening her life and carrying a revolver. The warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Mahoney, who made a thorough search of the city for Croxall and the girl, but they could not be located.

Telephonic communication with County Clerk Cooper at New Cumberland this afternoon revealed the fact that the runaway couple had not yet reached there. Mr. Cooper further stated that if the pair should apply to him he will not give them a license, it being his way to favor a mother in all such cases.

Clerk Cooper telephoned the News Review at 3 o'clock that Croxall had applied for a license and that he refused to give it to him. He said Croxall was much angered at the refusal and started toward Steubenville.

Upon Croxall's arrival at Steubenville he will met with no favor, the authorities there having been notified by Chief Wyman to refuse him a license. It has been learned that Croxall hired a rig from John Rinehart on the pretense of going to Lisbon. Rinehart has issued a warrant, charging Croxall with obtaining the rig under false pretense.

REALM OF SPORTS

JARVIS' RANK PLAYING

By far the fastest and most interesting game played in the West End park this season was cut off suddenly and without warning in the seventh inning yesterday when the locals fell like school boys before Niles, giving them seven hits and as many runs. That inning forgotten and the exhibition was as good as one would wish to see.

Crippled by having two second-raters, George Emmerling in the box and Jarvis at short, in the game the locals could hardly have expected to win the game and the fans are giving the seven regular players the credit due them for their part. In most any company except that in which Niles trots the two amateurs might have made a showing, but to put them on the field when the mill workers are the opponenets is as much folly as it would be to put the Sixth Street Bums against Pittsburg.

That the visitors did not make the same spurt as characterized the seventh inning in each half was the greatest surprise to the fans and they are yet attempting to figure how they escaped it.

Prior to that fatal inning the locals had the game won at least twice. They scored a run in two different innings and in each of those innings had two men on bases. Then hard luck made them a visit and the side died without another run. However, even before the seventh the visitors had one run to the good, and it is doubtful whether or not they would have won.

The first inning was inscribed on the scorer's sheet without a run credited to either side and but one hit, made by Demoos. So far as the locals were concerned another blank was drawn in the second, but it was not so with the visitors. They scored a man, Glassburner, after he had walked. Crowe followed with a two-bagger and scored him with ease.

In the third inning each side had the good fortune to darken the run column. Demoos, for the visitors, went out from pitcher to first; Ortlieb singled and scored on another single by Murphy. Nagel and Krueger flew out in rapid succession to Wallace. The locals started with a single, Emmerling landed a pretty one. George Emmerling flew out to Thomas and the former was advanced a base on Nagel's error of Gibson's grounder. Wallace stepped to the bat and placed a beauty, sending Emmerling home on a jump. Brown knocked one down to Demoos and got first on a fielder's choice, Wallace going out at second. There were two men on bases then and Brown thought he might as well get to second and score a couple if Heckathorn made a single. Ortlieb fooled him when he made the dash by putting the bug on him and retiring the side.

The fourth inning was marked with a goose egg for each team and the fifth resulted likewise for the locals. Niles got one thought. The first two men up singled and after Murphy went out Demoos scored on one more single by Nagel. Things looked a little blue right here with but one man out, one man already over home plate and two on bases, but the next two men up were easy out, and the game to that period was hot enough.

The locals did a little of the run getting in the sixth and gave Niles a whitewash. Gibson started it by reaching first on a foolish play of Murphy. The lanky baseman stood straddle of the bag when he caught the ball and then beefed because the umpire did not call Gibson out. While they were chewing over the decision Wallace got a single and Gibson scored on a nice one made by Brown. As in the third inning the locals had two men on bases and Heckathorn put a damper on all prospects when he hit high into right field. Jarvis gained first at the expense of Brown, who died at second. The inning was ended when Webb chased one down to Demoos.

The long and tiresome seventh was the next period. The ball was started rolling when Jarvis fumbled an easy one. That seemed to get Pitcher Emmerling in the air and the next five men up hit for pretty singles, the most of them being little easy bunts. So confused were the locals that they allowed the same five men to score and two additional ones scored when a like number of singles were added. The locals spruced up a little after the awful drubbing and got a few themselves, but little good it did them. Reark and Emmerling had gone out speedily when George Emmerling walked. Gibson singled and Wallace was allowed first when an attempt was made to get Emmerling, who scored. Brown made his second single and scored two of the runners. It was all off when Heckathorn hit down to Demoos.

The remaining two innings were interesting enough, but the locals could not overcome the terrible lead. The score:

Notes on the Game.

Jarvis must take a back seat now. It might have been just an off day for him, but he looked as though it was due to genuine ignorance and inability.

George Emmerling deserves credit for his game even if he was toyed with in one inning. He will recover some day and will show local pitchers a thing or two.

Ortlieb showed his gameness in the third when Wallace put him out of the business by a terrific grounder. Although he could hardly walk he continued in the game after a short layoff.

Wallace, Brown, Gibson, Webb and all of the rest not mentioned above did work of which they should be proud. Had they been accompanied by seven more real men another victory would have been theirs.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Cy Young, "the old reliable," Boston's crack pitcher, is batting over .300.

The combined salaries of professional ball players in America this year amounts to over $2,000,000, it is said.

George Dixon, the ex-featherweight champion, who has repeatedly stated that he would never fight again, has changed his mind once more and will meet Joe Goodwin.

A. P. McDonald, owner of the fast trotter Major Delmar, does not believe the stallion, mare or gelding lives that can show a pace to his horse, and he has started talk of arranging a race with the champion, Lou Dillon. He says that a mile dash, three in five, or two in three, will suit him, and that he will bet from $5,000 to $20,000 that Delmar will win any sort of a race agreed upon.

A Strong Man

Is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from indigestion or some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man doesn't feel just right, when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous and irritable, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man needs to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, stimulates the liver, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub Station C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 109, writes: "I was taken very sick with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. The more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I had given up to die. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

New York, Sept. 3.—Henry Townsend Edson, son of former Mayor Franklin Edson, in his apartments at 292 West Ninety-second street, shot and instantly killed Mrs. Fannie Pullen, of 673 West End avenue, and then shot and killed himself. The murder and suicide appear to have been premeditated and followed a dramatic scene, in which Edson called upon Mrs. Pullen, a close and honored friend of his wife and family, to desert her husband and children and fly with him to another state. Mrs. Pullen, a very handsome woman, is said to have been the daughter of a United States naval officer.

The double tragedy brought to the surface the fact that Edson, who was comptroller of St. Michael's Protestant Episcopal church, had been suspected of misappropriating funds belonging to the parish and that expert accountants were at work on his accounts. It was also declared by those related with the family that Edson was financially distressed because of Wall street speculations.

Man Undoubtedly Insane.

Whatever may have ben the precise cause of the tragedy, members of the Edson family insist that the man was insane. There are many indications that Edson was madly in love with Mrs. Pullen. Dr. Peters, of St. Michael's church, who knew the dead man well, is emphatic in his declarations that none but the most honorable relations existed between Edson and Mrs. Pullen. She was, he said, Edson's "friend advisor."

Mrs. Pullen lived with her husband, John F. Pullen, an auditor at the Grand Central station, and her two children, Trafton, 16 years old, and Mary, 14 years old.

The Edsons were to break up their home as a result of an agreement to sign articles of separation, reached the night previous. The life of the couple had not been happy. Edson had been acting in a peculiar manner. For that reason furniture movers were in the house packing up furniture and bric-a-brac.

Refused to Elope With Him.

Mrs. Edson spent the night with her friend, Mrs. Pullen. She was about to go out in the morning, when a note came from Edson asking that Mrs. Pullen accompany his wife to where he was. Edson, his wife, Mrs. Pullen and Dr. David O. Edson, a brother of Edson, met in Edson's home. During the conversation in the dining room Edson is said to have turned to Mrs. Pullen and suggested that she leave her home with him and go to some other state where they could be happy. Mrs. Edson was horrified. Mrs. Pullen turned away in disgust. Dr. Edson, after sharply rebuking his brother, left the room with Mrs. Edson, but both returned in a few minutes, when Edson again turned to Mrs. Pullen and began to entreat her to elope with him. Mrs. Pullen, possessed with fear of the man, ran out of the room. Edson, however, seemed to recover his self-possession and all went into the dining room again.

Fleeing Woman Shot Down.

A very few mnutes after Mrs. Edson, who was weak and trembling from the ordeal, was assisted to another room by Dr. Edson. A moment later, according to Woods, a furniture man working nearby in the hallway, Edson pulled a revolver from his pocket, and pointing it at Mrs. Pullen, shouted: "You must go with me. If you don't elope with me I'll see that you go with me, anyway."

In terror Mrs. Pullen started to run from the room. She had gone but a few steps when four pistol shots rang out in quick succession. The first bullet tore Mrs. Pullen's left cheek and the second entered the right side of her head.

According to Woods, Edson looked at the woman for a moment and then turned the muzzle of the revolver to his own head, firing two shots almost simultaneously. Both entered about the middle of the forehead and he fell, his head striking and resting on the feet of Mrs. Pullen's body.

Troops May Be Ordered Out.

Denver, Sept. 3.—There seems to be a likelihood of the state troops being ordered to Cripple Creek. It is known that large numbers of militiamen have gathered at the armory in this city, and Governor Peabody, Adjutant General Sherman Bell, Attorney General Miller and Judge Maxwell, of the Colorado court of appeals, were in conference several hours.

Deputy Sheriff Assassinated.

Eldorado, Ark., Sept. 3.—Dallas Hunter, a deputy sheriff of this county, was assassinated about four miles west of town while riding from his home to Edorado. Bloodhounds are on the trail of the murderers. It is believed that the killing was the result of an old feud. Hunter having been a close friend of W. P. Lee, who was assassinated in July.

SPEAK FROM SAME PLATFORM

W. J. Bryan and John H. Clarke Make Addresses at Fair Grounds. Clarke's Candidacy Accepted.

Columbus, O., Sept. 3.—W. J. Bryan was the guest of the Ohio state board of agriculture and delivered a nonpartisan address at the state fair grounds. John H. Clarke, of Cleveland, endorsed by the Democratic state convention for United States senator, spoke from the same platform. Mr. Bryan left late in the afternoon for Marion, O., where he addressed a Democratic meeting in the evening.

Mr. Bryan isued a statement here accepting John H. Clarke as the Democratic candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Hanna. He says Mr. Clarke differs from the Kansas City platform on one phase of the money question only, viz., metallic money.

Marion, O., Sept. 3.—W. J. Bryan closed his present Ohio tour, addressing an immense audience on the court house grounds in this city. Mr. Bryan was accompanied to Marion by C. C. Fairchild, member of the state committee; former Congressman John J. Lentz, Frank S. Monnett, the Democratic candidate for attorney general, and W. L. Finley, chairman of the Democratic state central committee. Monnett and Lentz followed Bryan in speeches of some length. Immediately after the meeting Bryan left for New York and announced that he would be in Ohio again next month to make a number of speeches in support of the Democratic ticket.

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Ziele, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Bright's Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's and Kidney Diseases, $1; for Diabetes, $1.50. John J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, sole compounders. Send for pamphlet. Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the flier stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naïvely calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He tells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. CHAPTER XXIV.

OFF TO THE DUNGEON.

THE tableau lasted but a moment. Gabriel advanced a few steps, his eyes gleaming with jealousy and triumph. Before him stood the petrified lovers caught red-handed. Through her dazed brain struggled the conviction that he could never escape. Through his ran the miserable realization that he had ruined her forever. Gabriel of all men!

"I arrive inopportunely," he said harshly, the veins standing out on his neck and temples. "Do I intrude? I was not aware that you expected two, your highness." There was no mistaking his meaning. He viciously sought to convey the impression that he was there by appointment, a clandestine visitor in her apartments at midnight.

"What do you mean by coming to my apartment at this hour?" she stammered, trying to rescue dignity from the chaos of emotions. Lorry was standing slightly to the right and several feet behind her. He understood the prince and quickly sought to interpose with the hope that he might shield her from the sting.

"She did not expect me, sir," he said, and a menacing gleam came to his eyes. His pistol was in his hand. Gabriel saw it, but the staring princess did not. She could not take her eyes from the face of the intruder. "Now, may I ask you why you are here?"

Gabriel's wit saved him from death. He saw that he could not pursue the course he had begun, for there was murder in the American's eye. Like a fox, he swerved and, with a servile promise of submission in his glance, said:

"I thought you were here, my fine fellow, and I came to satisfy myself. Now, sir, may I ask why you are here?" His fingers twitched and his eyes were glassy with the malevolence he was subduing.

"I am here as a prisoner," said Lorry boldly. Gabriel laughed derisively.

"And how often have you come here in this manner as a prisoner? Midnight and alone in the apartments of the princess, the guard dismissed! A prisoner, eh? Ha, what a prison!"

"Stop!" cried Lorry, white to the lips.

The princess was beginning to understand. Her eyes grew wide with horror, her figure straightened imperiously and the white in her cheeks gave way to the red of insulted virtue.

"I see it all! You have not been outside this castle since you left the prison. A pretty scheme! You could not marry him, could you, eh? He is not a prince! But you could bring him here and hide him where no one would dare to think of looking for him—in your apartments"—

With a snarl of rage Lorry sprang upon him, cutting short the sentence that would have gone through her like the keenest knife blade.

"Liar! Dog! I'll kill you for that!" he cried, but before he could clutch the prince's throat Yetive had frantically seized his arm.

"Not that!" she shrieked. "Do not kill him! There must be no murder here!"

He reluctantly hurled Gabriel from him, the prince tottering to his knees in the effort to keep from falling. She had saved her maligner's life, but courage deserted her with the act. Helplessly she looked into the blazing eyes of her lover and faltered:

"I—I do not know what to say or do. My brain is bursting!"

"Courage, courage!" he whispered gently.

"You shall pay for this," shrieked Gabriel. "If you are not a prisoner you shall be. There'll be scandal enough in Graustark tomorrow to start a volcano of wrath from the royal tombs where lie her fathers. I'll see that you are a prisoner!" He started for the door, but Lorry's pistol was leveled at his head.

"If you move, I'll kill you!"

"The world will understand how and why I fell by your hand and in this room. Shoot!" he cried triumphantly. Lorry's hand trembled, and his eyes filled with the tears of impotent rage. The prince held the higher card.

A face suddenly appeared at the door, which had been stealthily opened from without. Captain Quinnox glided into the room behind the prince and gently closed the door, unnoticed by the gloater.

"A prisoner?" sneered Gabriel. "Where is your captor, pray?"

"Here!" answered a voice at his back. The prince wheeled and found himself looking at the stalwart form of the captain of the guard. "I am surely privileged to speak now, your highness," he went on, addressing the princess significantly.

"How came you here?" gasped Gabriel.

"I brought my prisoner here. Where should I be if not here to guard him?"

"When—when did you enter this room?"

"An hour ago."

"You were not here when I came!"

"I have been standing on this spot for an hour. You have been very much excited, I'll agree, but it is strange you did not see me," lied Quinnox.

Gabriel looked about helplessly, nonplused.

"You were here when I came in?" he asked wonderingly.

"Ask her royal highness," commanded the captain, smiling.

"Captain Quinnox brought the prisoner to me an hour ago," she said mechanically.

"It is a lie!" cried Gabriel. "He was not here when I entered!"

The captain of the guard laid a heavy hand on the shoulder of the prince and said threateningly:

"I was here, and I am here. Have a care how you speak. Were I to do right I should shoot you like a dog. You came like a thief, you insult the ruler of my land. I have borne it all because you are a prince, but have a care—have a care. I may forget myself and tear out your black heart with these hands. One word from her royal highness will be your death warrant."

He looked inquiringly at the princess as if anxious to put the dangerous witness where he could tell no tales. She shook her head, but did not speak. Lorry realized that the time had come for him to assert himself. Assuming a distressed air, he bowed his head and said dejectedly:

"My pleading has been in vain, then, your highness. I have sworn to you that I am innocent of this murder, and you have said I shall have a fair trial. That is all you can offer?"

"That is all," she said shrilly, her mind gradually grasping his meaning.

"You will not punish the poor people who secreted me in their house for weeks, for they are convinced of my innocence. Your captain here, who found me in their house tonight, can also speak well of them. I have only this request to make in return for what little service I may have given you: Forgive the old people who befriended me. I am ready to go to the tower at once, captain."

Gabriel heard this speech with a skeptical smile on his face.

"I am no fool," he said simply. "Captain," shrewdly turning to Quinnox, "if he is your prisoner, why do you permit him to retain his revolver?"

The conspirators were taken by surprise, but Lorry had found his wits.

"It is folly, your highness, to allow this gentleman and conquering prince to cross examine you. I am a prisoner, and that is the end of it. What odds is it to the Prince of Dawsbergen how and where I was caught or why your officer brought me to you?"

"You were ordered from my house once today, yet you come again like a conqueror. I should not spare you. You deserve to lose your life for the actions of tonight. Captain Quinnox, will you kill him if I ask you to end his wretched life?" Yetive's eyes were blazing with wrath, beneath which gleamed a hope that he could be frightened into silence.

"Willingly—willingly!" cried Quinnox. "Now, your highness? 'Twere better in the hall!"

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

New Car Running—There is a new car on the Calcutta road line. It is like the new cars that run to Wellsville, and is painted red.

Recent Births—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Stewart, Trentvale street, a 12-pound boy. To Mr. and Mrs. Moses Marks, of Rural lane, a daughter.

Struck By a Potato — Dr. W. N. Bailey was struck in the face by a potato last night and sustained several painful cuts. The missile was thrown by a small boy and struck Dr. Bailey's eye glasses, breaking them, several of the pieces inflicting small cuts.

No Suit Brought — Rinehart Bros. state that they have brought no suit against the city of Wellsville for money due them on street contracts. As the city council has twice voted them the amount claimed, they believe the bill will be paid without a suit.

To Organize a Loval—President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., left on an afternoon train for Salineville, where he will organize a local union of the Brotherhood among the operatives of that city. He expects to return tomorrow.

Miss Shaffer Gets the Watch — The case of Miss Minnie Shaffer against Newton Croxall, which was instituted in the office of 'Squire Rose for the purpose of getting the watch that Croxall stole from her several years ago, was set for a hearing this morning. The defendant, however, did not appear and the watch was turned over to Miss Shaffer.

HIS HAND CAUGHT AND BADLY MANGLED

As a result of injuries received yesterday afternoon while adjusting the gearing of a threshing machine, David Jackson, part owner of the machine, may lose his right hand. The threshers were engaged at the farm of James Allison, southeast of Chester, when the accident happened, and though the machinery was not immediately stopped, no one was to blame.

Jackson was attracted by the peculiar sound of the machine to the riddles, which were not working right. He was reaching underneath the machine and had adjusted several parts of the riddles when the fingers of his right hand were caught in the auger shaped arrangement which carries the grain from the machine, and the arm was drawn in. Johnny Lincoln Allison, who acts as engineer, was some distance away at the time, and did not immediately reach the engine to turn off the steam. When he finally did so Jackson's hand had been terribly lacerated, and it was released with some difficulty.

Steps were at once taken to stop the flow of blood, and arrangements made to take the man to a physician. Little time was lost in driving him to the office of Dr. G. E. Lewis, where the injuries were dressed. It could not be told at the time just how badly the hand had been injured, but it is thought with careful nursing the member can be saved. Blood poisoning is feared, however, on account of the peculiar nature of the wounds, and in that event amputation will be absolutely necessary.

An Injunction Case Argued.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Attorney Charles S. Speaker returned last evening from Ravenna, where the injunction case of Mrs. C. Deemer, of Columbiana, vs. the First National bank, of Columbiana, was argued before Judge Robinson. A decision is expected early next week.

Zip Farmer's Arrest Follows And He Will Probably Go to County Jail.

"Zip" Farmer has got his foot in it again. This time he will likely get a trip to the county jail. He was arrested last night by Officers Saulsberry and Dawson on a charge of stealing a box of cigars, five bottles of whisky and a comb from the saloon of Stella Mears.

The mayor has not decided what to do with the incorrigible little fellow, but will probably give him a stiff sentence.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick, of Leetonia, Complete 50 Years of Married Life.

Leetonia, September 3.—(Special)—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick was celebrated Monday at their home just north of here. Relatives and friends from Warren, Columbiana, New Waterford, Warsaw, Ind., Atkins, Iowa, and other places were present to congratulate the old and happy couple who had spent a half century of wedded bliss. One of the features of the day was the re-marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick. This ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by Rev. G. W. Dunlap, of Washingtonville. The latter read from the scripture and spoke of the joys and sorrows of life and congratulated the husband and wife who had lived so long with each other.

George Frederick and Miss Sarah Bates were married in Washingtonville on September 1, 1853. All their life has been spent in this vicinity and they are well and favorably known. Many handsome and appropriate presents were given.

CRAFTON - SHAW

Wedding of Two Popular Young People at St. Aloysius' Church This Morning.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Grafton and Thomas Shaw was solemnized this morning at St. Aloysius' church, Rev. Father T. J. Mahon officiating. The ceremony was simply but beautiful, and was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends. The bride wore a modish gown of gray silk lansdowne with trimmings of silk applique and steel gray velvet ribbons. She wore a large white hat and carrier bride's roses of the same color. Mrs. Walter Milliner, a sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor, and wore a becoming costume of blue satin fouiard, and also carried a bouquet of roses. John Grafton, a brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have many friends here who will extend to them best wishes for future happiness.

LIEBTAG--NAGLE

Wellsville Young Lady and East Liverpool Business Man Married This Morning.

At the Immaculate Conception church in Wellsville this morning at 8 o'clock occurred the wedding of Miss May Liebtag, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Liebtag, of Wellsville, and Mr. John C. Nagle, a well known plumber of East Liverpool, a partner in the firm of Nagle Bros.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Daniel B. Crotty, rector of the church, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Nagle, a sister of the groom, and Emmet Liebtag, a brother of the bride, acted as best man.

After the ceremony, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Liebtag, on Main street, a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. The house was handsomely decorated. The happy couple left on the noon train for the east. They will first go to New York city, where they hope to arrive in time to view the yacht race. They will visit other cities, including Atlantic City, and return in two weeks. They will reside for the present at the Liebtag home.

Lutheran League Reception.

The members of the Luther League of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church last evening were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Woessner, in the West End. The reception was one of the most enjoyable functions ever tendered the society. There were about 30 present and the evening passed rapidly in entertaining games. The first prize was awarded to Henry Schreiber. Delightful refreshments were served at a late hour by Mrs. Woessner, Mrs. Luther Gilbert and Miss Celia Auberger.

September is not the busiest month of the year in the Dry Goods Store, neither is it the dullest business month by any means. Two factors figure in making September a busy month, as well as very interesting and profitable to shoppers, viz: the advance showing of new Autumn Goods in every dept, and a complete clearance of all Summer Goods, at such low prices, rather than carry them over, that it is a big investment to buy now and carry them until next season.

STATE LAW FOR THE ACTION UNDERTAKEN

A special order of business was created by Trades Council last night in order to permit the gas question to be disposed of. A report was made by a member of the legislative committee of the progress made in the movement since the last meeting of the council, and acquainted the body with the request made by City Solicitor Davidson that a plaintiff be furnished in each of two cases to be brought against the gas companies.

The two volunteers were quickly secured in the persons of John R. Rearik, who will act in the case against the Ohio Valley, and Thos. C. Neal's name will be used in connection with the petition against the Tri-State company. The men went at once to the office of Solicitor George E. Davidson, where the papers were signed and in a few minutes were ready to be filed with the court. Mr. Davidson took the documents to Wellsville last night and they were placed in the hands of Solicitor Charles Boyd, who has been instructed to take the same action in behalf of Wellsville. Mr. Boyd left early this morning for Lisbon and the petitions were filed before noon.

"The council of any city or village in which electric lighting companies, natural or artificial gas companies, or gas light or coke companies, may be established, or to which their wires, mains or pipes may be conducted, are hereby empowered to regulate, from time to time, the price which said electric lighting, natural or artificial gas or gas light and coke companies may charge for electric lights or for gas for lighting or fuel purposes, furnished by such companies to the citizens, public grounds and buildings, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues, wharves and landing places; and such electric lighting, natural or artificial gas or gas light and coke companies shall in no event charge more for any electric light or natural or artificial gas furnished to such corporation or individuals than the price specified by ordinance of such council; and such council shall also have power to regulate and fix the price which such companies shall charge for the rent of their meters."

It was learned yesterday that Judge W. W. Hole was out of the county, and it was then decided to go before Judge Ralph S. Ambler, of Canton. He, too, was absent from home, and the only thing left for the attorneys to do was to go before Judge George F. Robinson at Ravenna. All arrangements have been made for the trip to the latter city tomorrow and it is likely a decision can be secured within a few hours after a hearing is had.

The two petitions are identical with the exceptions of the name of plaintiff and defendant and the location of the

FINAL ARRANGEMENES ARE PERFECTED

Everything Now in Readiness for the Great Labor Day Parade.

The final meeting of the Labor Day committee was held last night at the close of the session of trades council.

Badges which will be worn in the parade in the morning were distributed among the locals through their delegates, and it was found there will be an abundance to go the whole way round.

Chief Marshal Beatty has called a meeting of the division commanders, aides and captains to be held Saturday evening at Brotherhood hall. At that time the duties of each individual will be outlined, and if they are carried out there will be no hitch. It is thought the arrangements now nearing completion are as near perfection as they can be made, so far as the parade is concerned, and after Saturday evening's meeting nothing will have been neglected, and it will be up to the locals to turn out to the man.

WARRANT ISSUED TO THWART CUPID

GIRL'S FAMILY TROUBLED

Feeling that the marriage of Miss Clara Bowman to an ex-convict, whose reputation has further suffered in the minds of people knowing him during the past week owing to actions reported fully in the News Review, would place a stigma on their names that could never be blotted, Mrs. D. T. Bowman, mother of the girl, and several of her brothers appeared at central station and pleaded that something be done to prevent the ceremony that would make the girl the wife of Newton Croxall.

Pity was elicited for the mother and brothers by the statement of the former to the mayor and chief of police. Mrs. Bowman and her sons are long residents of the city and have the highest respect of everyone of their acquaintance. They have known for years that young Croxall had an almost uncontrollable influence over the girl and all of them have protested vigorously against her companionship with him. It seems that Croxall and the girl have been lovers for years, a cell mate of Croxall stating that Croxall received letters from the girl throughout his incarceration in the state prison. The informant also says that the girl would invariably write of the objections of her mother and brothers to her corresponding with Croxall.

Upon Croxall's return from the penitentiary, it is said that he continued the courtship with Miss Bowman, against the wishes of her family. According to Mrs. Bowman he told her daughter that if any of the family interfered with him in his wooing that he would shoot them. And it was on this threat together with several others that Mrs. Bowman hoped to hold Croxall and delay the marriage. She said that the couple intended to leave

If the Matter Complained of Is Not Remedied — Tanyard Run Storm Sewer the Subject of a Legal Decision by Solicitor Davidson.

"The Board of Health versus the Board of Education," will be the title of a suit of much general interest, providing that the latter body does not abate an alleged nuisance, said by the board of health to be in existence, owing to negligence on the part of the defendants in the case. At the meeting of the board of health last evening it was unanimously decided that the sanitary sewer of the McKinley school building is emptying into the Tanyard run storm sewer, and it being the general belief of the board that numerous sanitary connections are being made with the storm sewer, it was decided to take action against the board of education, making it the defendant in a test case, which will decide permanently whether or not anyone has the right to connect to the storm sewer.

It will be remembered that the question has been before the board of public service and the board of health for months and that both bodies have talked almost incessantly regarding it. It was decided some time ago that the nuisance must be abated, and to find just what authority the board of health has in such a case the opinion of the city solicitor was requested. This opinion was prepared by the solicitor and read to the board last evening. The board, after discovering that it was all powerful, drafted a resolution ordering the board of education to abate the nuisance in question and instructed the clerk to notify the members of that board unless the order is complied with as soon as possible after September 8, the date of the opening of the city schools, steps will be taken to prosecute them. The opinion of the solicitor, which will apply to every person who has a sanitary sewer connected to the storm sewer, is as follows:

"Under section 2122 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio, it is the duty of the board of health to abate and remove all nuisances within said board's jurisdiction and it may compel the owners, agents, assignees, occupants or tenants of any property to abate and remove said nuisance. The board may treat the neglect or refusal to obey orders for such purpose as a misdemeanor punishable by fine as provided by its rules or by ordinances. Whenever the board of health knows that a nuisance exists it shall pass a resolution describing the nuisance and the premises on which it exists and by said resolution shall order the nuisance to be abated. A copy of the resolution should be then served upon the property owner, and said notice should order the owner or occupant to abate the nuisance within a specified time.

"If the said notice or order is neglected or disregarded then the board may, under section 2123, Revised Stat-

Alleges That Her Husband Kicked and Abused Her and Then Deserted Her.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Mrs. Amelia Knopp, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from Abraham Knopp, whose place of residence is unknown. The petition states that they were married at Salem, in September, 1899, and have had no children.

Mrs. Knopp charges that her husband, although fully able to do so, has wholly failed to provide for her since a short time after their marriage. On November 25, 1901, she says, her husband was guilty of extreme cruelty, kicking and otherwise shamefully maltreating her. Ever since that time, she says, he has refused to speak to her except in terms of abuse, and finally abandoned her August 25, 1902. She asks that with the divorce her maiden name, Amelia Mellinger, may be restored.

Prompt Action of Street Car Men Averted a Tragedy in the Diamond.

But for the prompt and heroic action of an employe of the East Liverpool railway in the Diamond last evening, a score of people would have been killed and many more so badly shocked as to render their recovery doubtful.

Conductor Jesse Todd and Motorman Ralph Herdman were in charge of car No. 24 which was the cause of all the trouble. At 8 o'clock the car approached the Diamond from the west, and as it turned off of Sixth street into the Diamond the trolley came off. The pole hit a guy wire with considerable force, breaking it loose from the pole to which it was attached. The absence of the guy caused the several trolley and span wires running about in that particular district to become misplaced. So strong was the tension that the span wire leading to the Southside line, near the Larkins' drug store, was unable to withstand the strain, and was severed at the outer end, falling to the track directly beneath the main trolley wire.

In an instant there was produced one of the most beautiful electrical displays ever witnessed by the large crowd of spectators. The span wire was in a white heat the moment it touched the rail, and then occurred the very thing which has caused so many hundreds of indiscreet people to lose their lives. When the trouble began a large crowd gathered, and it was added to every minute until there were perhaps 300 curious ones to jostle and push for the front rank. Every one rushed to the middle of the street and only escaped coming in contact with the heavily charged objects by the quick work of Jeff Crawford, an employe of the road, who grabbed a broom from car No. 24 and with considerable difficulty succeeded in making his way through the crowd. He very carefully removed the broken wire from the track just as a surrey containing two men and a lady drove onto the track from the direction of Broadway. They proved to be Miss Rest Humrickhouse, C. H. Murphy and Thomas Kruger. The party had a narrow escape.

The car on the Pleasant Heights extension arrived at this juncture and Conductor R. Donaldson and Motorman J. D. Byers took in the situation at a glance. Without stopping the car at all they hastily ran through the Diamond and under the broken span. Both men cautiously made their way to the roof of the car and securing the end of the wire, severed it close up to the pole. When the danger was past the crowd fell back, not realizing perhaps what a narrow escape they had. The presence of mind and promptness displayed by the employes of the railway undoubtedly prevented a terrible catastrophe.

PHONES TO BE GIVEN UP IF RATES ARE ADVANCED

The patrons of the Columbiana County Telephone company in this city are up against the same proposition that confronts Salem patrons, and methods just as strenuous as those used at Salem are to be carried out locally. Customers of the telephone company received notice yesterday that the rates are to be increased at the end of the present quarter to the amount of $6 per month on each telephone, business and residence.

Hardly had the notice been received by the several hundred subscribers in the city until a movement was started which will either defeat the company in its endeavor or will cause it to lose the patronage of every customer within the limits of the city. The movement was instituted by the Business Men's association, which has decided unanimously to refuse to sign any contract for an increased rate and if the company insists that the proposed contract be complied with every member of the association will at once order his telephone removed. This plan, it is believed by the association, will have the desired effect, and it is not likely that the courts will be applied to.

A meeting of the Business Men's association will be called for a date not far off. Members of the association could not state today the exact date, but they gave the assurance that their proposed action will be taken within four days. Not alone are the members of this association indignant at the proposition of the telephone company, every subscriber in the city being up in arms, and among them the members of the city council. One member of that body stated this morning that he would certainly sanction the proposed action of the business men and that whether or not they take out their telephones he will do so.

According to the notice received by the customers in the city the following rates are to be asked, contracts to be presented for signature in 30 days from the date of notification:

	Local rate.		Co. rate.
	Bus.	Res.	Bus.	Res.
2-party line	24	18	30	24
3-party line		15
4-party line		12

It will be noted that the rates as above quoted demand that subscribers shall pay an increase of $6 per month on all telephones. The ordinances granted the company by the city council April 25, 1899, is prohibitory against the increase and the fight against the proposition can be waged on it if thought advisable. The section of the ordinance pertaining to the price to be charged is as follows:

"Be it further ordained that said Solon C. Thayer and his associates, successors or assigns be and he is hereby limited in the price to be charged for exchange service within the corporate limits of said city of East Liverpool under the powers herein granted, as follows, towit: The charge per residence service shall not exceed $18 per annum, payable quarterly in advance, and the charge for business service shall not exceed $24 per annum, payable quarterly in advance."

Speakers Will Include Foraker, Hanna, Herrick and Harding—Gov. Nash to Preside.

Columbus, September 3.—(Special)—The Republican campaign will open at Chillicothe on Saturday, September 19. This was decided upon at a meeting of the state executive committee held in this city yesterday. Governor Nash will preside and the speakers will be Senators Foraker and Hanna, Colonel Myron T. Herrick and Hon. W. G. Harding. While Columbus, Canton, Warren, Marion and Lima were applicants for the opening, Columbus, Chillicothe and Mansfield were the towns which extended formal invitations. Senator Sam L. Patterson presented the claims of Chillicothe, which city was selected by a unanimous vote of the committee.

The Republican state central committee met and nominated George L. Watkins, of Waverly, Republican nominee for the full term of member of the state board of publis works, for the short term to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late C. A. Goddard, president of the board.

Chairman Dick says that the fight will center upon the legislature and not upon the state ticket. He says that organizations have been perfected by the Republicans in 50 of the 88 counties; that the Republicans have made nominations in 25 of the 33 senatorial districts, and that 87 of the 110 candidates for representative have been nominated. The work has progressed to a more advanced point at this time than it has ever done before under the management and direction of the present chairman and secretary.

Craig's New Job.

Charles Craig, official scorer for the Carroll club ball team, has accepted a position at one of the Rock Springs refreshment stands. He will continue his work as scorer, however, until the end of the season.

J. J. Kerr An Editor.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—John J. Kerr, an East Liverpool attorney, has purchased of W. S. Potts, a half interest in the Ohio Patriot. Mr. Kerr will come here at once to assume his duties as associate editor.

BOARD OF HEALTH HAD BUSY SESSION

Numerous Bills Paid And Other Matters of Interest Were Discussed.

The board of health transacted considerable business at the special meeting held last evening and for the first time in many months the entire completment of the board was present. Mayor Weaver presided and conducted the session in a manner that allowed adjournment before 9 o'clock.

Numerous bills of minor value were presented and the most of them were ordered paid. Bills amounting to $119.98 were passed without a word. This amount includes the salaries of the officials under the supervision of the board.

When the printing bills ordered by council several weeks ago, amounting to $8.40, were presented the board thought them to be under council's jurisdiction and ordered the clerk to return them to that body. The bill of $3.19, contracted for the purchase of medicine for John Cravenna, was turned over to the township trustees.

Clerk Herbert was instructed to submit he money he had received from milk licenses, $16, to the treasurer. After numerous other petty matters were talked of the board adjourned to meet some evening next week.

YOUNG WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

GIRL OF 19 SHOOTS HERSELF AT COLUMBIANA.

The Result Is Likely to Be Fatal—Her Record Not a Spotless One.

The bullet entered two inches above the nipple on the left breast. It was extracted by Drs. McIntyre, Tallmadge and Bookwalter. The result may be fatal, as it looks as if there would be an internal hemorrhage.

She has been living at the home of Grant Wilt, a colored man, and is said to have been engaged to marry Charles, his brother. She is a white girl. She has been arrested a number of times for intoxication.

Former Partner of the Late T. T. Hamilton, of Wellsville, Makes a Demand.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Twenty-five witnesses are here to testify in a hearing in probate court today, in the matter of Thomas T. Hamilton and A. D. Matteson, lately partners under the firm name of the Hamilton Prescription Pharmacy, which was in business in Wellsville.

Mr. Hamilton died July 4 and Lizzie Hamilton was appointed administratrix of his estate. A. D. Matteson, the surviving partner, now claims to own a half interest in the establishment and asks the court to appoint as appraisers T. A. McIntosh, A. Brannan and Edward Satow.

Surplus in Treasury.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—At a meeting of the officers and executive committee of the Columbiana County Harvest Home Picnic association held at Shelton's grove, the treasurer made a report showing a small surplus in the treasury and all the expenses of this year's picnic are paid. The president, George W. Armstrong, was appointed to try to secure better accommodations from the Erie Railroad company and the secretary, J. R. Stratton, was appointed to secure speakers.

THE BONDS NOT READY.

Purchasers Fail to Communicate With the Printers in the Matter.

Notwithstanding that the J. R. Williams company, of Pittsburg, the concern that purchased the $92,925 worth of bonds from the city at a premium of $200, asked for the bonds by Wednesday, no word was received by the printing establishment as to how they should be made yesterday and the company has not received the bonds yet.

A member of the company telephoned City Auditor Davidson last evening that he would send his attorney to the city to instruct the printer, and that he was not in a very great hurry to get hold of the bonds.

Hollenden Won.

The Hollenden and Belmont teams played another game at Rock Springs park yesterday afternoon, the Hollendens winning by a score of 14 to 10. The Hollenden battery was Andersoy and Rigby and the Belmont, Russell and Firth.

The Youngstown & Southern Pays a Big Round Sum For 1,000 Acres of Valuable Coal Land Near West Point.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—The magnitude of the recent coal deal effected at West Point by the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company has just come to light. It involves a deal for 1,000 acres, including both the land and coal rights, and the price, as near as can be learned, is in the neighborhood of $45,000. As has already been reported in the News Review, the first payment on this land, $10,000, has already been made. The balance is to be paid at the rate of $5,000 per month until all has been paid.

The land is considered the most valuable mineral land in the vicinity of West Point. Some years ago the Beaver company was organized and purchased it outright. The Beaver company is composed of George B. Harvey, Lisbon; J. H. French, Salem; W. K. George, West Point; William McLane, West Point; ex-County Treasurer Charles E. Smith, Columbiana, and C. C. Baker, Alliance.

As is well known, the Youngstown & Southern proposes to make coal mining an important feature of its business, and after eastern capitalists interested in the road had been over the ground and an exceedingly favorable report had been received from the state mine inspector on the value of the West Point coal fields, the railroad company made an offer to the Beaver company which accepted. There is great rejoicing among the owners of farms and coal lands in the vicinity of West Point who have been waiting for years to see that coal field developed.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The fifth annual meeting of the American Ceramic society, held at Zanesville last week, beginning on Wednesday and ending Friday evening, was a success from every standpoint. There were scores of interested pottery manufacturers present and they all profited much by the discussion of many important subjects.

The reception committee, composed of Zanesville members, spared no time and labor in arranging for the pleasure of the members of the society. Every train was met by this committee and upon the arrival of a member he was given a hearty welcome and at once taken to the convention hall, which was located in the Builders' exchange.

The first meeting of the society was very brief, the time being devoted to the business of minor importance that had accumulated during the past year. This session was followed by an informal social time, in which every one derived great pleasure. The society assembled the next morning at 9 o'clock, and under the guidance of a committee the entire body visited the American Encaustic Tile company's plant at the north end of the city. This plant is one of the largest and most flourishing of its kind in the world and three hours were required to give it an inspection. The products of the plant comprise encaustic floor tiles, all sizes from Mosaic up, and glazed and decorated wall tiles in every degree of ornamentation. This pleasureable visit ended, the body adjourned to lunch, after which the north plant of the Roseville Pottery company was inspected. Many things of interest to all were seen in this plant in which are manufactured a line of single fire specialties, a line of jardineres and pedestals in white body with blended colored glazes, a line of underglaze art ware, decorated in slip on blended backgrounds, and a line of overglaze jardinieres and vases.

A boat ride on the Muskingum was the next thing on the program of Thursday. The beautiful little pleasure launch "Outing" conveyed the crowd on the trip. The party left Zanesville at 7:30 a. m. Friday on a special train provided by the C. & M. V. railway for Crooksville, where the day was spent in the inspection of the coal mines of the Zanesville Coal company, the pottery of the Star Stoneware company, the plant of the Crooksville China company, the Roseville Brick & Terra Cotta company's plant and the plant of the Ohio Pressed Brick company.

The concluding session of the society was held Friday evening. Routine business was disposed of with despatch, the greater part of the time being devoted to social pleasure and the informal discussion of teennical topics suggested by the two days' sight seeing.

It was unanimously decided to hold the next meeting at St. Louis. Ten new names were added to the roll of the society at the meeting. John Sant, of this city, was in attendance.

THE WEATHER.

Ohio—Partly cloudy; possibly showers along Lake Erie; Friday fair, light variable winds.

Western Pennsylvania — Partly cloudy; possibly showers near Lake Erie; Friday fair, light winds, mostly south.

LOST FOR YEARS.

A Boston art collector has just started on a long and costly search for an ancient and valuable Japanese vase for which J. Pierpont Morgan is willing to pay $400,000. The vase is a massive affair of solid gold, designed and wrought by Hidari Jingoro for Emperor Yoshimitsu. It was intended for the palace of Muromachu, and has been lost to the world since Yoshimitsu precipitated Japan into civil strife.

POTTERY NOTES.

The sprinkler system for fire protection will be installed at the Colonial.

Joseph G. Lee, of the K., T. & K., has returned from a vacation trip to Canada.

The trouble at the Stern plant, Cincinnati, has been adjusted and the men are working again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Veith have returned from Niagara Falls and other places of interest in the east.

McNicol's is having a fine run and the plant is operating in full with a steady demand for all the ware they can make. The business this year by this firm promises to be greater than last year.

Henry Bren, formerly of Wheeling, is endeavoring to interest Huntington capitalists in a pottery plant.

The Sevres has been particularly rushed in the decorating department, several large decalcomania orders necessitating the addition of several gilders to the present force.

Tired

No Sleep for Weeks Nervous, Weak.

Surgical Operation Wrecked My Nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Restored My Health.

"A few years ago I had to submit to a surgical operation which caused me severe spinal trouble. After treatment I could not gain strength because of extreme nervousness. I took everything I could hear of that was supposed to be good for my trouble but all in vain. I had not had a night's sleep in weeks, when one day one of your circulars was thrown into our yard and after reading what your Nervine had done for others, I resolved to try it. The second night after taking it I slept soundly for the first time in many months and after taking a few bottles I was completely cured. I also used the Nerve Plaster for backache with very gratifying results. I shall always be grateful for the benefits received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies."—Mrs. C. W. Beaman, Savannah, Mo.

"I wish to thank you for the good your medicine has done me. It has almost worked wonders in my case. I was subject to nervous headaches for a period of thirty years. I had doctored with several doctors and had taken a number of different kinds of patent medicines, all to no avail. I was discouraged for I could not get permanent relief. At last I began a trial of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills. I am now completely cured and words cannot express my thankfulness to you and your medicine. If any one wishes to write to me personally I will gladly answer their letters."—J. W. Brant, Ingrahm, Ills.

A CASE OF ILLNESS SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

Jessie Blankensop Had Been Doped and Told Conflicting Stories at Alliance.

Alliance, September 3.—A case of illness which is shrouded in much mystery and covered with an impenetrable veil of secrecy is reported here.

Railroad Policeman Joseph Wier on going to the Union depot discovered a woman lying on a seat in the ladies' waiting room apparently in the throes of death. Going to her side he tried to arouse the woman from the stupor and wring from her the nature of her illness, and proffer her the assistance of a physician.

For more than one hour Wier vainly kept up his effort to extract from the girl her name, and place of residence, thinking that if successful her friends could be notified of her condition and could come to her assistance. She was neatly but not gaudily clad, of good appearance, and robust form and pleasing features. After almost two hours of futile efforts the girl regained consciousness and awoke from her stupor and said her name was Jessie Blankensop and that she came to Alliance from Salineville on train 301 which arrived in Alliance at 2:40 in the morning. As soon as she arrived in the city she sought the waiting room and became violently ill. She stated that since Saturday she had been in the company of two men, whose names she refused to disclose, and they had given her some decoction, the nature of which she did not know, which had made her exceedingly ill.

It was thought best to remove the woman to the city hospital and the ambulance was called and tender hands lifted her into the van which bore her to the institution of charity and Dr. Tressel summoned. Later the girl stated that she was 21 years old and told conflicting stories in regard to her home. She stated she came from Kensington and also from New Brighton, that her mother lived in New Castle, and that she was on her way to Pittsburg. It was evident that Jessie was endeavoring to conceal her identity and that she was adroitly covering up the nature of her ailment.

Later advices are that Jessie Blankensop boarded the train at East Liverpool with a ticket for Salineville. She did not stop at the latter town, but continued on the train until she reached Alliance.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

LONG SESSION OF TRADES COUNCIL

Matters of Moment to Labor Unionists Engaged Members' Attention.

Being the last meeting before the Labor day demonstration, the regular session of Trades Council held last evening was an unusually busy one, and lasted until a late hour.

The new delegates seated were Electrical workers No. 93, Daniel Dixon, Samuel Cowles; Street Railway No. 52, W. S. Rauch; Printers No. 19, Edward L. Hatten.

A communication was received from the Central Federated union of New York, asking aid in behalf of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' union of that city, which organization is in the midst of a bitter fight for recognition. The letter was ordered filed. It will be further discussed at the next meeting, when it can be given more time.

President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in a lengthy circular, outlined the action of the executive board of that organization in the dispute over jurisdiction between the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Amalgamated Wood Workers' International union. The communication was a lengthy one and was ordered filed.

The corresponding secretary was ordered to address a letter petitioning President Roosevelt, in the name of the Trades Council, to reconsider his determination to retain in his position one W. A. Miller as an employe of the government printing office. Miller has been proven guilty of conduct unbecoming a unionist, and his retirement has been demanded to promote the efficiency of the service.

The attention of the body was called to the fact that the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor would be held in Findlay beginning October 6. Some action will be taken at the next meeting.

A communication was received from the Master Plumbers' association of the city, asking that some action be taken in the strike among their employes, which has been in progress for several months. As the delegates from the plumbers' union also desired that the council interest itself in the matter, and so requested last evening, the dispute was placed in the hands of the grievance committee. It was announced that the committee, which should consist of five members, was not full, needing two additional men, the president appointed Edward L. Hatton and Stephen Hague to fill the vacancies. The committee will meet on Friday evening, and the parties interested are hoping the difficulties may be quickly adjusted.

Representatives of the Steam Engineers' International union reported that every effort had been made to bring about a settlement in their controversy with the Potters' association in which they aimed to have their union recognized and a scale of prices signed. A conference had been held, they said, but the manufacturers refused to accede to the demands. The grievance committee will also look after this matter.

The dispute of long standing between the coopers' union and the firm of E. O. Walters was reported to be as far from a settlement as ever, and after a discussion of considerable length plans were decided upon which may result in a settlement.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches or other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You get this reliable remedy at

FAMINE THREATENED

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 3.—The report published by the Dnevnik of a general uprising in Northern Macedonia is denied both in official and revolutionary circles. Well-informed persons, however, assert that the report was correct, but that its premature publication disarranged the plans of the revolutionists, and therefore it is denied.

According to reliable reports from Monastir, thousands of Bulgarians in that vilayet are confronted with famine in addition to Turkish persecution. Peasants who are continually arriving from Monastir complain of the attitude of Hilmi Pasha and the Turkish atrocities.

Villages Burned by Turks.

The news is published here of an eight-hour fight which occurred at the village of Smilovo August 26 between 300 insurgents and eight battalions of Turkish troops supported by artillery. Thirty-five insurgents are reported dead, while 60 Turks were killed or wounded. On the following day the Turks returned and burned the village. Seven other villages in the neighborhood are said to have also been burned by the Turks.

Bulgarian Trader Wounded.

The insurgents in the district of Adrianope appear to be less active. The Turks are pouring in an overwhelming force and the revolutionaries are taking refuge in the mountains. The Bulgarian leader Gergicoff has been wounded and has fled to Burgas, Bulgaria.

The Russian government has declined to receive the visit of the deputation of Macedonian fugitives in Bulgaria, who proposed to go to St. Petersburg and inform the czar of the pitiable condition of Macedonia and beg for his intervention. The deputation has been informed that the Russian government deems the visit quite unnecessary, as it quite understands the purpose of the deputation.

Seaport in Insurgent Hands.

The insurgents, it is reported, have captured the seaport of Ahtaboly, near Vasiliko, on the Black sea, and the Turkish population has fled to Constantinople. The insurgents have organized a local government at the captured seaport and are giving ships their clearing papers and sanitary certificates.

The Dnevnik continues to report numbers of outrages on the part of the Turkish soldiery in a number of villages.

Adrianople Reported Burning.

Vienna, Sept. 3.—The Belgrade papers are again spreading sensational rumors that a portion of the town of Adrianople has been blown up and that the other part is burning. No confirmation of these reports is obtainable here.

Constantinople, Sept. 3.—The porte has sent a note to the foreign embassies and legations informing them that, according to police information, the Bulgarian agitators are practicing outrages against the embassies, legations and other public buildings in Constantinople.

The note says the Ottoman government has taken precautions and requests the heads of the foreign missions to do likewise.

New Counterfeit.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The secret service has received a new counterfeit $10 national bank note on the Mechanics national bank, of New Bedford, Mass. The series is of 1882, check letter B, charter No. 743, Bruce, register; Wyman, treasurer of the United States. It is a good photograph on plain paper, no fibre; numbers, seal and panel of black tinted with thin colors.

Ex-Mayor Taken to Poor House.

Scranton, Sept. 3.—Ex-Mayor James G. Bailey, who recently confessed as a witness in the Finn-Scranton libel suit that he took a bribe of $1,000 to sign a paving contract, was taken to Hillside home, the city's poor house and insane asylum. He was mayor from 1895 to 1898, and before entering the office was one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Scranton. The lobbyists got him dissipating and the latter part of his term was rife with scandals. The prosecutions against him were dropped because of the mental and physical condition that resulted from the disclosures of his actions as mayor.

Stolen Bas-Relief Recovered.

Rome, Sept. 3.—The police at Florence have succeeded in finding a valuable Della-Robbia bas-relief, representing the descent from the cross, which was stolen last January from the oratory of the brotherhood of the Annunciation at Lepi. Several persons have been arrested. They are said to have formed an association of thieves to send antique works of art abroad. The bas-relief when found was already packed for dispatch abroad. It is expected that other precious objects which recently disappeared will be recovered.

Bottles by Machinery.

Toledo, O., Sept. 3.—A company was incorporated with a full paid capital of $3,000,000, subscribed principally by New Yorkers and Pittsburgers, to exploit an automatic bottle making machine which bears the same relation to the glass trade as the linotype to the newspaper business. The machine will save $3,000,000 per year on the cost of beer bottles alone, and will dispense entirely with skilled labor. The principal glass manufacturers of the United States have quietly visited Toledo and seen and approved the machine.

Pittsburg Exposition Opened.

Pittsburg, Sept. 3.—Eighteen thousand people witnessed the opening of the fifteenth season of the Pittsburg exposition. It was the most notable assemblage that ever gathered at the big buildings at the Point. In appearance and the display of gowns by the women in the vast audience, the visitors compared favorably with a grand opera throng. The attractions fulfilled every promise which had been made by the exposition management.

EAST END

Miss Sarah Densmore and Charles Volhart Were Married Yesterday at Steubenville.

Miss Sarah Densmore and Charles Volhart, the young couple that eloped from the East End yesterday morning, were united in marriage at Steubenville and have returned to the East End to receive the parental blessing. The announcement that the nuptial knot was tied at Steubenville was quite a surprise, as it was thought that the destination of the couple was Martin's Ferry, the former home of Mr. Volhart. Realizing that the relatives would suspect they would go to Martin's Ferry, the couple concluded to outwit them and avoid any complications by stopping at Steubenville.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Volhart are stopping with a relative of the former on St. George street, but will go to housekeeping soon.

Joseph B. McKinnon, the owner of the house on St. George street, where it was stated yesterday, trouble had arisen because a non-union painter had been employed, has asked the News Review to set him right before the public in the matter. Mr. McKinnon has always been a firm friend of union men. He states that as soon as he was told by the painters' local that the man was non-union he ordered the painting stopped and that it will not go on until the difficulty is adjusted to the satisfaction of the unions concerned. Mr. McKinnon was told by contracting painters that the painter was a union man before the work was started.

Concerning the statement that the plasterers and carpenters had refused to continue work, Mr. McKinnon states that the plasterers had not commenced and that the carpenters have nothing to do until the plasterers are through.

ALASKA BOUNDARY COMMISSION

Receive Arguments in International Dispute—Ambasador Choate Gives Dinner.

London, Sept. 3.—The arguments of the United States and Great Britain based on the cases and counter cases in the Alaskan boundary arbitration already filed were submitted by counsel of the two governments to the Alaskan boundary commissioners.

One of the Canadian counsel said after reading the American brief that it was a strong document, but he thought Great Britain had a fighting chance.

Ambassador Choate gave a dinner to Chief Justice Alverstone and all the boundary commissioners, Judge John M. Dickinson representing the American counsel and Sir Robert Finlay and Sir Edward Carson representing the British counsel.

Chief Justice Alverstone will be chosen chairman of the commission, which will assemble in the cabinet room of the foreign office. An adjournment for a fortnight will then be taken to allow counsel to prepare their oral arguments. Three counsel on each side will address the commission.

There is a disposition on the part of all the commissioners to hasten the conclusion of the case, and it is now believed that the award will be rendered in the middle of October.

Yachts Fail to Race.

New York, Sept. 3.—The fourth attempt to sail what was expected to be the concluding race between the Reliance and Shamrock III. failed miserably. They were not even sent across the line. Both boats were towed out to Sandy Hook lightship in a dense fog and flat calm and then waited two hours in the hope of a wind from some other direction than the west to blow away the fog and give them speed enough to cover 30 miles within five and a half hours.

Engagement Announced.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 3.—The announcement from London of the engagement of the duke of Roxburghe to Miss May Goelet was confirmed here by Mrs. Goelet. The duke has been a guest of the Goelet mansion for several days, and the announcement of the engagement was not unexpected by the observant members of the social set here, who had decided that the foreigner was a suitor. There is talk of a brilliant social affair in the near future, at which formal public announcement of the engagement will be made by Mrs. Goelet.

A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains.

"Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is sapping away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—MRS. LIFE OF PRESIDENT

President Fully Aware of Trouble. Officers Have Considerable Difficulty With Crazed Man—Reason Unhinged by Hard Work.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 3.—Frank Weilbrenner was arrested at Sagamore Hill while making a persistent demand to see President Roosevelt. He was armed with a revolver fully loaded. He was taken to Mineola, L. I., and placed in the custody of the county authorities.

It appears that President Roosevelt was aware of the trouble the secret service officer had with Weilbrenner. After the man had been turned back the second time, despite his insistence that he had an engagement with the president, the officer, to make assurance doubly sure, inquired of the president about the fellow. Mr. Roosevelt was in his library only a short distance from the spot where the officer had stopped Weilbrenner's horse. He told the officer he had no engagement with anybody.

President Witnesses Arrest.

When Weilbrenner returned a third time with a demand that he be permitted to see the president, the officer seized him and drew him out of the vehicle over the front wheel. The noise of the scuffle attracted the president's attention. He appeared at the door overlooking the driveway from the veranda as Weilbrenner was being taken into the stables, but returned to the library almost immediately.

Weilbrenner has been practicing with his revolver recently, but he would give no reason for his interest in marksmanship and said he could not shoot very well.

Weak Mind Unhinged by Trouble.

It appears that one of his brothers, who attended the examination, is a metal worker and belongs to a labor union in Brooklyn. Some time ago he lost his position and went with his wife to his father's farm at Syosset. The farm is a good one, but the family is in debt for it and the father, Henry Weilbrenner, and the son who was arrested, have been working hard to lift the indebtedness.

The son from Brooklyn is said to have talked a good deal to his brother recently about labor unions and about the loss of his position. It is thought that the hard work and the trouble over the farm indebtedness had something to do with unsettling young Weilbrenner's mind.

Precautions for President's Safety.

The Weilbrenner incident is the first serious occurrence of the kind during the president's summer sojourn at Sagamore Hill. It has demonstrated completely in the opinion of officials here the wisdow of the close systematic guard which is maintained at all times over the president. He is exposed frequently, it is true, to assault, but every care that human agencies can devise is exercised constantly to insure his personal safety and iramunity from danger. Personally he was not perturbed by the Weilbrenner incident, but, although the maintenance of the guard is often distasteful to him, he thoroughly realizes the necessity in the circumstances of having made as certain as possible the personal safety of the president of the United States.

MANY LIVES LOST ON STEAMER

Twenty-nine Killed by Series of Explosions on Vessel in Black Sea.

Constantinople, Sept. 3.—Three explosions occurred on the Austrian steamer Vaskapu soon after leaving the Bulgarian port of Burgas en route for Constantiople, by which the captain and officers of the steamer and six of her crew were killed, a total of 29 lives being lost.

The Vaskapu sailed from Varna, Bulgaria, and after calling at Burgas was steaming through the Black sea to Constantinople when three explosions took place on board. The deck of the vessel took fire and she had to be run ashore at Misivria Bey, 13 miles north of Burgas.

The Vasakpu belonged to the Hungarian Levant Steamship company, of Fiume, Austria, and has been engaged on the Black sea service. She was built in New Castle in 1891 and was a steamer of 1,070 tons.

May Involve Whole State.

Kansas City, Sept. 3.—All the 8,000 coal miners in Misouri may become involved in a strike unless the 600 men in the Novinger district return to work promptly. They went out against the orders of President John Mitchell and in violation of the Chicago conference, and the operators may refuse to enter the conference scheduled to be held on September 10 if the operators should decline to confer further it is predicted it will result in the closing of all the mines.

Cresceus Fails to Lower Record.

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 3.—Against a high southwest wind blowing across Williams track, Cresceus was unable to lower his trotting record of 2:02¼. The big stallion made a great effort but could do no better than 2:06¾. The track was too hard for good footing.

TALKS ON BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw Discusses Financial Question at Business Men's Banquet.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Two hundred business men from all parts of the country listened to Secretary of the Treasury Shaw talk on "The Business Outlook" at a banquet given at the Auditorium hotel by the National Association of Merchants and Travelers. Lyman J. Gage addressed the association on the same subject just before his retirement from the treasury department, and great interest was attached to the speech of the present secretary.

In his discussion of the financial question Secretary Shaw declared that what was needed was not an elastic dollar, but some provisions by which, automatically, the aggregate volume of dollars should increase wherever more dollars were needed, and would as promptly retire when not needed.

Both Sides Make Concessions.

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—The series of conferences between representatives of the Pennsylvania railroad telegraphers and General Manager Atterbury relative to certain demands made by the operators came to an end after concessions had been made by both sides. The questions of wages in no way entered the demands. All operators on the system east of Pittsburg and Erie, whether working eight or 12 hour shifts, will hereafter be given a relief of one day per month with pay; operators at present receiving two days' a month relief continue to receive the same, and the operators in the superintendent's office and the general office will be in no way affected under the new proposition. The new arrangement will go into effect on October 1.

Negro Hanged for Usual Crime.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 3.—Anderson Finch, colored, was hanged at Boydton for an attempted assault on Mrs. C. A. Geoghan, of Chase City. Doc Bacon, another negro, was condemned to die with Finch for complicity in the crime, but was reprieved by the governor until Friday to permit further examination into his case.

The interesting question has been raised whether probate judges in Ohio have the right to issue naturalization papers. Probate Judge Black, of Columbus, whose right was questioned, communicated with the attorney general of the United States in reference to the matter. The reply, by the acting attorney general, does not decide that probate courts have no jurisdiction, but advises Mr. Black to suspend hearing such cases till the question is decided by some judge. Judge Black will follow this advice, and bring suit at once in the United States court at Cincinnati. The course of Judge Black in suspending naturalizations is likely to be followed by probate judges throughout Ohio. There is a heavy fine and imprisonment for issuing naturalization papers illegally, and it is contended, with excellent logic, that the granting of citizenship being a function of the national government, only federal courts have jurisdiction in the matter.

John H. Clarke, senatorial candidate, begins his campaign by repudiating free silver and defending himself for having voted against Bryan. From a man who was nominated on a Kansas City platform, this political declaration is unique, but it is not calculated to promote Democratic harmony in Ohio.

Our Canadian neighbors are getting gay. One statesman says that Canada can whip the United States and another announces that war is coming sooner or later. As Canada has about as big a population as Illinois or Ohio we might deputize one of these states to whip our pugnacious neighbor.

East Liverpool does not tamely submit to extortionate demands. The gas companies and the Columbiana County Telephone company will find that they have to deal with citizens who are aware of their rights and propose to stand up for them.

The revelation that the president is not safe from the plots and designs of cranks, even in the quiet of his summer home and among his old neighbors, is a most unpleasant one. It will doubtless result in renewed precautions for his safety.

A minister in Tonawanda, N. Y., distributed trading stamps to his congregation Sunday night, by way of making the services attractive. He should abandon the ministry to men who are able to command an audience instead of buying it.

It is the attempt on the life of the American vice-consul that is important, not the success or non-success of the attempt. Some of the half-cocked newspapers seem to think the incident of no value because Magelssen was not killed.

Bryan has not changed. He likes gold Democrats no better than formerly. But he would willingly approve anybody or anything that would give Democrats a show. The sincerity of his political professions is easily gauged.

The Columbiana County Telephone company will find it uphill business, trying to convince the people that there is no truth in the old adage that "talk is cheap."

Never mind, Sir Thomas; you have won American good will. That is worth more than the cup you were after.

Tom L. Johnson weighs 287 pounds, but even his most ponderous political theories are decidedly light weight.

Bryan gives Clarke a qualified endorsement. That is more than Bryan gets from Clarke.

AT THE THEATER

The Dilger-Cornell company will open a weeks' engagement at the Grand opera house next Monday evening, September 7. This company needs no introduction to the theater-goers of East Liverpool, having already established itself as a favorite here. This season the company is much larger and stronger than ever and presenting a line of royalty plays that are all metropolitan successes, but which have never been given before at popular prices. Special scenery and effects are carried for each piece. The opening bill for Monday night will be "The Princess of Patches," a grand old southern comedy in four acts, full of the warm sunshine of that country. Act first shows a cotton field in full bloom, so realistic and true to nature is the scene that one can almost see the cotton waving. Another act presents an old southern mansion among the magnolias and an old boat house on the Mississippi. Six big specialties are introduced between the acts, making it a continuous show, the curtain never being down over half a minute.

When either the president or the politician "swings around the circle," they rarely describe more than an arc. It is your hustling irrepressible minstrel manager, like the indomitable John W. Vogel, he of the large "Big Minstrels." And what a vast amount of work to be constantly accomplished! Street parades, rehearsals and performances, sometimes twice a day, and the journeying, almost the year round. In the words of the song: "The Same Thing Over Again," until the end of the season and the band plays "Home, Sweet Home." John W. Vogel's Big Minstrels will appear at the Grand Friday evening and will be the treat of the season.

HEARING ON FRIDAY IN THE GAS CASE

Solicitor Boyd Will Try to Arrange With Judge Robinson for It.

City Solicitor Charles Boyd went to Ravenna today to institute a suit before Judge Robinson for an injunction to restrain the Tri-State Gas company from raising their rates on gas here. Mr. Boyd states that he will arrange for a hearing to be given Friday morning.

This will be a most important step for the city against the gas company, and is heartily approved by every citizen of the city, who is anxious to prevent the raising of the gas rates. The case will be fought by the city to the bitter end if need be. This case is entered by the city solicitor in accordance with the instructions of council at the Tuesday evening session.

PLUMBERS STILL HOLD CHARTER

MANY HAVE RETURNED TO THE CITY TO FIGHT.

Their Grievances Have Been Taken Up By Central Labor Union for Settlement.

The local organization of plumbers has been in a peculiar position for some time. The union has always been small in numbers, and when the strike came on last spring many of the members whose homes were in other cities, fought against the master plumbers for a few weeks or until their funds were exhausted. Then they were compelled to seek employment elsewhere. The members of the local attribute their failure to bring about a settlement of their strike to the fact that there was scarcely enough men left in the town to constitute a quorum.

Things have transpired recently, however, which caused some of the members who had been away to return to the city. The charter was never surrendered, and within the past few weeks several meetings have been held. The long-drawn-out disputes were aired in Trades Council last night from all standpoints, and action taken by the central labor union which may result in a settlement. A conference has been arranged for Friday evening, and it is thought the two factions will be gotten together.

There was an impression in some quarters that the journeymen had surrendered their charter, but this was wrong, and on account of certain stories circulated generally upon the streets, the men have resolved to have their grievances aired and settled once for all. Murray & Darrah, two journeymen, have given employment to all of the idle men, but both men have retained their active membership and will probably go back to regular journeyman work when the strike is settled.

DEATH DUST

Ants

The ant is a clean insect, so far as habits of living are concerned. Their supreme annoyance is their vast number and vexations persistence. They appear suddenly, increase enormously in number, and locate to stay. Many of the means and articles used for ridding the premises of their troublesome presence are useless, because so dangerous that they cannot be employed freely. While harmless to people Death Dust is death to ants.

The Contest for the Office of Sheriff Promises to Be Most Interesting.

Although the time for holding the Republican primary election in Hancock county is many months away and deals without number are liable to be made, there are those in the county who claim they could forecast their outcome in several of the offices. Of the several places to be filled next spring on the county ticket, none is so important or lucrative as that of sheriff. For this reason the list of aspirants will be large, and every district in the county will be represented by at least one candidate.

The election laws of West Virginia are so framed that no sheriff may succeed himself. It has been customary heretofore for a man holding the position to conduct his affairs in such a manner as will reflect credit upon him as an official in order that he may be in line for the same position when his successor will have completed his term. In other words, every incumbent of the office expects to secure his second term, but cannot do so until one term of four years has been filled in between.

Previous to the last election A. F. Wilkins was the incumbent. He was succeeded by C. F. Allison, of Grant district, or Chester. Mr. Allison is a Democrat, and was elected over Cuppy, his Republican opponent, by a good safe majority. The result of the election was a surprise to Wilkins, who had confidence in Cuppy's ability to win, and it was said at the time, interfered somewhat with the former's calculations for the future.

It is announced, however, that in spite of the disappointment at that time, Wilkins is an avowed candidate, and has already begun an active campaign for the position. He did not get through with his first term without making enemies, and it is said will have a hard proposition to face in even landing a fairly good place. Another thing calculated to hurt his chances not a little is the fact that there are several candidates from his own district of Clay or New Cumberland. All of the men are claimed to be top-notchers by their friends, and each is personally antagonistic to Wilkins.

The most popular and by far the strongest man from the lower end of the county, according to the best informed politicians, is "Moss" Burford. Mr. Burford has been a resident of New Cumberland for many years, having moved to that city from East Liverpool when the old Chelsea pottery was in operation previous to its coming into possession of the Union company. He has been conducting a mercantile business in New Cumberland long enough to earn for himself an enviable reputation among the town's most prominent merchants.

Among the candidates from the upper portion of the county will be Al McDonald, Hiram Allison and James Cochran, all of whom have good backing and a host of friends.

THOUGHT IT A BEAR

Chester Men Encounter a Remarkable Specimen of the Ground-hog Tribe.

Robert Allison and Jefferson Smith were over in Pennsylvania yesterday afternoon, where they butchered several beeves. Riurning late in the evening they had an encounter with what both men believed at first was a bear. Smith spied the animal across the fence in a field and says he could have sworn it was a bear, so large did the body appear. The men had a rifle in the buggy and Allison, without awaiting to alight, drew a bead on the huge animal and pulled the trigger. Although the beast did not fall it gave evidence of having been hit, and quickly reloading the rifle, he got out of the buggy and fired again.

Quickly scaling the fence he approached the beast and found it very much alive. As he drew nearer the huge beast showed fight, and Allison's gun containing no load, he was about to retreat when he stumbled over a log. Before he could recover the huge animal was so near that escape was impossible. Allison turned the butt end of the gun uppermost and dealt his adversary a blow on the head, stunning it for a moment, and giving him time to recover himself. After some difficulty the beast was dispatched and later dragged to the middle of the road. Here it was found the brute was a groundhog, the largest ever seen in that part of the country. The butchers hauled it to Chester where it was weighed, tipping the scales at 62 pounds and 7 ounces. The groundhog was dressed, and provided a good meal for several families.

Men Ready for Work.

Louis Atkinson, a construction boss of wide experience, was in Chester this morning and made inquiry as to where Contractor Freshwater could be found. Atkinson was out of employment, but had about 30 Italians where he could put his hand upon them. Having learned that the Freshwaters were short of men he was anxious to place them in Chester. Atkinson said he had been annoyed earlier in the day by some fellow in East Liverpool who had attempted to take his men with him. He did not succeed, and it is probable they will all be given employment on the Chester streets.

property. The document with reference to the Tri-State company and signed by Mr. Neal is as follows:

In the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, O.

Thomas C. Neal, a Taxpayer in the City of East Liverpool on Behalf of the City of East Liverpool, O., Himself and the Other Consumers of Gas of the Tri-State Gas Company in said City, Plaintiff, vs. the Tri-State Gas Company, a Corporation, Defendant; Petition.

Plaintiff says that he is a resident of the city of East Liverpool, in the state of Ohio, and the owner in fee of a certain lot adjoining and fronting on Basil avenue, in said city, upon which he has erected a dwelling house, which he has, at great expense, arranged for the use of natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes; that no other fuel can be used therein without great detriment and inconvenience and expense; that the defendant is a corporation organized under the laws of Ohio and engaged in the business of operating a natural gas plant and selling to said city and the inhabitants thereof natural gas to be used for fuel and lighting purposes; that because of the public character of defendant's business the city granted to it a valuable franchise and permitted it, among other things, to lay its mains, pipes and conduits through and beneath the surface of the streets of said city; that in pursuance of the provisions of Section 2478 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Ohio the said city by its council duly passed an ordinance on June 23, 1903, entitled "An ordinance to regulate the price which the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company now, or which may be hereafter doing business in the city of East Liverpool, may charge for gas for and during the ensuing 10 years, which said ordinance is as follows:

"Be it ordained by the council of the city of East Liverpool, state of Ohio.

"Section 1—That during the period of 10 years and after the passage of this ordinance, the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company may charge for natural gas furnished to the citizens or private consumers, and to the public buildings, grounds, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, for illuminating and heating purposes, twenty-five (25) cents per thousand cubic feet; if paid within ten days after the dates of monthly settlement then a discount of five (5) cents per thousand cubic foot shall be allowed. The said, the Ohio Valley Gas company, its successors or assigns; the Tri-State Gas company, its successors or assigns, or any other gas company shall in no event, during the term of ten years, charge for gas furnished as above mentioned more than the price herein specified, nor shall the said company charge for the placing or rental of meters a greater sum than is now being charged.

"Section 2—This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

"JOHN HORWELL,

"Attest: WILLIS DAVIDSON, Clerk.

"Approved: W. A. WEAVER, Mayor."

I, Willis Davidson, clerk of the city of East Liverpool, O., do hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was published in the Evening News Review July 1st-8th, 1903.

WILLIS DAVIDSON,
City Clerk.

That said defendant had due notice of the passage of said ordinance.

Plaintiff says that on or about the 20th day of June, 1903, said defendant notified the consumers of its gas in said city that on or after the reading of gas meters in July, 1903, the price of its said gas would be increased from twenty (20) cents per thousand cubic feet to twenty-five (25) cents net per thousand cubic feet, which said latter rate is in excess of the rate prescribed by said ordinance as aforesaid.

That upon receipt of his gas bill for the month of July, 1903, the plaintiff refused to pay the amount specified therein, but tendered to the defendant the amount based upon the rate prescribed by the said ordinance, which rate is the same rate that has been charged by the defendant for seventeen years past; that the defendant refused to accept anything less than the amount called for by the bill as aforesaid, which amount was in excess of the amount which was due in accordance with the rate prescribed by the said ordinance, and which refusal was in violation of the provisions thereof.

The said defendant threatens to, and will, unless restrained by this court, collect said excessive rate for the gas used by plaintiff and the consumers of its gas in said city, and threatens to, and will, unless restrained by this court, shut off the gas supply of plaintiff and the other consumers of its gas in said city unless plaintiff and said consumers pay said excessive rate so charged by defendent, to the great and irreparable damage, loss and inconvenience of plaintiff and the other consumers of gas in said city.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that the defendant and its agent or agents may be restrained from shutting off the gas supply of said plaintiff and other consumers, who are willing to pay the rate as prescribed by said ordinance and from charging a price greater for the gas supplied than the price prescribed by said ordinance, and for such other relief as may be equitable therein.

[Signed.] THOS. C. NEAL.

the city today for New Cumberland, where they were to be married. Mayor Weaver could not determine how the marriage could be prevented, inasmuch as the girl is of age.

Mrs. Bowman found a possible way out of the dilemma by proposing that she swear out a warrant charging Croxall with threatening her life and carrying a revolver. The warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Mahoney, who made a thorough search of the city for Croxall and the girl, but they could not be located.

Telephonic communication with County Clerk Cooper at New Cumberland this afternoon revealed the fact that the runaway couple had not yet reached there. Mr. Cooper further stated that if the pair should apply to him he will not give them a license, it being his way to favor a mother in all such cases.

Clerk Cooper telephoned the News Review at 3 o'clock that Croxall had applied for a license and that he refused to give it to him. He said Croxall was much angered at the refusal and started toward Steubenville.

Upon Croxall's arrival at Steubenville he will met with no favor, the authorities there having been notified by Chief Wyman to refuse him a license. It has been learned that Croxall hired a rig from John Rinehart on the pretense of going to Lisbon. Rinehart has issued a warrant, charging Croxall with obtaining the rig under false pretense.

REALM OF SPORTS

JARVIS' RANK PLAYING

By far the fastest and most interesting game played in the West End park this season was cut off suddenly and without warning in the seventh inning yesterday when the locals fell like school boys before Niles, giving them seven hits and as many runs. That inning forgotten and the exhibition was as good as one would wish to see.

Crippled by having two second-raters, George Emmerling in the box and Jarvis at short, in the game the locals could hardly have expected to win the game and the fans are giving the seven regular players the credit due them for their part. In most any company except that in which Niles trots the two amateurs might have made a showing, but to put them on the field when the mill workers are the opponenets is as much folly as it would be to put the Sixth Street Bums against Pittsburg.

That the visitors did not make the same spurt as characterized the seventh inning in each half was the greatest surprise to the fans and they are yet attempting to figure how they escaped it.

Prior to that fatal inning the locals had the game won at least twice. They scored a run in two different innings and in each of those innings had two men on bases. Then hard luck made them a visit and the side died without another run. However, even before the seventh the visitors had one run to the good, and it is doubtful whether or not they would have won.

The first inning was inscribed on the scorer's sheet without a run credited to either side and but one hit, made by Demoos. So far as the locals were concerned another blank was drawn in the second, but it was not so with the visitors. They scored a man, Glassburner, after he had walked. Crowe followed with a two-bagger and scored him with ease.

In the third inning each side had the good fortune to darken the run column. Demoos, for the visitors, went out from pitcher to first; Ortlieb singled and scored on another single by Murphy. Nagel and Krueger flew out in rapid succession to Wallace. The locals started with a single, Emmerling landed a pretty one. George Emmerling flew out to Thomas and the former was advanced a base on Nagel's error of Gibson's grounder. Wallace stepped to the bat and placed a beauty, sending Emmerling home on a jump. Brown knocked one down to Demoos and got first on a fielder's choice, Wallace going out at second. There were two men on bases then and Brown thought he might as well get to second and score a couple if Heckathorn made a single. Ortlieb fooled him when he made the dash by putting the bug on him and retiring the side.

The fourth inning was marked with a goose egg for each team and the fifth resulted likewise for the locals. Niles got one thought. The first two men up singled and after Murphy went out Demoos scored on one more single by Nagel. Things looked a little blue right here with but one man out, one man already over home plate and two on bases, but the next two men up were easy out, and the game to that period was hot enough.

The locals did a little of the run getting in the sixth and gave Niles a whitewash. Gibson started it by reaching first on a foolish play of Murphy. The lanky baseman stood straddle of the bag when he caught the ball and then beefed because the umpire did not call Gibson out. While they were chewing over the decision Wallace got a single and Gibson scored on a nice one made by Brown. As in the third inning the locals had two men on bases and Heckathorn put a damper on all prospects when he hit high into right field. Jarvis gained first at the expense of Brown, who died at second. The inning was ended when Webb chased one down to Demoos.

The long and tiresome seventh was the next period. The ball was started rolling when Jarvis fumbled an easy one. That seemed to get Pitcher Emmerling in the air and the next five men up hit for pretty singles, the most of them being little easy bunts. So confused were the locals that they allowed the same five men to score and two additional ones scored when a like number of singles were added. The locals spruced up a little after the awful drubbing and got a few themselves, but little good it did them. Reark and Emmerling had gone out speedily when George Emmerling walked. Gibson singled and Wallace was allowed first when an attempt was made to get Emmerling, who scored. Brown made his second single and scored two of the runners. It was all off when Heckathorn hit down to Demoos.

The remaining two innings were interesting enough, but the locals could not overcome the terrible lead. The score:

Notes on the Game.

Jarvis must take a back seat now. It might have been just an off day for him, but he looked as though it was due to genuine ignorance and inability.

George Emmerling deserves credit for his game even if he was toyed with in one inning. He will recover some day and will show local pitchers a thing or two.

Ortlieb showed his gameness in the third when Wallace put him out of the business by a terrific grounder. Although he could hardly walk he continued in the game after a short layoff.

Wallace, Brown, Gibson, Webb and all of the rest not mentioned above did work of which they should be proud. Had they been accompanied by seven more real men another victory would have been theirs.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Cy Young, "the old reliable," Boston's crack pitcher, is batting over .300.

The combined salaries of professional ball players in America this year amounts to over $2,000,000, it is said.

George Dixon, the ex-featherweight champion, who has repeatedly stated that he would never fight again, has changed his mind once more and will meet Joe Goodwin.

A. P. McDonald, owner of the fast trotter Major Delmar, does not believe the stallion, mare or gelding lives that can show a pace to his horse, and he has started talk of arranging a race with the champion, Lou Dillon. He says that a mile dash, three in five, or two in three, will suit him, and that he will bet from $5,000 to $20,000 that Delmar will win any sort of a race agreed upon.

A Strong Man

Is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from indigestion or some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man doesn't feel just right, when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous and irritable, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man needs to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, stimulates the liver, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub Station C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 103, writes: "I was taken very sick with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. The more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I had given up to die. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Zicle, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. JEALOUS LOVE LEADS TO CRIME

New York, Sept. 3.—Henry Townsend Edson, son of former Mayor Franklin Edson, in his apartments at 292 West Ninety-second street shot and instantly killed Mrs. Fannie Pullen, of 673 West End avenue, and then shot and killed himself. The murder and suicide appear to have been premeditated and followed a dramatic scene, in which Edson called upon Mrs. Pullen, a close and honored friend of his wife and family, to desert her husband and children and fly with him to another state. Mrs. Pullen, a very handsome woman, is said to have been the daughter of a United States naval officer.

The double tragedy brought to the surface the fact that Edson, who was comptroller of St. Michael's Protestant Episcopal church, had been suspected of misappropriating funds belonging to the parish and that expert accountants were at work on his accounts. It was also declared by those related with the family that Edson was financially distressed because of Wall street speculations.

Man Undoubtedly Insane.

Whatever may have ben the precise cause of the tragedy, members of the Edson family insist that the man was insane. There are many indications that Edson was madly in love with Mrs. Pullen. Dr. Peters, of St. Michael's church, who knew the dead man well, is emphatic in his declarations that none but the most honorable relations existed between Edson and Mrs. Pullen. She was, he said, Edson's "friend advisor."

Mrs. Pullen lived with her husband, John F. Pullen, an auditor at the Grand Central station, and her two children, Trafton, 16 years old, and Mary, 14 years old.

The Edsons were to break up their home as a result of ar agreement to sign articles of separation, reached the night previous. The life of the couple had not been happy. Edson had been acting in a peculiar manner. For that reason furniture movers were in the house packing up furniture and bric-a-brac.

Refused to Elope With Him.

Mrs. Edson spent the night with her friend, Mrs. Pullen. She was about to go out in the morning, when a note came from Edson asking that Mrs. Pullen accompany his wife to where he was. Edson, his wife, Mrs. Pullen and Dr. David O. Edson, a brother of Edson, met in Edson's home. During the conversation in the dining room Edson is said to have turned to Mrs. Pullen and suggested that she leave her home with him and go to some other state where they could be happy. Mrs. Edson was horrified. Mrs. Pullen turned away in disgust. Dr. Edson, after sharply rebuking his brother, left the room with Mrs. Edson, but both returned in a few minutes, when Edson again turned to Mrs. Pullen and began to entreat her to elope with him. Mrs. Pullen, possessed with fear of the man, ran out of the room. Edson, however, seemed to recover his self-possession and all went into the dining room again.

Fleeing Woman Shot Down.

A very few mnutes after Mrs. Edson, who was weak and trembling from the ordeal, was assisted to another room by Dr. Edson. A moment later, according to Woods a furniture man working nearby in the hallway, Edson pulled a revolver from his pocket, and pointing it at Mrs Pullen, shouted: "You must go with me. If you don't elope with me I'll see that you go with me, anyway."

In terror Mrs. Pullen started to run from the room. She had gone but a few steps when four pistol shots rang out in quick succession. The first bullet tore Mrs. Pullen's left cheek and the second entered the right side of her head.

According to Woods, Edson looked at the woman for a moment and then turned the muzzle of the revolver to his own head, firing two shots almost simultaneously. Both entered about the middle of the forehead and he fell, his head striking and resting on the feet of Mrs. Pullen's body.

Troops May Be Ordered Out.

Denver, Sept. 3.—There seems to be a likelihood of the state troops being ordered to Cripple Creek. It is known that large numbers of militiamen have gathered at the armory in this city, and Governor Peabody, Adjutant General Sherman Bell, Attorney General Miller and Judge Maxwell, of the Colorado court of appeals, were in conference several hours.

Deputy Sheriff Assassinated.

Eldorado, Ark., Sept. 3.—Dallas Hunter, a deputy sheriff of this county, was assassinated about four miles west of town while riding from his home to Edorado. Bloodhounds are on the trail of the murderers. It is believed that the killing was the result of an old feud. Hunter having been a close friend of W. P. Lee, who was assassinated in July.

SPEAK FROM SAME PLATFORM

W. J. Bryan and John H. Clarke Make Addresses at Fair Grounds. Clarke's Candidacy Accepted.

Columbus, O., Sept. 3.—W. J. Bryan was the guest of the Ohio state board of agriculture and delivered a non-partisan address at the state fair grounds. John H. Clarke, of Cleveland, endorsed by the Democratic state convention for United States senator, spoke from the same platform. Mr. Bryan left late in the afternoon for Marion, O., where he addressed a Democratic meeting in the evening.

Mr. Bryan isued a statement here accepting John H. Clarke as the Democratic candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Hanna. He says Mr. Clarke differs from the Kansas City platform on one phase of the money question only, viz., metallic money.

Marion, O., Sept. 3.—W. J. Bryan closed his present Ohio tour, addressing an immense audience on the court house grounds in this city. Mr. Bryan was accompanied to Marion by C. C. Fairchild, member of the state committee; former Congressman John J. Lentz, Frank S. Monnett, the Democratic candidate for attorney general, and W. L. Finley, chairman of the Democratic state central committee. Monnett and Lentz followed Bryan in speeches of some length. Immediately after the meeting Bryan left for New York and announced that he would be in Ohio again next month to make a number of speeches in support of the Democratic ticket.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the her stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He tells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry. XXI and XXII.—Lorry prevails upon Quinnox, an emissary of the princess, to conduct him secretly to the castle. He will surrender himself to save the realm. The princess spurns the offer of Gabriel.

CHAPTER XXIV.

OFF TO THE DUNGEON.

THE tableau lasted but a moment. Gabriel advanced a few steps, his eyes gleaming with jealousy and triumph. Before him stood the petrified lovers caught red-handed. Through her dazed brain struggled the conviction that he could never escape. Through his ran the miserable realization that he had ruined her forever. Gabriel of all men!

"I arrive inopportunely," he said harshly, the veins standing out on his neck and temples. "Do I intrude? I was not aware that you expected two, your highness." There was no mistaking his meaning. He viciously sought to convey the impression that he was there by appointment, a clandestine visitor in her apartments at midnight.

"What do you mean by coming to my apartment at this hour?" she stammered, trying to rescue dignity from the chaos of emotions. Lorry was standing slightly to the right and several feet behind her. He understood the prince and quickly sought to interpose with the hope that he might shield her from the sting.

"She did not expect me, sir," he said, and a menacing gleam came to his eyes. His pistol was in his hand. Gabriel saw it, but the staring princess did not. She could not take her eyes from the face of the intruder. "Now, may I ask you why you are here?"

Gabriel's wit saved him from death. He saw that he could not pursue the course he had begun, for there was murder in the American's eye. Like a fox, he swerved and, with a servile promise of submission in his glance, said:

"I thought you were here, my fine fellow, and I came to satisfy myself. Now, sir, may I ask why you are here?" His fingers twitched and his eyes were glassy with the malevolence he was subduing.

"I am here as a prisoner," said Lorry boldly. Gabriel laughed derisively.

"And how often have you come here in this manner as a prisoner? Midnight and alone in the apartments of the princess, the guard dismissed! A prisoner, eh? Ha, what a prison!"

"Stop!" cried Lorry, white to the lips. The princess was beginning to understand. Her eyes grew wide with horror, her figure straightened imperiously and the white in her cheeks gave way to the red of insulted virtue.

"I see it all! You have not been outside this castle since you left the prison. A pretty scheme! You could not marry him, could you, eh? He is not a prince! But you could bring him here and hide him where no one would dare to think of looking for him—in your apartments"—

With a snarl of rage Lorry sprang upon him, cutting short the sentence that would have gone through her like the keenest knife blade.

"Liar! Dog! I'll kill you for that!" he cried, but before he could clutch the prince's throat Yetive had frantically seized his arm.

"Not that!" she shrieked. "Do not kill him! There must be no murder here!"

He reluctantly hurled Gabriel from him, the prince tottering to his knees in the effort to keep from falling. She had saved her maligner's life, but courage deserted her with the act. Helplessly she looked into the blazing eyes of her lover and faltered:

"I—I do not know what to say or do. My brain is bursting!"

"Courage, courage!" he whispered gently.

"You shall pay for this," shrieked Gabriel. "If you are not a prisoner you shall be. There'll be scandal enough in Graustark tomorrow to start a volcano of wrath from the royal tombs where lie her fathers. I'll see that you are a prisoner!" He started for the door, but Lorry's pistol was leveled at his head.

"If you move, I'll kill you!"

"The world will understand how and why I fell by your hand and in this room. Shoot!" he cried triumphantly. Lorry's hand trembled, and his eyes filled with the tears of impotent rage. The prince held the higher card.

A face suddenly appeared at the door, which had been stealthily opened from without. Captain Quinnox glided into the room behind the prince and gently closed the door, unnoticed by the gloater.

"A prisoner?" sneered Gabriel. "Where is your captor, pray?"

"Here!" answered a voice at his back. The prince wheeled and found himself looking at the stalwart form of the captain of the guard. "I am surely privileged to speak now, your highness," he went on, addressing the princess significantly.

"How came you here?" gasped Gabriel.

"I brought my prisoner here. Where should I be if not here to guard him?"

"When—when did you enter this room?"

"An hour ago."

"You were not here when I came!"

"I have been standing on this spot for an hour. You have been very much excited, I'll agree, but it is strange you did not see me," lied Quinnox.

Gabriel looked about helplessly, nonplused.

"You were here when I came in?" he asked wonderingly.

"Ask her royal highness," commanded the captain, smiling.

"Captain Quinnox brought the prisoner to me an hour ago," she said mechanically.

"It is a lie!" cried Gabriel. "He was not here when I entered!"

The captain of the guard laid a heavy hand on the shoulder of the prince and said threateningly:

"I was here, and I am here. Have a care how you speak. Were I to do right I should shoot you like a dog. You came like a thief, you insult the ruler of my land. I have borne it all because you are a prince, but have a care—have a care. I may forget myself and tear out your black heart with these hands. One word from her royal highness will be your death warrant."

He looked inquiringly at the princess as if anxious to put the dangerous witness where he could tell no tales. She shook her head, but did not speak. Lorry realized that the time had come for him to assert himself. Assuming a distressed air, he bowed his head and said dejectedly:

"My pleading has been in vain, then, your highness. I have sworn to you that I am innocent of this murder, and you have said I shall have a fair trial. That is all you can offer?"

"That is all," she said shrilly, her mind gradually grasping his meaning.

"You will not punish the poor people who secreted me in their house for weeks, for they are convinced of my innocence. Your captain here, who found me in their house tonight, can also speak well of them. I have only this request to make in return for what little service I may have given you: Forgive the old people who befriended me. I am ready to go to the tower at once, captain."

Gabriel heard this speech with a skeptical smile on his face.

"I am no fool," he said simply. "Captain," shrewdly turning to Quinnox, "if he is your prisoner, why do you permit him to retain his revolver?"

The conspirators were taken by surprise, but Lorry had found his wits.

"It is folly, your highness, to allow this gentleman and conquering prince to cross examine you. I am a prisoner, and that is the end of it. What odds is it to the Prince of Dawsbergen how and where I was caught or why your officer brought me to you?"

"You were ordered from my house once today, yet you come again like a conqueror. I should not spare you. You deserve to lose your life for the actions of tonight. Captain Quinnox, will you kill him if I ask you to end his wretched life?" Yetive's eyes were blazing with wrath, beneath which gleamed a hope that he could be frightened into silence.

"Willingly—willingly!" cried Quinnox. "Now, your highness? 'Twere better in the hall!"

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

New Car Running—There is a new car on the Calcutta road line. It is like the new cars that run to Wellsville, and is painted red.

Recent Births—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Stewart, Trentvale street, a 12-pound boy. To Mr. and Mrs. Moses Marks, of Rural lane, a daughter.

Struck By a Potato — Dr. W. N. Bailey was struck in the face by a potato last night and sustained several painful cuts. The missile was thrown by a small boy and struck Dr. Bailey's eye glasses, breaking them, several of the pieces inflicting small cuts.

No Suit Brought — Rinehart Bros. state that they have brought no suit against the city of Wellsville for money due them on street contracts. As the city council has twice voted them the amount claimed, they believe the bill will be paid without a suit.

To Organize a Loval—President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., left on an afternoon train for Salineville, where he will organize a local union of the Brotherhood among the operatives of that city. He expects to return tomorrow.

Miss Shaffer Gets the Watch — The case of Miss Minnie Shaffer against Newton Croxall, which was instituted in the office of 'Squire Rose for the purpose of getting the watch that Croxall stole from her several years ago, was set for a hearing this morning. The defendant, however, did not appear and the watch was turned over to Miss Shaffer.

HIS HAND CAUGHT AND BADLY MANGLED

As a result of injuries received yesterday afternoon while adjusting the gearing of a threshing machine, David Jackson, part owner of the machine, may lose his right hand. The threshers were engaged at the farm of James Allison, southeast of Chester, when the accident happened, and though the machinery was not immediately stopped, no one was to blame.

Jackson was attracted by the peculiar sound of the machine to the riddles, which were not working right. He was reaching underneath the machine and had adjusted several parts of the riddles when the fingers of his right hand were caught in the auger shaped arrangement which carries the grain from the machine, and the arm was drawn in. Johnny Lincoln Allison, who acts as engineer, was some distance away at the time, and did not immediately reach the engine to turn off the steam. When he finally did so Jackson's hand had been terribly lacerated, and it was released with some difficulty.

Steps were at once taken to stop the flow of blood, and arrangements made to take the man to a physician. Little time was lost in driving him to the office of Dr. G. E. Lewis, where the injuries were dressed. It could not be told at the time just how badly the hand had been injured, but it is thought with careful nursing the member can be saved. Blood poisoning is feared, however, on account of the peculiar nature of the wounds, and in that event amputation will be absolutely necessary.

An Injunction Case Argued.

Lisbon, September 3.—(Special)—Attorney Charles S. Speaker returned last evening from Ravenna, where the injunction case of Mrs. C. Deemer, of Columbiana, vs. the First National bank, of Columbiana, was argued before Judge Robinson. A decision is expected early next week.

Notice to Coopers.

Evangelistic Services to Begin Sunday and Continue Two Weeks.

Evangelistic meetings begin next Sunday at a tent at the lower end of Fifth street and will continue until September 20 and perhaps longer. The speakers will be Rev. B. S. Taylor, of Moores, N. The tent is being erected today and the evangelists will arrive on Saturday. They come on the invitation of the Broadway Mission. The services will be inter-denominational and everybody will be welcome.

A SALOON ROBBED

Zip Farmer's Arrest Follows And He Will Probably Go to County Jail.

"Zip" Farmer has got his foot in it again. This time he will likely get a trip to the county jail. He was arrested last night by Officers Saulsberry and Dawson on a charge of stealing a box of cigars, five bottles of whisky and a comb from the saloon of Stella Mears.

The mayor has not decided what to do with the incorrigible little fellow, but will probably give him a stiff sentence.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick, of Leetonia, Complete 50 Years of Married Life.

Leetonia, September 3.—(Special)—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick was celebrated Monday at their home just north of here. Relatives and friends from Warren, Columbiana, New Waterford, Warsaw, Ind., Atkins, Iowa, and other places were present to congratulate the old and happy couple who had spent a half century of wedded bliss. One of the features of the day was the re-marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick. This ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by Rev. G. W. Dunlap, of Washingtonville. The latter read from the scripture and spoke of the joys and sorrows of life and congratulated the husband and wife who had lived so long with each other.

George Frederick and Miss Sarah Bates were married in Washingtonville on September 1, 1853. All their life has been spent in this vicinity and they are well and favorably known. Many handsome and appropriate presents were given.

CRAFTON - SHAW

The marriage of Miss Margaret Grafton and Thomas Shaw was solemnized this morning at St. Aloysius' church, Rev. Father T. J. Mahon officiating. The ceremony was simply but beautiful, and was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends. The bride wore a modish gown of gray silk lansdowne with trimmings of silk applique and steel gray velvet ribbons. She wore a large white hat and carrier bride's roses of the same color. Mrs. Walter Milliner, a sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor, and wore a becoming costume of blue satin fouiard, and also carried a bouquet of roses. John Grafton, a brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Snaw have many friends here who will extend to them best wishes for future happiness.

LIEBTAG--NAGLE

Wellsville Young Lady and East Liverpool Business Man Married This Morning.

At the Immaculate Conception church in Wellsville this morning at 8 o'clock occurred the wedding of Miss May Liebtag, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Liebtag, of Wellsville, and Mr. John C. Nagle, a well known plumber of East Liverpool, a partner in the firm of Nagle Bros.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Daniel B. Crotty, rector of the church, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Nagle, a sister of the groom, and Emmet Liebtag, a brother of the bride, acted as best man.

After the ceremony, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Liebtag, on Main street, a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. The house was handsomely decorated. The happy couple left on the noon train for the east. They will first go to New York city, where they hope to arrive in time to view the yacht race. They will visit other cities, including Atlantic City, and return in two weeks. They will reside for the present at the Liebtag home.

Lutheran League Reception.

The members of the Luther League of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church last evening were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Woessner, in the West End. The reception was one of the most enjoyable functions ever tendered the society. There were about 30 present and the evening passed rapidly in entertaining games. The first prize was awarded to Henry Schreiber. Delightful refreshments were served at a late hour by Mrs. Woessner, Mrs. Luther Gilbert and Miss Celia Auberger.

Two Couples Wedded.

Miss Lillian P. Lones, of this city, was married yesterday to John P. Reynolds, of Mt. Washington, Pa. The ceremony was performed by Justice McLane at his office.

David C. Kerr, of Chester, and Miss Pearl Ross, of this city, were married yesterday by Justice McLane at his office in the presence of a few friends. The young couple have many friends who will hasten to extend congratulations. They will live in Chester.

St. Stephen's Choir Outing.

The choir of St. Stephen's church tomorrow will enjoy its annual outing at Neal's Station, a short distance above Smith's Ferry. There are about 20 in the party who will leave in the morning at 10 o'clock and return late in the evening. The trip will be made in hacks, and an enjoyable day's outing is anticipated.

Three Arrests Ordered.

Warrants were issued by Mayor Weavtr this afternoon as follows: Stephen Brothers, charged with assaulting a street employe; Mrs. Knocky Smith, assaulting Mrs. Stodds; John Stoffel, assaulting a small boy. The warrants will be served before night falls.

Now For a Rousing September Business.

September is not the busiest month of the year in the Dry Goods Store, neither is it the dullest business month by any means. Two factors figure in making September a busy month, as well as very interesting and profitable to shoppers, viz: the advance showing of new Autumn Goods in every dept, and a complete clearance of all Summer Goods, at such low prices, rather than carry them over, that it is a big investment to buy now and carry them until next season.

Advance Showing of

New Autumn Dress Goods, New Waistings, Ladies' Tailored Suits, Misses' Tailored Suits, New Silk Waists, Ladies' and Misses' Separate Skirts, Ladies' Wash Waists, New Neckwear, New Veilings, New Vestings, New Table Linens, New Lace Curtains.

Summer Goods—Lawn Waists, Wash Suits, Wash Separate Skirts, Parasols, Wrappers, Sun Bonnets and Wash Goods at half and in many cases much less than half price.
